Re: Testimony on Bill No. 317-38 (COR)

Håfa Adai, Madam Chair and Members of the Committee:

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony on Bill No. 317-38 (COR), relative to repealing and reenacting twenty-two chapters in Title 9 and certain sections in Title 10 as recommended by the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission (CLRC). The CLRC serves as a division of the Supreme Court of Guam and is chaired by Magistrate Jonathan R. Quan and administered by Executive Director, Attorney Serge Quenga. I would like to thank Speaker Frank Blas for his leadership in establishing the CLRC through Public Law 36-119, enacted on November 9, 2022.

Since its creation, the CLRC has undertaken a comprehensive review of Guam's criminal laws, completing an extensive examination of more than half of the chapters in Title 9. As a result of that work, the CLRC now recommends amendments to the Guam Code Annotated. This effort represents a significant undertaking requiring substantial research, legal analysis, and collaboration with each of the subcommissions. I commend Magistrate Quan, Executive Director Quenga, and the members of the Commission for their dedication and commitment to this important work. Their efforts have produced thoughtful recommendations aimed at improving Guam's criminal justice system. The CLRC members meet regularly and continue to provide updates on their work which have been sent to the Legislature and available on our Judiciary website.

The Commission is composed of attorneys from the Guam Bar Association, full-time and retired judicial officers, directors of government criminal justice and public safety agencies, and private individuals from community-based and public interest organizations relating to the criminal justice system. All members, in their respective roles, have contributed to the Commission by drawing on their professional experience and expertise. As a result, the Commission has gathered recommendations representing a broad spectrum of the community, enriched by diverse perspectives and invaluable insights. I extend my immense gratitude to these individuals for their time, diligence, and dedication while leading the development of this effort.

I am confident that the Commission will continue to provide valuable guidance as it completes its review of the remaining provisions of Title 9, the Criminal Procedure Code in Title 8, and the Criminal Jury Instructions to be promulgated by the Supreme Court.

I also extend my appreciation to the Legislature for its continued support and funding of the CLRC's work. The CLRC still has important work ahead, and support from the Legislature and the Judiciary remains essential to ensuring the successful completion of its mission and the continued improvement of our justice system.

While I will not comment on the specific recommendations contained in this measure, the Judiciary supports the work and purpose of the Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission and respectfully asks for your favorable consideration of Bill No. 317-38 (COR).

Thank you, Madam Chair and members of the Committee, for the opportunity to provide testimony and express our support for this important measure.

Subject: Support for the Department of Corrections Modernization Provisions of Bill No. 317-38 (COR) Referred Version
Date: October 12, 2026

Honorable Speaker, Vice Speaker, and Senators:

I respectfully submit this written testimony in strong support of the Department of Corrections provisions contained in Bill No. 317-38 (COR) Referred Version, particularly those provisions that modernize Guam's correctional system, strengthen professional standards, improve rehabilitation programs, expand healthcare services, and provide a pathway toward the development of modern correctional facilities.

After reviewing both the current provisions of Chapter 90 and the proposed revisions in this legislation, I believe this measure represents one of the most significant correctional reform efforts Guam has considered in recent years. The bill goes beyond simple statutory revisions and presents a comprehensive vision for the future of the Department of Corrections

I support this legislation because it recognizes that a modern correctional system must do more than simply confine offenders. It must protect the public, support victims, maintain secure institutions, rehabilitate offenders, and prepare individuals for successful reintegration into society. The proposed mission and structure of the Department reflect these important goals and align Guam with modern correctional best practices.

I am particularly encouraged by the bill's commitment to strengthening the professionalism of Guam's correctional workforce. Correctional officers perform one of the most challenging and demanding public safety functions in our government. They work daily in environments that require sound judgment, integrity, discipline, and specialized training. By requiring compliance with Peace Officer Standards and Training qualifications and establishing recurring recruit training programs, this legislation provides the professional foundation necessary to support both staff and institutional safety.

I also strongly support establishing correctional medical, dental, and behavioral health services within the facility that follow the National Commission on Correctional Health Care (NCHC) standards.

Many individuals entering the correctional system struggle with untreated physical and mental health conditions. Addressing these issues is not only humane treatment but also a matter of public safety. Effective treatment reduces institutional problems, supports rehabilitation efforts, and improves the likelihood of successful reintegration into the community upon release. Including these services reflects a thoughtful and comprehensive approach to corrections policy.

Maintaining National Commission on Correctional Health Care (NCCHC) standards is critical for the Guam Department of Corrections (DOC) because it promotes constitutional compliance, protects inmate health and safety, reduces organizational liability, and strengthens public trust in correctional operations. Correctional facilities have a legal obligation to provide adequate medical, mental health, and dental care to incarcerated individuals. Courts have consistently held that deliberate indifference to serious medical needs violates constitutional protections. Adhering to NCCHC standards helps show that the department meets accepted professional standards of care and reduces the risk of litigation, federal intervention, or civil rights complaints. When correctional health services are delivered according to nationally recognized standards, the agency is better positioned to defend its actions in audits, investigations, and legal proceedings. Documentation, quality assurance programs, and established clinical protocols provide evidence that inmate health care is being administered professionally and consistently.

Additionally, I support continuing and enhancing rehabilitation-focused programs, including prison industries and inmate support services. Meaningful work opportunities, vocational training, and educational experiences help inmates develop responsibility, job skills, and a sense of purpose. These programs provide practical pathways to reduce recidivism and increase the likelihood that former offenders can become productive members of society. The long-term benefits of rehabilitation extend beyond the individual and positively affect families, neighborhoods, and the broader community.

The bill also appropriately balances operational flexibility with accountability through its inmate transfer procedures, legal access protections, and oversight mechanisms. These provisions help ensure that the Department can respond effectively to emergencies, medical needs, and security concerns while maintaining fairness and transparency in decision-making.

Most importantly, I believe the correctional modernization provisions deserve strong support. The legislative findings recognize longstanding concerns related to overcrowding, aging facilities, evolving correctional standards, technological deficiencies, and infrastructure limitations. Guam's correctional system cannot adequately meet future needs without significant investment and modernization. The proposed framework for planning, financing, constructing, maintaining, and operating a modern correctional facility is a responsible step toward addressing those challenges.

As residents of Guam, we all share an interest in promoting public safety, reducing crime, strengthening rehabilitation efforts, and supporting the dedicated professionals who work within our correctional institutions. This legislation advances all of those objectives.

It seeks to create a correctional system that is safer, more professional, more accountable, and better equipped to serve both the people in its custody and the people of Guam.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge the members of the 38th Guam Legislature to support the Department of Corrections modernization provisions contained in Bill No. 317-38 (COR) Referred Version and to favorably consider its passage. The reforms proposed in this legislation represent an important investment in public safety, rehabilitation, professional development, and the future of Guam's justice system.

Thank you for considering this testimony and for your continued service to the people of Guam.

Respectfully submitted,

SUBJ: Testimony in Support of Bill No. 317-38 (COR) — Public Hearing, Tuesday, October 13, 2026, 9:00 a.m.

Håfa adai Chairperson Taitague and Members of the Committee:

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in support of Bill No. 317-38 (COR). I serve as Chair of the Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons of the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission. I submit this testimony in that capacity.

What the Bill Does

Bill No. 317-38 carries out the Commission's first set of final recommendations. In Public Law 36-119, I Liheslatura created the Commission to conduct the first complete review of the Criminal and Correctional Code (Title 9) and the Criminal Procedure Code (Title 8) since the 13th Guam Legislature enacted them in 1976.[1] The Bill repeals and reenacts 22 chapters of Title 9, as revised by the Commission. It also amends three firearms sections of Title 10, Chapter 60.

The Bill is built on two documents the Commission approved under the voting requirements of its enabling law:

- The Interim Report of June 13, 2025. On May 29, 2025, the Commission approved it by a vote of 10–0, with one abstention (Resolution 2025-01). The report covered 24 fully reviewed chapters.[3][4]
- The Notice of Errata and Revisions. On January 29, 2026, the Commission approved it by a vote of 11–0 (Resolution 2026-01). The Notice corrected clerical errors and updated the recommendations to reflect laws enacted after the Interim Report.

The Bill also includes three important safeguards:

- Section 3 states that the Bill does not apply retroactively. Offenses committed before its effective date remain governed by the law in effect when they were committed.
- Section 4 delays the effective date by 90 days so that agencies and practitioners can prepare.
- Sections 25 and 26 authorize the Compiler of Laws to remove Chapters 86 and 87. The Commission found that those chapters had already been moved to Title 8 or repealed.

The Work Behind the Bill

Every recommendation in this Bill went through the same process:

1. A subcommission studied the provision, drawing on Guam case law, the Model Penal Code, the source jurisdictions cited in Guam's statutes, and recently reformed codes such as those of Hawaii and the District of Columbia.
2. The full Commission debated the recommendation in a public plenary session.
3. The recommendation was refined and then approved a second time on final reading.

Under the enabling law, no recommendation could be included without at least eight affirmative votes. The Commission's 15 members are comprised of the Office of the Attorney General, the Public Defender, law enforcement, corrections, criminal practitioners in the Guam Bar, and the community. In the chapters reviewed by my subcommission, the Bill makes focused, practical improvements:

- Criminal homicide (Chapter 16). The Bill adds Schedule II controlled substances, including crystal methamphetamine, to the provisions covering the drug-induced death of a minor. It also closes loopholes involving persons who are exactly 18 years old and involving health-care professionals.
- Assault and related offenses (Chapter 19). The Bill carries forward § 19.82, Interfering with the Reporting of Criminal Sexual Conduct, which P.L. 38-070 added. It also adopts the Commission's grading recommendation for § 19.81.
- Sexual offenses and child exploitation (Chapters 25 and 25A). The Bill adds defined terms that Chapter 25 uses but never defined. It also creates a single new § 25A106, which makes clear that law-enforcement involvement in detecting or investigating electronic enticement of a child is not a defense.
- Offenses against the family (Chapter 31). The Bill clarifies the child-abuse statute and expressly establishes neglect as a form of abuse. It removes sections that were previously repealed, and it adds a "knowingly" mental-state requirement to the offense of leaving children unattended in motor vehicles.
- No change where none was needed. The Commission recommended no change to the Unborn Victims of Violence Act (Chapter 17) or to Kidnapping (Chapter 22). The Bill reenacts both without amendment.

These changes advance the standards I Liheslatura set in 1 GCA § 25.07(b). Those standards call for clear and plain language, consistent definitions, defined mental states, proportionate penalties, and the elimination of archaic provisions.

Conclusion

Guam has amended its criminal code piecemeal for nearly fifty years. Bill No. 317-38 gives prosecutors, defense counsel, law enforcement, the courts, and the public a clearer and more consistent statement of the law in 22 chapters. It also respects due process through its non-retroactivity and delayed-effective-date provisions.

I respectfully urge the Committee to report Bill No. 317-38 (COR) out favorably. I also ask the Committee to support the Commission's continuing work so that the rest of Title 9, the Criminal Procedure Code in Title 8, and Guam's other criminal statutes receive the same careful review.

Si Yu'os ma'åse' for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

Subject: Testimony in Support of Bill 317-38 (COR)

Hafa Adai Chairwoman Taitague and Committee Members,

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on Bill 317-38 (COR). My name is Anita A. Sukola. I am a retired judge of the Superior Court of Guam and a member of the Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission, appointed by Governor Lou Leon Guerrero. I have served since the beginning of the Commission's work in 2023 and chair its Criminal Procedure Subcommission. Bill 317 would implement recommendations developed through the first comprehensive review of Guam's criminal laws in decades. Although I am unable to return to Guam to testify in person, I submit this written testimony in support of this important legislation.

In enacting Public Law 36-119, the Legislature recognized that nearly fifty years had passed since the last comprehensive review of Guam's criminal laws and procedures. During that period, amendments, additions, and repeals occurred on a piecemeal basis. The Legislature found that this could leave provisions unnecessary, unclear, duplicative, overly broad, or otherwise insufficient to serve their intended purposes. During my service as a trial judge, I encountered these concerns in criminal statutes that came before the court.

The Commission was created to address those concerns through a comprehensive and systematic review. The law directs our recommendations toward clear language, consistent definitions, clearly stated offense elements and mental states, and fewer unnecessary overlaps and gaps. It also calls for reviewing archaic and unused offenses, proportionate penalties, and the logical organization of criminal statutes. These objectives guide our examination of individual provisions and the code as a whole.

The Commission's review begins in subcommission working sessions, where members, designees, volunteers, and research attorneys examine statutes, court decisions, and approaches in other jurisdictions. As chairperson of the Criminal Procedure Subcommission, I draw on my judicial experience to consider how proposed changes would operate in practice. Subcommission recommendations then go to the full Commission for discussion, revision, and approval at public plenary meetings. This process combines detailed research with perspectives from prosecution, defense, judicial officers, law enforcement, corrections, and the community to provide a comprehensive review of Guam's criminal laws and procedures..

The need identified in Public Law 36-119 remains the purpose of this work: to update Guam's criminal laws through careful, systematic review and provide the Legislature with considered recommendations for action.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit this written testimony and for your consideration of Bill 317.

Respectfully,
Anita A. Sukola

WRITTEN TESTIMONY

IN STRONG SUPPORT OF BILL NO. 317-38 (COR)

Date: October 10, 2026
Public Hearing: Tuesday, October 13, 2026, at 9:00 a.m.

The Honorable Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson
Committee on Economic Investment, Military Buildup, Regional Relations, Regulatory Affairs, Technology, Justice, Elections, and Retirement
38th Guam Legislature

Håfa Adai Chairperson Taitague and Honorable Senators:

I respectfully submit this testimony in strong support of Bill No. 317-38 (COR). I am Monty A. McDowell, CEO/Principal Broker of Advance Management, Inc., and a Member of the Law Review Committee. Having participated in this work, I urge you to move these recommendations from review to enactment for the benefit of the people of Guam.

A public mandate backed by dedicated service

Public Law 36-119 established the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission to undertake a comprehensive review of criminal and criminal procedure codes adopted in 1976. Bill No. 317-38 provides a vehicle for acting on completed recommendations involving 22 chapters of Title 9 and related provisions of Title 10. The Legislature called for meaningful review; it should now give that work meaningful effect.[1,2]

This was not simply an editing exercise. The review brought together judicial officers, attorneys with prosecution and defense experience, public safety representatives, and community members. Recommendations were developed through subcommission work and presented at public Commission meetings. That combination of legal knowledge, practical experience, and community perspective deserves serious consideration.[3]

I particularly wish to recognize the numerous Guam attorneys who have volunteered their time and expertise while carrying demanding professional responsibilities. They contributed valuable knowledge to a difficult undertaking for the good of our island. Their service reflects a commitment to something larger than any individual practice or personal interest: a better system of justice for Guam.[3]

As a participant, I am proud of this effort and grateful to those who made it possible. The case for passage is not simply that volunteers worked hard; it is that this work offers a substantial opportunity to improve the laws on which our community depends. The most meaningful recognition of that service is to put sound recommendations to work.

Better laws for a safer, fairer Guam

The review has examined outdated language and provisions that may be unclear, unused, or legally problematic.[3]

In my judgment, addressing these weaknesses can help law enforcement identify applicable offenses, help prosecutors and defense attorneys understand the legal requirements of a case, and help courts apply the law consistently. Victims, witnesses, and families deserve a process that is not burdened by avoidable confusion. People accused of crimes are equally entitled to clear legal standards and due process.

Public safety and fairness are not opposing goals; they are obligations of the same justice system. Our laws should protect people from harm, hold offenders appropriately accountable, respect individual rights, and support confidence in the administration of justice. Modernization should advance those goals together.

As a business leader and real estate professional, I also believe that safe neighborhoods and dependable legal institutions are essential to the well-being of our employees, families, property owners, and customers. This is not a matter affecting attorneys alone. It concerns the quality of life in every village.

Turn completed work into meaningful results

A report, however thoughtful, does not change the law. Unless these recommendations are enacted, the community cannot receive the full benefit this review was intended to deliver. The issue is not merely whether our work is acknowledged; it is whether that work produces meaningful improvements for the people we serve.

Bill No. 317-38 represents an important completed stage of a broader review, not the end of all criminal law reform.[1]

Further work should build upon this progress. Any concerns about particular provisions should be identified specifically and addressed promptly with the Commission. Careful scrutiny and decisive action are not mutually exclusive. Please resolve necessary corrections without allowing worthwhile reform to stall indefinitely.

I respectfully urge this Committee to report Bill No. 317-38 (COR) favorably, the Legislature to pass it, and the Governor to sign it into law. Guam asked for this review. Dedicated professionals and community members answered that call. Now is the time to translate their service into lasting public benefit.

Si Yu'os Ma'åse' for your consideration and service to our island.

Very Respectfully submitted,

Monty A. McDowell

Re: Testimony in support of Bill No. 317-38 (COR)

Håfa Adai, Madam Chairperson and Members of I Mina'trentai Ocho na Liheslaturan Guåhan,

My name is William B. Brennan, and I submit this testimony in strong support of Bill No. 317-38 (COR). I also respectfully urge this Body to establish the Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission as a permanent agency within the Territory of Guam.

Bill No. 317-38 (COR) marks a major stride forward for Guam's criminal justice system. This thoughtful, comprehensive proposal reflects years of dedicated work by the Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission. It delivers technical amendments directly informed by the prosecutors, defense counsel, judges, and public safety stakeholders who apply our criminal statutes daily. By grounding its work in real-world experience, the Commission proposes changes that address concrete problems, but does so in a comprehensive package that considers the impact of any proposed change holistically rather than in isolation. It eliminates statutory ambiguities and historical gaps that routinely derail actual cases, updates outdated language across our code, and closes technical loopholes that obstruct court administration. This bill addresses decades of constitutional developments and evolving trends in Guam and U.S. jurisprudence. Crucially, it tailors these modern legal standards to fit Guam's unique practical, cultural, and institutional realities.

Beyond the immediate merits of this bill, the Commission's progress reveals a crucial truth: Guam possesses a skilled, dedicated pool of local professionals who are ready and eager to sustain this work permanently. Throughout this review process, local judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and practitioners stepped up. They balanced heavy caseloads and personal demands to conduct rigorous legal research, analyze practical applications, and draft sound statutory language. Their unpaid commitment proves that a permanent commission will not stall; it will thrive as an active, effective institution serving our island.

States like New York, California, New Jersey, Michigan, Connecticut, and Oregon maintain permanent law revision bodies instead of relying on temporary, ad-hoc committees. These permanent agencies ensure state criminal codes continually adapt to emerging case law, technological shifts, and societal needs.

A temporary commission can only clear historical backlogs. A permanent Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission will guarantee continuous modernization, keeping Guam's penal code from falling decades behind. A permanent body will also give I Liheslaturan Guåhan a trusted, non-partisan legal resource to consult whenever complex legal revisions to our criminal law and procedures arise.

The Commission's work on Bill No. 317-38 speaks for itself. It proves both the need for meaningful and comprehensive updates to our law and our community's capacity to complete this type of work. I respectfully urge I Mina'trentai Ocho na Liheslaturan Guåhan to pass Bill No. 317-38 (COR) and to establish the Commission as a permanent government body charged with the ongoing duty to review and propose revisions to Guam's criminal law and procedure.

Si Yu'os Ma'åse',

Subject: Intervening Legislative Enactments Affecting Bill 317

Hafa Adai, Senator Taitague:

Thank you for scheduling the October 13, 2026 public hearing on Bill 317-38 (COR). We are preparing testimony and a PowerPoint presentation explaining the CLRC's review process and highlighting recommendations reflected in the bill and the accompanying Interim Report. We will send the PowerPoint presenation no later than Thursday, October 8.

As part of our review process, we monitor legislation affecting the statutes covered in Bill 317. Several bills became law after the CLRC submitted its Interim Report. With assistance from the Committee on Rules, Bill 317 has been updated to incorporate nearly all of these enactments. Two additional amendments are needed to reflect recent changes in the law. We respectfully request your assistance in incorporating the following amendments into Bill 317:

1. Update 9 GCA § 25.25. Replace § 25.25 in Section 11 of Bill 317, pages 41–42, with the language enacted by P.L. 38-083 (December 20, 2025), as follows:

   § 25.25. Third Degree Criminal Sexual Conduct.

   (a) A person is guilty of criminal sexual conduct in the third degree if the person engages in sexual penetration with another person and if any of the following circumstances exists:

The Judiciary of Guam is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

(1) that other person is at least fourteen (14) years of age and under sixteen (16) years of age;

(2) force or coercion is used to accomplish the sexual penetration; and

(3) the actor knows or has reason to know that the victim is mentally impaired, mentally incapacitated, or physically helpless.

(b) Criminal sexual conduct in the third degree is a felony of the second degree except as provided in (c).

(c) Aggravated Third Degree Criminal Sexual Conduct. A person who is eighteen (18) years of age or older, who commits criminal sexual conduct in the third degree pursuant to § 25.25(a)(1) of this Chapter against a victim who is at least (14) years of age and under sixteen (16) years of age, and where the act involved any of the following circumstances:

(1) the use of force or coercion;

(2) the actor is more than five (5) years older than the victim;

(3) the actor occupies a position of authority or supervision over the victim; or

(4) the actor has a prior conviction for criminal sexual conduct, shall be guilty of a felony of the first degree and shall be sentenced to a term of confinement of not less than Twelve (12) years and no more than twenty-five (25) years.

The term imposed shall not be suspended; nor shall probation be imposed in lieu of said term, as indicated in § 80.60 of Article 4, Chapter 80, Title 9 GCA; nor shall parole, work release, or educational programs outside the confines of prison be granted. The provisions of § 80.39.1, the Justice Safety Valve, shall not apply.

(d) Close-in-Age Mitigation. Notwithstanding subsection (c), if the victim is fourteen (14) or fifteen (15) and the offender was not more than (4) years older than the victim, and the act was consensual as defined in § 25.10(a)(2), the offense shall remain a felony of the second degree, and the offender shall not be required to register under the Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act pursuant to § 89.01(d)(8).

(e) Any person previously convicted of criminal sexual conduct under § 25.25(a) subsequent to a first conviction of criminal sexual conduct under Guam law or a conviction of a sex offense from another jurisdiction that has an element that would constitute sexual contact or sexual penetration as defined in § 25.10 of this Chapter shall be sentenced to ten (10) years imprisonment without the possibility of parole. Said term shall not be suspended; nor probation be imposed in lieu of said term, as indicated in § 80.60 of Article 4, Chapter 80, Title 9 GCA; nor shall parole, work release or educational programs outside the confines of prison be granted.

2. Add 9 GCA § 55.75. Insert § 55.75, enacted by P.L. 38-136:XII:67 (August 4, 2026), after § 55.65 in Section 22 of Bill 317, page 151, as follows:

§ 55.75. Tampering with Customs and Quarantine Agency Seals.

(a) A person is guilty of tampering with Customs and Quarantine Agency seals if he or she intentionally breaks, removes, or alters any seal placed by the Customs and Quarantine Agency upon any container or cargo prior to its official release from Customs' custody.

(b) Tampering with a Customs and Quarantine Agency seal is a felony of the third degree.

Please let us know if you have any questions about these changes. We would be happy to meet before the hearing to discuss these changes and coordinate our presentation. Thank you for your continued support of the CLRC's work.

Respectfully,

Andrew S. Quenga

~~(1) GMHA and GBHWC shall provide written reports to DOC one month after each fiscal quarter detailing services rendered and supplies used during the previous quarter, including applicable costs and administrative fees. The system for payment by DOC to GMHA and GBHWC shall be established with the Governor's Office, the Bureau of Budget Management & Research (BBMR), and the Department of Administration (DOA) to ensure GMHA and GBHWC has a regular commitment of funding secured solely and exclusively for paying GMHA and GBHWC on time for health care services, medical supplies, and for the timely payment to pharmaceutical vendors to prevent any future risks of credit hold.~~

~~(2) Allotments shall be made to GMHA and GBHWC in advance of services rendered and medical and pharmaceutical supplies, based on the previous fiscal year budget, and adjusted for any under-utilization or over-utilization from the previous fiscal year. Quarterly allotments shall be released on October 1, January 1, April 1, and July 1, of each fiscal year.~~

~~(3) GMHA and GBHWC shall submit to DOC expenditures statements post fiscal year that certify funds were spent in accordance with actual allocations.~~

STAYS

- Permanently codify both clinics in statute
- Identify GMH and GBHWC as providers in the statute (to submit annual budget requests)
- Compliance with national correctional standards

GOES

- NO NEED for (d)(1)-(3)
- Funding directly to GMH
- Consolidated Cooperative Agreement now in place

Why: Permanently codifying the clinics will help prevent a future civil rights receivership

CRIMINAL LAW AND PROCEDURE REVIEW COMMISSION NOTICE OF ERRATA AND REVISIONS TO THE CLRC INTERIM REPORT OF JUNE 13, 2025:

INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to Public Law 36-119[1], the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission ("CLRC") submitted to I Liheslaturan Guåhan, on June 13, 2025, an Interim Report setting forth its findings and recommendations for amendments to selected chapters of Title 9 of the Guam Code Annotated. The Interim Report identified recommended statutory changes in blackline (markup) format and included CLRC commentary explaining the proposed amendments or noting where no changes were recommended.

Following submission of the Interim Report, I Liheslaturan Guåhan enacted legislation amending certain Title 9 sections addressed in the Interim Report. In addition, the CLRC identified clerical, typographical, and formatting errors within the Interim Report that require correction. This Notice of Errata and Revisions is submitted to correct those errors and to revise the Interim Report recommendations as necessary to account for intervening legislative amendments enacted after June 13, 2025.

[1] Establishing the CLRC and directing it to conduct a comprehensive and systematic review of Guam's criminal laws.

The Judiciary of Guam is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

(c) A crime is a misdemeanor if it is so designated in this Code or in a statute other than this Code enacted subsequent thereto.

(d) Any offense declared by law to constitute a crime, without specification of the grade thereof or of the sentence authorized upon conviction, is a misdemeanor.

Subject: Recommendation on Placement of Chapter 90 Outside of Title 9

Hafa Adai, Senator Taitague:

At the continued public hearing on Bill 317-38 (COR), held on Thursday, October 22, 2026, the Committee on Economic Investment, Military Buildup, Regional Relations, Regulatory Affairs, Technology, Justice, Elections, and Retirement (the "Committee") acknowledged that the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission (the "CLRC") appropriately reviewed Chapter 90 of Title 9 under its specific mandate to review every part of Title 9.

The Committee advised the CLRC representatives present—Chairman Magistrate Judge Jonathan R. Quan; Ex Officio members Andrew S. Quenga, Executive Director, and Geraldine Cepeda, Compiler of Laws; and Yusuke Haffeman-Udagawa, Commission Research Attorney—that it is considering removing the Chapter 90 recommendations from Bill 317-38 (COR) and addressing them in a stand-alone bill. The Committee offered two primary reasons for separate legislative review: (1) the recommendation to permanently establish the Department of Corrections' existing medical, dental, and mental health clinics in Guam law requires financial vetting; and (2) Chapter 90 does not define criminal offenses.

The Committee asked CLRC representatives to recommend an appropriate placement for Chapter 90 outside Title 9.

Geraldine Cepeda, in her capacity as the Guam Compiler of Laws, recommends placing these provisions in the vacant Chapter 59 within Division 3 (Public Safety) of Title 10 (Health and Safety). The reasons for this placement are as follows:

- Division 3 includes Chapter 77 (Guam Police Department) and Chapter 72 (Guam Fire Department), which primarily address the administrative and operational responsibilities of those departments.
- Chapter 90 of Title 9 likewise addresses the Department of Corrections' administrative and operational responsibilities.

- Placing the Department of Corrections provisions in the same division as those governing the Guam Police Department and Guam Fire Department would logically group statutes addressing the administration and operation of these major public safety agencies.

If more information is necessary, or if you would like to discuss this further, please let us know.

Respectfully,

Compiler of Laws Geraldine Cepeda, CLRC Ex-Officio Member

Concurred:

Magistrate Judge Jonathan R. Quan, CLRC Chairman

CLRC Executive Director Andrew S. Quenga, Ex-Officio Member

Section	(1) Change, effect and reason	(2) Repeals: why; effect	(3) Subcommission · plenary	(4) Other agencies
§ 19.81 Interfering with the Reporting of Family Violence; Defined & Punished Bill p. 31, l. 9 · entry p. 14	▼ 3DF → M Reduces grade of offense: preventing a family-violence victim or witness from reporting becomes a misdemeanor. The identical offense in § 30.300 (not in this bill) stays a 3DF. Why: Proportionality with the underlying act; keeps cases eligible for the family-violence deferred plea. CLRC recommends the same change to § 30.300. [6, 4]	N/A	Persons 9/12/24; 12/3/24	Judiciary

§§ 25A103–25A105 Electronic Enticement Bill p. 45, l. 1 · entry p. 17	Mental-state alternative removed Deletes alternative element of "reckless disregard" of age. The actor must know the person is a minor, or the person must have represented being a minor (sting cases remain covered). Why: CLRC considered "reckless disregard" to be vague and hard-to-enforce; favored a more straightforward evidentiary question: whether the actor actually knew person's age. [3, 1]	N/A	Persons 9/12/24 (tabled); 12/3/24	—
§ 25A106 Electronic Enticement; No Defense (new) Bill p. 47, l. 15 · entry p. 18	No-defense rule extended Expands application of rule that law-enforcement involvement in detection or investigation is not a defense; now covers all offenses in Ch. 25A (was §§ 25A102–25A103 only). Why: Extend the non-defense rule to similar offenses; consolidate rule into one section. [4, 7]	N/A	Persons 9/12/24 (tabled); 12/3/24	—

§ 31.65 Curfew Hours for Minors Bill p. 59, l. 6 · entry p. 21	✕ Repeal (curfew) Repeals the juvenile curfew law in entirety. Why: Constitutionality of curfew laws doubtful; similar curfew laws were struck down in other jurisdictions. CLRC members believed this law would also be struck down if challenged. Two CLRC members voted against this change on policy grounds. [9, 5]	Eliminated (constitutional concern). § 34.50 Criminal Mischief; Defined Bill p. 65, l. 13 · entry p. 25	▼ Definition narrowed Consolidates criminal mischief offenses into one form: intentionally damaging another's property. Removes separate provisions specific scenarios. Pairs with § 34.60. Why: Grade solely by the loss caused (pairs with § 34.60). [6, 4]	Partial. Some removed conduct is covered elsewhere (§ 55.50; reckless endangerment);	Property 8/31/23 (no change); 6/13/24; Errata 1/29/26	GPA; GWA; Dept. of Agriculture
§ 34.60 Criminal Mischief; Punished Bill p. 65, l. 24 · entry p. 25	▼ ▲ Re-graded by loss Defines new grading scheme: 2DF $5,000+ (new); 3DF $2,500–4,999 (was over $500); M $500–2,499 (was over $50); PM under $500 (violation category removed). Grade set by actual, not intended, loss. Why: Thresholds compared with N.J., Cal., Haw.; mandatory minimums removed for uniformity with Ch. 80. [6]	N/A	Property 8/31/23 (tabled); 2/29/24 (2 opposed on lowest grade); 6/13/24; Errata 1/29/26	—

§ 37.20 Burglary: Defined, Punishment Classified Bill p. 74, l. 11 · entry p. 28	Affirmative defense added Burglary: new affirmative defense of reasonable belief of ownership, lease or license to enter. Adds a cross-reference to restorative justice (19 GCA § 5134). Why: Explicitly authorize a jury instruction where defendant reasonably believed he or she had a right to enter (ownership, lease, or license); supply missing 19 GCA § 5134 citation in (c). [3, 10]	N/A	Property 8/31/23	—
§ 37.40 The Breaking of Window Glass to Gain Access to Vehicles Bill p. 76, l. 21 · entry p. 29	✕ Repeal (add-on felony) Repeals the add-on felony for breaking a vehicle window during burglary or trespass (3DF; 2DF if glass injures someone). Why: Duplicates vehicle burglary (§ 37.20), criminal mischief (§§ 34.50–34.60), and assault (Ch. 19); removes anomaly where breaking a car window was a standalone felony while breaking a house window was not. [4, 6]	Duplicative. Burglary, criminal mischief, theft and assault remain. Removes a stacked charge.	Property 8/31/23	—
Bill § 17 · 9 GCA Chapter 43: Theft and Related Offenses
§ 43.20 Theft; Defined & Punishment Classified Bill p. 81, l. 24 · entry p. 30	▼ Thresholds raised 2DF $5,000+ (was over $1,500); 3DF $2,500–4,999 (was $500–1,500); M $500–2,499 (was over $50); PM under $500. Property-type rules and the 2DF mandatory minimum unchanged. Example: a $2,000 theft goes from 2DF to M. Why: Adjust 1970s thresholds for inflation (e.g., so stealing a cell phone is not a felony and $1,501 does not trigger a 5-year repeat-offender mandatory minimum); thresholds compared with N.J., Cal., and Haw. [6]	N/A	Property 8/31/23 (tabled); 2/29/24	—
§ 43.31 Crime Against the Community; Defined and Punishment Bill p. 84, l. 22 · entry p. 31	▼ Enhancement ground removed Misuse of government property or services "for a purpose other than the original purpose" no longer supports the Crime Against the Community allegation. Safety-threat and deprivation grounds remain. Why: Overbroad and unconstitutionally vague catch-all: punished any unintended use of government property with a 1-year prison enhancement even without a safety threat, service disruption, or property damage. [1, 9]	Partial (a)(3) repeal; other grounds remain.	Property 8/31/23 (tabled); Interim Report	—

Bill § 7 · 9 GCA Chapter 16: Criminal Homicide

§ 16.30 Aggravated Murder Defined

Bill § 7, p. 22, l. 1 · Amend · Crimes Against Persons

▲ Sch. II drug deaths of minors → aggravated murder. Expands aggravated murder to encompass distribution-caused deaths of minors involving Schedule II drugs, not just Schedule I drugs. The former health-care exemption ("legitimate practice of the healing arts") is replaced by an exclusion of anyone licensed to prescribe or dispense.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a)(3) (death of a minor directly caused by illegal use of a controlled substance) extended from Schedule I to Schedule I or II. The parenthetical describing transfer or sale to a minor is replaced by new (a)(4): death of a minor directly caused by a knowing or willing transfer or sale of a Schedule I or II substance, in violation of Chapter 67, by a person not licensed to prescribe or dispense it. Former (a)(4) renumbered (a)(5). Why: Add Sched. II substances (e.g., crystal methamphetamine) for consistency with original intent of P.L. 24-282; close gaps for persons exactly 18; clarify health-care provider exemption applies only if the provider was licensed to transfer substance (forecloses argument in context of Sch. I substances, which cannot legally be transferred). Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (3) describe all elements, including mental states; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons Plenary: Presented Oct. 5, 2023 and approved (2023 Third Quarter Report). Clerical corrections to § 16.50 by Notice of Errata, Jan. 29, 2026. Final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	Health care professionals and pharmacists (licensing boards under DPHSS) are affected stakeholders. Not consulted. DPHSS is not a CLRC member.
Hearing questions	Changes elements of an offense or an available defense. Expands criminal liability. Increases a penalty or grade.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

Schedule II controlled substances added in (a)(3) to include crystal methamphetamine. Other recommended amendments are intended to correct loopholes for persons exactly 18 years old and for healthcare professionals.

TEXT Bill No. 317-38 (COR) § 7, p. 22, l. 1 · deleted text struck through; new text underlined

§ 16.30. Aggravated Murder Defined.

(a) Criminal homicide constitutes aggravated murder when:

(1) it is committed intentionally with premeditation; or

(2) it is committed during the commission or attempt to commit any felony defined in Chapters 22, 25, 31, 34, 37, 40 or 58 of this Title; or

(3) death is directly caused by the illegal use of a Schedule I or Schedule II Controlled Substance, as defined by Chapter 67 of this Title, to a minor child under the age of eighteen (18) years old ~~(Any person who knowingly or willingly transfers or sells any Schedule I Controlled Substance, as defined by Chapter 67 of this Title, to a minor child under the age of eighteen (18) years old in violation of the provisions of Chapter 67 of this Title, and such controlled substances directly causes the death of such minor child, is guilty of aggravated murder. This Section shall not apply to health care professionals and pharmacists in the legitimate practice of the healing arts.)~~; or

(4) death of a minor child under the age of eighteen (18) is directly caused by a knowing or willing transfer or sale of any Schedule I or Schedule II Controlled Substance as defined by, and in violation of, Chapter 67 of this Title by a person who is not licensed to prescribe or dispense the substance; or

~~(4)~~ (5) it is committed upon the orders of another person. Such person giving the order is also guilty of aggravated murder.

(b) Aggravated murder is a felony of the first degree, but a person convicted of aggravated murder shall be sentenced to life imprisonment notwithstanding any other provision of law; provided, further, that any person convicted of aggravated murder shall not be eligible for parole, work release, educational programs outside the confines of prison nor shall his sentence be suspended.

§ 16.40 Murder Defined

Bill § 7, p. 22, l. 26 · Amend · Crimes Against Persons

▲ Sch. II distribution deaths → murder. Expands murder to encompass distribution deaths caused by Schedule II drugs and closes the gap for victims exactly 18 years old (old text covered minors in § 16.30 and persons "over" 18 here). Lawful prescribing is outside (a)(4) because it is not "in violation of Chapter 67."

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a)(3) extended to Schedule I or II. The trailing sentence (transfer or sale of Schedule I to a person "over the age of eighteen"; health-care exemption) is replaced by new (a)(4): death of a person eighteen or older resulting from a knowing or willing transfer or sale of a Schedule I or II substance in violation of Chapter 67. Why: Same as § 16.30. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (3) describe all elements, including mental states; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons Plenary: Presented Oct. 5, 2023 and approved (2023 Fourth Quarter Report). Clerical corrections to § 16.50 by Notice of Errata, Jan. 29, 2026. Final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	Health care professionals and pharmacists (licensing boards under DPHSS) are affected stakeholders. Not consulted. DPHSS is not a CLRC member.
Hearing questions	Changes elements of an offense or an available defense. Expands criminal liability. Increases a penalty or grade. Overlaps another offense. Overlap: Overlaps new § 16.50(a)(4) (manslaughter): both reach a knowing transfer or sale of a Schedule I or II substance that causes an adult's death. Only § 16.40(a)(4) requires the transfer to be in violation of Chapter 67.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

Schedule II controlled substances added in (a)(3) to include crystal methamphetamine. Other recommended amendments are intended to correct loopholes for persons exactly 18 years old and for healthcare professionals.

§ 16.50 Manslaughter Defined and Classified

Bill § 7, p. 23, l. 22 · Amend · Crimes Against Persons

▲ Sch. II drug deaths → manslaughter. Expands manslaughter to Schedule II drug deaths. As drafted, (a)(4) contains neither the "in violation of Chapter 67" element nor any health-care exemption.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a)(2): parentheses removed from the extreme-emotional-disturbance explanation (no text change). (a)(3): extended to Schedule I or II. The trailing sentence of former (a)(3) (transfer or sale of Schedule I to a person over 18; health-care exemption) is replaced by new (a)(4) intended to convey same meaning. Why: Same as § 16.30. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (3) describe all elements, including mental states; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons Plenary: Presented Oct. 5, 2023 and approved (2023 Fourth Quarter Report). Clerical corrections to § 16.50 by Notice of Errata, Jan. 29, 2026. Final approval May 29, 2025. Objections or concerns on the record: At the October 5, 2023 plenary a member objected to moving the (a)(2) parenthetical into a new subsection; resolved on the floor by keeping the language in (a)(2) without parentheses.
(4) Agencies	Health care professionals and pharmacists (licensing boards under DPHSS) are affected stakeholders. Not consulted. DPHSS is not a CLRC member.
Hearing questions	Changes elements of an offense or an available defense. Expands criminal liability. Increases a penalty or grade. Overlaps another offense. Overlap: Overlaps new § 16.40(a)(4) (murder); see that entry.

CLRC COMMENT Notice of Errata and Revisions (approved January 29, 2026)

Parentheses in (a)(2) removed for clarity. Schedule II controlled substances added in (a)(3) to include crystal methamphetamine. Other recommended amendments are intended to correct loopholes for persons exactly 18 years old and for healthcare professionals. Section revised in Notice of Errata and Revisions approved by the CLRC on January 29, 2026 to correct clerical errors.

The defendant must prove the reasonableness of such explanation or excuse by a preponderance of the evidence.~~)~~; or

(3) death is indirectly or proximately caused, such as an accident, by the illegal use of a Schedule I or Schedule II Controlled Substance, as defined by Chapter 67 of this Title, to a person under the influence of such controlled substance; or ~~. Any person who knowingly or willingly transfers or sells any Schedule I Controlled Substance to a person over the age of eighteen (18) years old in violation of the provisions of Chapter 67 of this Title, and such controlled substance indirectly or proximately causes the death of such person, is guilty of manslaughter. Bill § 9 · 9 GCA Chapter 19: Assault, Reckless Endangering, Terrorizing

§ 19.81 Interfering with the Reporting of Family Violence; Defined & Punished

Bill § 9, p. 31, l. 9 · Amend · Crimes Against Persons

▼ 3DF → M. A person who commits family violence and also prevents the victim or a witness from calling 911, obtaining medical help, or reporting faces a misdemeanor rather than a felony for the interference. This change does not affect the grade of the underlying family-violence offense.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (c): "Interference with the reporting of family violence is a felony of the third degree" becomes "…is a misdemeanor." Why: Intended to keep family-violence cases eligible for the family-violence deferred plea rather than adding a more serious felony for conduct such as taking the victim's phone. The Commission Chair noted that § 30.300 contains an identical offense and asked that the two be kept consistent; on Dec. 3, 2024 the Commission approved the parallel § 30.300 amendment. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons Plenary: Presented Sept. 12, 2024 (no action); approved without objection Dec. 3, 2024; final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	Judiciary (family-violence court and deferred-plea program) and victim-services organizations are affected. Not consulted. The Judiciary hosts the CLRC but is not a listed member agency.
Hearing questions	Reduces a penalty or grade. Overlaps another offense. Overlap: Duplicative offense: § 30.300(c) (Chapter 30, not in this bill) defines the same offense and remains a third-degree felony. After enactment the identical conduct would be a misdemeanor under § 19.81 and a third-degree felony under § 30.300. Separately, the parallel offense for criminal sexual conduct (§§ 19.82 and 25.50, enacted by P.L. 38-070) is a third-degree felony.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

Amend to reduce offense level from a felony to a misdemeanor. Recommend similar amendment to 9 GCA § 30.300 (Interfering with the Reporting of Family Violence) for consistency.

§ 25.10 Definitions

Bill § 11, p. 32, l. 20 · Amend · Crimes Against Persons

Element defined. Settles that cunnilingus requires touching, not intrusion, for purposes of "sexual penetration."

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Adds (a)(16): Defines "cunnilingus" as the touching of the urethral opening, vaginal opening, or labia with the actor's mouth. Why: Feb. 6, 2025: the Subcommission reported a missing definition and relied on People v. § 25.10. Definitions.

(a) As used in this Chapter:

(1) "Actor" means a person accused of criminal sexual conduct~~;~~.

(2) "Consent" means words or overt actions by a person indicating a freely given present agreement to perform a particular sexual act with the actor. Consent does not mean the existence of a prior or current social relationship between the actor and the victim or that the victim failed to resist a particular sexual act.

(A) A person who is mentally incapacitated or physically helpless as defined by this Chapter cannot consent to a sexual act.

(B) Corroboration of the victim's testimony is not required to show lack of consent.

(3) "Force" or "Coercion" includes, but is not limited to, any of the following circumstances:

(A) when the actor overcomes the victim through the actual application of physical force or physical violence;

(B) when the actor coerces the victim to submit by threatening to use force or violence on the victim and the victim believes that the actor has the present ability to execute these threats;

(C) when the actor coerces the victim to submit by threatening to retaliate in the future against the victim or any other person and the victim believes that the actor has the ability to execute this threat. As used in this Subsection, to retaliate includes threats of physical punishment, kidnapping, or extortion;

(D) when the actor engages in the medical treatment or examination of the victim in a manner or for purposes which are medically recognized as unethical or unacceptable; or

(E) when the actor, through concealment or by the element of surprise, is able to overcome the victim.

(4) "Intimate Parts" includes the primary genital area, groin, inner thigh, buttock, or breast of a human being~~;~~.

(5) "Mentally Impaired" means that a person suffers from a mental disease or defect which renders that person temporarily or permanently incapable of appraising the nature of his or her conduct~~;~~.

(6) "Mentally Incapacitated" means

(A) that a person is rendered temporarily incapable of appraising or controlling his or her conduct due to the influence of a narcotic, anesthetic, or other substance administered to that person without his or her consent, or due to any other act committed upon that person without his or her consent; or

(B) that a person is voluntarily under the influence of any substance or substances to a degree that renders them incapable of consenting or incapable of appreciating, understanding, or controlling the person's conduct.

(7) "Physically Helpless" means that a person is

(A) unconscious~~,~~;

(B) asleep~~,~~;

(C) unable to withhold consent or to withdraw consent because of a physical condition~~,~~; or

(D) for any other reason, is physically unable to communicate unwillingness to an act~~;~~.

(8) "Personal Injury" means bodily injury, disfigurement, mental anguish, chronic pain, pregnancy, disease, or loss or impairment of a sexual or reproductive organ~~;~~.

(9) "Sexual Contact" includes the intentional touching of the victim's or actor's intimate parts or the intentional touching of the clothing covering the immediate area of the victim's or actor's intimate parts, if that intentional touching can reasonably be construed as being for the purpose of sexual arousal or gratification~~;~~.

(10) "Sexual Penetration" means sexual intercourse, cunnilingus, fellatio, anal intercourse, or any other intrusion, however slight, of any part of a person's body or of any object into the genital or anal openings of another person's body, but emission of semen is not required~~; and ;~~.

(11) "Victim" means the person alleging to have been subjected to criminal sexual conduct.

(12) "Consanguinity or Relationship by blood" means a relationship between persons arising by descent from a common ancestor or a relationship by birth rather than by marriage. The degree of consanguinity is determined by counting upward from one of the persons in question to the nearest common ancestor, and then down to the other person, calling it one degree for each generation in the ascending as well as the descending line.

(13) "Affinity" is the relation existing in consequence of marriage between each of the married persons and the blood relatives of the other. The method of computing degrees of affinity is the same method as computing degrees of consanguinity.

(14) "Dating relationship" means a relationship between individuals who have or have had a continuing relationship of a romantic or intimate nature. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on consideration of:

(A) the length of the relationship;

(B) the nature of the relationship; and

(C) the frequency and type of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. A casual acquaintanceship or ordinary fraternization in a business or social context does not constitute a "dating relationship."

(15) Adoption refers to the act where an adult formally becomes the guardian of a child and incurs the rights and obligations of a parent.

(16) "Cunnilingus" is the touching of the urethral opening, vaginal opening, or labia with the actor's mouth.

§§ 25A103–25A105 Electronic Enticement

Bill § 12, p. 45, l. 1 · Amend · Crimes Against Persons

Mental-state alternative removed. The offense now requires that the actor know the person is a minor, or that the person represented being a minor. An actor who was only reckless about a real minor's age is no longer covered by this section, although most sting and self-identified-minor cases remain covered by new (a)(1)(B) (formerly (C)).

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Deletes (a)(1)(B): communicating "with another person, in reckless disregard of the risk that the other person is under the age of eighteen (18) years, and the other person is under the age of eighteen (18) years." Former (C) re-lettered to (B). Deletes (d) (law-enforcement no-defense rule), moved to new § 25A106. Why: CLRC believes "reckless disregard" standard is vague and that the targeted conduct is sufficiently covered by the other alternatives. Review standards: (3) describe all elements, including mental states; (1) clear and plain language.

Bill § 13 · 9 GCA Chapter 31: Offenses Against the Family

§ 31.30 Child Abuse; Defined & Punished

Bill § 13, p. 55, l. 26 · Amend · Crimes Against Persons

▲ Adds neglect and mental suffering. Expands child-abuse liability to explicitly address neglect and infliction of unjustifiable pain or mental suffering.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: New (a)(2): inflicting on a child unjustifiable physical pain or mental suffering. In (a)(3) (formerly (a)(2)) deletes the duplicative "subjects that child to cruel mistreatment" (already in (a)(1)); expands endangerment to include unreasonably causing or permitting the child to be placed where the child's person or health may be endangered; adds "neglects that child." New (d) defines neglect: (1) intentionally failing to provide proper and sufficient food, clothing, maintenance, legally required schooling, medical or surgical treatment, and a clean and proper home; or (2) failure to do or permit to be done any act necessary for the child's physical or moral well-being. Why: Definition of neglect added to correct charging and proof problems; new language drawn from California (Penal Code § 273a, the source of the original statute) and New Jersey. "Unjustifiable" physical pain or mental suffering standard to avoid conflict with § 7.94(a) (reasonable child discipline). Review standards: (3) describe all elements, including mental states; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses; (1) clear and plain language.

~~(2)~~(3) having a child in his care or custody or under his control, he:

(A) deserts that child with intent to abandon him; ~~or~~

§ 31.65 Curfew Hours for Minors

Bill § 13, p. 59, l. 6 · Repeal · Crimes Against Persons

✕ Repeal (curfew). Guam would have no general juvenile curfew law. Police could still act on other offenses.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Repeals the curfew statute in full (definitions, offenses for minors, parents/guardians and establishment operators, defenses, enforcement procedure, and penalties). Why: Constitutionality of curfew laws widely challenged in other jurisdictions; some CLRC members believed it would be struck down if challenged. Review standards: (9) identify unconstitutional statutes and recommend removal or amendment; (5) eliminate archaic and unused offenses.
(2) Repeal	Intentionally eliminated (constitutional concerns), not duplicative or relocated. Rights and responsibilities affected: removes a police enforcement tool, the parental-responsibility offense, and the establishment-operator offense. One member urged the Legislature to enact a replacement.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons Plenary: Tabled Sept. 12, 2024; approved Feb. 6, 2025 (carried with one vote in opposition); final approval May 29, 2025. Objections or concerns on the record: Feb. 6, 2025: the GPD designee opposed repeal; a community member preferred to keep the law until a court rules; the motion carried with one recorded vote in opposition.
(4) Agencies	GPD (member agency; opposed). DYA, the Mayors' Council, parents and business operators are affected. Not consulted.
Hearing questions	Narrows criminal liability. Changes an existing protection or oversight mechanism.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

Recommendation to repeal this section. This recommendation was based on questionable constitutionality of this section and was vigorously debated by the Commission. Attorney members of the Commission noted that the constitutionality of curfew laws has been widely challenged across the United States and believe this law would be struck down if were to be challenged in Guam. Some members conceded that this curfew law may be unconstitutional but because of Guam's problems with minors out past curfew they would prefer to leave it until it is challenged and struck down by the courts. This recommendation was opposed by the GPD member and a community member of the Commission.

§ 31.70 Leaving Children Unattended or Unsupervised in Motor Vehicles

Bill § 13, p. 62, l. 17 · Amend · Crimes Against Persons

"Knowingly" added to felony offense. Without an express mental state, § 4.40 required intent, knowledge, or recklessness. The amendment clarifies that knowledge is required; reckless conduct no longer creates felony punishment.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (d) (causing serious bodily injury, permanent disability or disfigurement; third-degree felony): "Any person who violates" becomes "Any person who knowingly violates." Why: Felony punishment should demand higher standard of culpability; ref. MPC § 2.02. Review standards: (3) describe all elements, including mental states.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons Plenary: Tabled Sept. 12, 2024; approved without objection Feb. 6, 2025; final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	DPHSS Child Protective Services (custody under (e)(2)) is affected only indirectly. Not consulted.
Hearing questions	Changes elements of an offense or an available defense. Narrows criminal liability.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

Amend subsection (d) to include "knowingly" as the required mental state. Reference MPC § 2.02 (General Requirements of Culpability) and 9 GCA § 4.25 (Culpability).

Bill § 14 · 9 GCA Chapter 34: Arson, Negligent Burning, Criminal Mischief

§ 34.50 Criminal Mischief; Defined

Bill § 14, p. 65, l. 13 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▼ Definition narrowed. Consolidates criminal mischief offenses into one form: intentionally damaging another's property. Removes separate provisions specific scenarios. Pairs with § 34.60.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Existing law defines criminal mischief as (a) damaging property to defraud an insurer (not amounting to arson); (b) intentionally tampering with property of another or forest land and thereby recklessly endangering human life or recklessly causing or threatening a substantial interruption of a public utility service; (c) intentionally damaging property of another or forest land; or (d) intentionally damaging another's motor vehicle. As amended: "A person commits criminal mischief if he intentionally damages the property of another." Why: Alongside § 34.60, CLRC proposes grading criminal mischief based on the pecuniary loss caused. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses.
(2) Repeal	Partial elimination (not a repeal of the section). Whether the removed conduct remains covered elsewhere: damage to government utility equipment is covered by § 55.50 (second-degree felony, government-owned property only); reckless endangerment of life may be charged under Chapter 19 reckless-endangering provisions; damage to defraud an insurer and tampering with privately owned utility facilities or forest land may not be covered by any other Title 9 offense if no pecuniary damage.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Relating to Property Plenary: No change recommended Aug. 31, 2023; amendment presented and approved without objection June 13, 2024; clerical corrections by Notice of Errata, Jan. 29, 2026; final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	GPA and GWA (utility tampering), the Department of Agriculture (forest land), and insurers are affected. Not consulted.
Hearing questions	Changes elements of an offense or an available defense. Narrows criminal liability. Reduces a penalty or grade. Changes an existing protection or oversight mechanism.

CLRC COMMENT Notice of Errata and Revisions (approved January 29, 2026)

§ 34.60 Criminal Mischief; Punished

Bill § 14, p. 65, l. 24 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▼▲ Re-graded by loss. Under new scheme, criminal mischief is punished based on the pecuniary damage caused. Some property-damage cases move down one or two grades (for example, $1,000 in damage goes from a third-degree felony to a misdemeanor). Other property-damage cases move up a grade (for example, $5,000 in damage goes from a third-degree felony to a second-degree felony). Damage of $24 or less moves up from a violation to a petty misdemeanor. Intended but unrealized loss no longer sets the grade.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Grading by loss: second-degree felony, $5,000 or more (new grade); third-degree felony, $2,500–$4,999.99 (was more than $500); misdemeanor, $500–$2,499.99 (was more than $50); petty misdemeanor, less than $500 (was more than $24; $24 or less was a violation). Standard changes from loss that the conduct "causes or is intended to cause" to loss that it "results in." Deletes former (a) (violations of § 34.50(b) or (d) were per se third-degree felonies) and former (c) (mandatory 48-hour minimum and set fines for adult graffiti-type offenses). Parent liability, restitution, repainting and community-service provisions retained. Why: Grading values were compared with New Jersey, California, Hawaii and Model Penal Code jurisdictions. "Intended to be caused" standard was struck after a member raised concerns about grading by intended loss. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Relating to Property Plenary: Aug. 31, 2023: removal of former (a) approved, grading values tabled. Feb. 29, 2024: grading values moved to the final reading file; a separate motion concerning the lowest grade carried with two members opposed. June 13, 2024: statutory text approved without objection, with the Chair noting an objection by a non-voting ex officio member. Clerical corrections by Notice of Errata, Jan. 29, 2026; final approval May 29, 2025. Objections or concerns on the record: June 13, 2024: a non-voting ex officio member from the Public Defender's office objected that a defendant who reasonably believed property was of low value could still be charged with a second-degree felony, and supported a mental-state requirement as to the amount of loss. The Chair noted the objection on the record.
(4) Agencies	No non-member agency has an implementation role.
Hearing questions	Reduces a penalty or grade. Increases a penalty or grade. Changes elements of an offense or an available defense.

CLRC COMMENT Notice of Errata and Revisions (approved January 29, 2026)

Subsection (a) removed to clarify that punishment is based on grading values. Subsection (b) grading values of offenses increased after review of other jurisdictions' grading values for criminal mischief; and classification of "violation" as an offense removed. Subsection (c) language regarding mandatory minimums removed for uniformity with 9 GCA Chapter 80 (Disposition of Offenders). Section revised in Notice of Errata and Revisions approved by the CLRC on January 29, 2026 to correct clerical errors.

Bill § 15 · 9 GCA Chapter 37: Burglary and Home Invasion

§ 37.20 Burglary: Defined, Punishment Classified

Bill § 15, p. 74, l. 11 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

Affirmative defense added. A defendant who reasonably believed he had a right to enter may raise an affirmative defense (defendant's burden).

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a): in addition to the existing defense that the property was abandoned, adds an affirmative defense that the person reasonably believed he or she owned, leased, rented or was otherwise licensed to enter and remain in the building, school or vehicle. Why: Although unlawful entry and intent to commit a crime are already elements of burglary, codifying reasonable belief of ownership, lease, or license as an explicit affirmative defense ensures defendants can obtain a specific jury instruction on that defense at trial. The added list of structures and vehicles mirrors the offense definition in (a). Review standards: (3) describe all elements, including mental states; (10) other amendments the Commission believes necessary.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Relating to Property Plenary: Approved without opposition Aug. 31, 2023; final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	No agency outside the CLRC's voting-member agencies has an implementation role.
Hearing questions	Changes elements of an offense or an available defense. Narrows criminal liability.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

Amendment to § 37.20(a) to add an affirmative defense to burglary, and to § 37.20(c) to provide a reference to the Family Court Act within 9 GCA.

TEXT Bill No. 317-38 (COR) § 15, p. 74, l. 11 · deleted text struck through; new text underlined

§ 37.20. Burglary: Defined, Punishment Classified.

(a) A person is guilty of burglary if he enters or surreptitiously remains in any habitable property, building, or a separately secured or occupied portion thereof, or if he enters or surreptitiously remains in any School as defined in § 37.10(e) of this Chapter, with intent to commit a crime therein, unless the premises are at the time open to the public or the defendant is licensed or privileged to enter, or a person is guilty of burglary if he enters or surreptitiously remains in any motor vehicle, semi-trailer, trailer, truck tractor, vehicle combination, motor bus, motor truck, or vehicle, with intent to commit a crime therein. It is an affirmative defense to prosecution for burglary that the property, or building, or motor vehicle was abandoned or if the person reasonably believed that he or she owned, leased rented or was otherwise licensed to enter and remain in the habitable property, building, or a separately secured or occupied portion thereof, or the School, motor vehicle, semi-trailer, trailer, truck tractor, vehicle combination, motorbus, motor truck, or vehicle.

(b) Burglary is a felony of the second degree. In the case of burglary as a felony of the second degree, the court shall impose a sentence of imprisonment of a minimum term of five (5) years, and may impose a maximum term of up to ten (10) years; the minimum term imposed shall not be suspended nor may probation be imposed in lieu of the minimum term nor shall parole or work release be granted before completion of the minimum term. The sentence shall include a special parole term of not less than three (3) years, in addition to such term of imprisonment. Provided, however, that in the case of an offender not previously convicted of a felony, the court may sentence the offender to not more than five (5) years imprisonment as a third degree felony conviction, and the provisions of this Subsection prohibiting probation, suspension, parole or work release shall not be applicable to such offender.

(c) A second or subsequent offense of burglary to a school shall be a felony of the first degree. In the case of a second or subsequent conviction of burglary committed to a school as a felony of the first degree, the court shall impose a sentence of imprisonment of a minimum term of ten (10) years, and may impose a maximum term of up to twenty (20) years; the minimum term imposed shall not be suspended nor may probation be imposed in lieu of the minimum term nor shall parole or work release be granted before completion of the minimum term. The sentence shall include a special parole term of not less than three (3) years in addition to such term of imprisonment. However, if the offender is under the age of eighteen years the court shall have the discretion to suspend all or a portion of the minimum sentence, and may encourage the Balanced Approach Restorative Justice Process as provided in 19 GCA § 5134.

§ 37.40 The Breaking of Window Glass to Gain Access to Vehicles

Bill § 15, p. 76, l. 21 · Repeal · Crimes Relating to Property

✕ Repeal (add-on felony). The separate stacked charge is no longer available. Vehicle burglary (§ 37.20, second-degree felony), criminal mischief and theft remain; injury to a bystander could be charged as assault.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Repeals the additional third-degree felony for breaking a vehicle window while committing or attempting burglary or criminal trespass, and the second-degree felony where the broken glass injures an innocent person. Why: Aug. 31, 2023: members noted the offense had rarely been charged (a prosecutor member recalled about three times, mainly in plea negotiations) noted the anomaly that breaking a vehicle window was a standalone felony while breaking a house window was not, and agreed that vehicle burglary (§ 37.20), criminal mischief (§§ 34.50–34.60), theft (§ 43.20), and assault (Ch. 19) adequately cover the conduct. Review standards: (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses; (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties.
(2) Repeal	Duplicative. The burglary statute covers entry into vehicles; the repeal removes a stacking felony and the specific felony for injuring a bystander with broken glass.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Relating to Property Plenary: Approved without opposition Aug. 31, 2023; final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	No agency outside the CLRC's voting-member agencies has an implementation role.
Hearing questions	Narrows criminal liability. Reduces a penalty or grade. Overlaps another offense. Overlap: Duplicative of § 37.20 vehicle burglary (the reason for repeal).

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

To remove a duplicative section already covered by burglary-specific statutory language for vehicles in § 37.20 and because there is no need for second or third degree felony levels for breaking window glass, repeal § 37.40.

Bill § 17 · 9 GCA Chapter 43: Theft and Related Offenses

§ 43.20 Theft; Defined & Punishment Classified

Bill § 17, p. 81, l. 24 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▼ Thresholds raised. Examples: a $600 theft goes from a third-degree felony to a misdemeanor; a $2,000 theft goes from a second-degree felony (5-year mandatory minimum for non-first offenders) to a misdemeanor; a $4,000 theft goes from a second-degree to a third-degree felony.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Second-degree felony: $5,000 or more (was more than $1,500). Third-degree felony: $2,500 or more (was more than $500 and less than $1,500). Misdemeanor: $500 or more (was more than $50). Petty misdemeanor: less than $500 (was $50 or less). Property-type rules (vehicles, firearms, credit cards, theft from the person, extortion, illegal power hook-ups) and the second-degree mandatory minimum (5 years, with first-offender exception) are unchanged. Why: Guam's 1970s dollar thresholds ($50 M, $500 3DF, $1,500 2DF) had not been updated for inflation, causing thefts of everyday items like smartphones ($1,000) to be charged as felonies and thefts over $1,500 to trigger a 5-year mandatory minimum sentence for repeat offenders. After initial discussion on Aug. 31, 2023, the Subcommission surveyed New Jersey, California, Hawaii, and MPC jurisdictions (approved Feb. 29, 2024) and updated the dollar thresholds while leaving per se property-type rules unchanged. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Relating to Property Plenary: Presented and tabled Aug. 31, 2023; approved (moved to final reading file) Feb. 29, 2024; final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	No non-member agency has an implementation role.
Hearing questions	Reduces a penalty or grade.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

Grading values of offenses increased after review of other jurisdictions' grading values for theft.

§ 43.20. Theft; Defined & Punishment Classified.

(a) Theft constitutes a felony of the second degree if the amount involved is Five Thousand Dollars ($5000.00) or more ~~exceeds One Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($1,500)~~ or if the property stolen is a bus, truck, automobile, aircraft, motorcycle, or motor boat, or in the case of theft by receiving stolen property, if the defendant is in the business of buying and selling stolen property. In the case of theft as a felony of the second degree, the court shall impose a sentence of imprisonment of a minimum term of five (5) years and may impose a maximum term of up to ten (10) years; the minimum term imposed shall not be suspended nor may probation be imposed in lieu of the minimum term nor shall parole or work release be granted before completion of the minimum term. The sentence shall include a special parole term of not less than three (3) years in addition to such term of imprisonment provided, however, that in the case of an offender not previously convicted of a felony or of an offense constituting theft, the court may sentence the offender to not more than five (5) years imprisonment and the provisions of this subsection prohibiting probation, suspension, parole, or work release shall not be applicable to such offender.

(b) Theft constitutes a felony of the third degree if the amount involved is Twenty-Five Hundred Dollars ($2500.00) or more ~~is less than One Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($1,500.00) but exceeds Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00)~~ or if the property stolen is a firearm or motorized vehicle other than those set forth in Subsection (a) of this Section, or if the theft is through an unauthorized electrical connection.

(c) Theft not constituting a felony of the second or third degree is a misdemeanor if the amount involved is Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) or more ~~exceeds Fifty Dollars ($50)~~ or if the property stolen is a credit card or if the property was taken from the person or by extortion.

(d) Theft not constituting a felony of the second or third degree or a misdemeanor is a petty misdemeanor if the amount involved is less than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00).

(e) The amount involved in a theft shall be the fair market value of the property or services which the defendant stole or attempted to steal. Whether or not they have been issued or delivered, written instruments not having a readily ascertained market value shall be evaluated as follows:

(1) The value of an instrument constituting an evidence of a debt, such as a check, draft or promissory note, shall be the amount due or collectible thereon or thereby, that figure ordinarily being the face amount of the indebtedness less any portion thereof which has been satisfied.

(2) The value of any other instrument that creates, releases, discharges or otherwise affects any valuable legal right, privilege or obligation shall be deemed the greatest amount of economic loss which the owner of the instrument might reasonably suffer by virtue of the loss of the instrument.

(f) Amounts involved in thefts committed pursuant to one scheme or course of conduct, whether from the same person or several persons or ~~amount~~ amounts involved in thefts by a servant, agent or employee from his principal or employer in any period of twelve (12) consecutive months, may be aggregated in determining the grade of the offense.

§ 43.31 Crime Against the Community; Defined and Punishment

Bill § 17, p. 84, l. 22 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▼ Enhancement ground removed. Misuse of government property or services for an unintended purpose, without a threat to safety or a deprivation of services, no longer supports the Crime Against the Community special allegation.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Deletes (a)(3): unlawful control over government property or interference with government services "for a purpose other than the original purpose for which the property or services were to be provided." (a)(1) (threat to public health and safety) and (a)(2) (deprivation of public services) remain. Why: At the Aug. 31, 2023 plenary, members concluded that (a)(3) ('for a purpose other than the original purpose') was unconstitutionally vague and overbroad on its face, exposing any unauthorized use of government-owned, leased, or borrowed property to a 1-year prison enhancement and $5,000 fine even where no threat to public health/safety ((a)(1)), service deprivation ((a)(2)), or property damage ((b)) occurred. Review standards: (1) clear and plain language; (9) identify unconstitutional statutes and recommend removal or amendment.
(2) Repeal	Partial (a)(3) repeal; other grounds remain.

(b) A person is guilty of a Crime Against the Community if that person knowingly destroys, defaces, alters, tampers with or damages government-owned, leased or borrowed property.

§ 46.30 Issuance of Dishonored Checks

Bill § 18, p. 103, l. 25 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▼▲ Re-graded; new 2DF. Checks between $1,000 and $2,500 drop from a felony to a misdemeanor; checks of $10,000 or more rise to a second-degree felony.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Petty misdemeanor: not more than $500 (was $250). Misdemeanor: $500 to less than $2,500 (was more than $250 up to $1,000). Third-degree felony: $2,500 to less than $10,000 (was more than $1,000). New second-degree felony: $10,000 or more. § 46.30. Issuance of Dishonored Checks.

(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this section, the following terms have the meanings given them.

(1) "Check" means a check, draft, order of withdrawal, or similar negotiable or nonnegotiable instrument.

(2) "Credit" means an arrangement or understanding with the drawee for the payment of a check.

(b) Acts constituting. Whoever issues a check which, at the time of issuance, the issuer intends shall not be paid, is guilty of issuing a dishonored check and may be sentenced as provided in subsection (b)(1). In addition, restitution may be ordered by the court.

(1) Penalties. A person who is convicted of issuing a dishonored check under subsection (b) is:

(A) guilty of a petty misdemeanor ~~punishable by imprisonment for not more than sixty (60) days or by payment of a fine of not more than $500, or both ,~~ if the value of the dishonored check, or checks aggregated under paragraph (2), is not more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) ~~$250~~; or

(B) guilty of a misdemeanor ~~punishable by imprisonment for not more than one (1) year, or by payment of a fine of not more than $2,000, or both,~~ if the value of the dishonored check, or checks aggregated under paragraph (2), is equal to or more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500) but less than Two-Thousand Five Hundred dollars ($2,500.00) ~~$250, but not more than $1000~~; or

(C) guilty of a felony of the third degree ~~punishable by imprisonment for not more than five (5) years, or by payment of a fine of not more than $5,000, or both,~~ if the value of the dishonored check, or checks aggregated under paragraph (2), is equal to or more than $2,500.00 but less than $10,000.00. ~~more than $1,000~~.

(D) guilty of a felony of the second degree if the value of the dishonored check, or checks aggregated under paragraph (2), is $10,000.00 or more.

(2) In a prosecution under this paragraph, the value of dishonored checks issued by the defendant in violation of this subsection within any six-month period may be aggregated and the defendant charged accordingly in applying this section.

(c) Proof of intent. Any of the following is evidence sufficient to sustain a finding that the person at the time the person issued the check intended it should not be paid:

(1) proof that, at the time of issuance, the issuer did not have an account with the drawee;

(2) proof that, at the time of issuance, the issuer did not have sufficient funds or credit with the drawee and that the issuer failed to pay the check within thirty (30) days after mailing of notice of nonpayment or dishonor as provided in this subsection; or

(3) proof that, when presentment was made within a reasonable time, the issuer did not have sufficient funds or credit with the drawee and that the issuer failed to pay the check within thirty (30) days after mailing of notice of nonpayment or dishonor as provided in this subsection.

Notice of nonpayment or dishonor that includes a citation to this section shall be sent by the payee or holder of the check to the maker or drawer by certified mail, return receipt requested, or by regular mail, supported by an affidavit of service by mailing, to the address printed on the check. Refusal by the maker or drawer of the check to accept certified mail notice or failure to claim certified or regular mail notice is not a defense that notice was not received.

The notice may state that unless the check is paid in full within thirty (30) days after mailing of the notice of nonpayment or dishonor, the payee or holder of the check will or may refer the matter to proper authorities for prosecution under this section.

An affidavit of service by mailing shall be retained by the payee or holder of the check.

(d) Proof of lack of funds or credit. If the check has been protested, the notice of protest is admissible as proof of presentation, nonpayment, and protest, and is evidence sufficient to sustain a finding that there was a lack of funds or credit with the drawee.

(e) Exceptions. This section does not apply to a postdated check or to a check given for a past consideration, except a payroll check or a check issued to a fund for employee benefits.

§ 46.35 Fraudulent Use of Credit Cards; Defined and Punished

Bill § 18, p. 106, l. 8 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▼▲ Card numbers covered; re-graded. Online or phone use of a stolen card number is expressly covered. Fraud of $500 or less drops from a misdemeanor to a petty misdemeanor; more than $500 but less than $2,500 drops from a felony to a misdemeanor; $10,000 or more rises to a second-degree felony.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a) adds use of "the account number of a credit card account" (not only the physical card). (d) grading: petty misdemeanor, $500 or less; misdemeanor, more than $500 and less than $2,500; third-degree felony, $2,500 to less than $10,000 (was any amount over $500); second-degree felony, $10,000 or more (new). Why: Modernizes (a) to cover card-not-present (online or phone) fraud using a credit card account number without the physical card (Aug. 31, 2023 plenary), and replaces the old two-tier grading (M up to $500; 3DF over $500) with the 4-tier white-collar fraud scale used in §§ 46.30 and 46.80 (June 13, 2024 plenary). Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses.

§ 46.80 Impersonation; Identity Theft; Defined and Punished

Bill § 18, p. 112, l. 9 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▼ Mostly lower. Identity theft involving $2,500 or less is no longer a felony; amounts between $5,000 and $10,000 drop from a second- to a third-degree felony. Mandatory restitution unchanged.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Existing law: third-degree felony, or second-degree felony if $5,000 or more. Amended: petty misdemeanor, $500 or less; misdemeanor, more than $500 and less than $2,500; third-degree felony, $2,500 to less than $10,000; second-degree felony, $10,000 or more. Why: Aligns identity theft and impersonation with the 4-tier dollar grading scale adopted for bad checks (§ 46.30) and credit card fraud (§ 46.35), ensuring proportionate misdemeanor/petty-misdemeanor grading for low-dollar offenses under $2,500 while setting the second-degree felony threshold at $10,000+. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties.

▼▲ (g) felony → M; (a)–(f) conform to Ch. 80. (g) offenses are no longer felonies. Under (a)–(f), maximum terms and fines become the Chapter 80 defaults for the stated grades.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (g) (supplying harvested or dictionary-generated e-mail addresses for spam violations under § 46.503(f) or (g)): "felony" with up to one year and $5,000 becomes "misdemeanor." (a)–(f): offense grades kept (3DF in (a),(d); 2DF in (b),(c),(e),(f)) and (d) adds 'third degree,' while statute-specific imprisonment and fine clauses are deleted in favor of 9 GCA Chapter 80 defaults (§§ 80.30, 80.31, 80.34, 80.50). Specifically: (1) in (a) and (d) (3DF), the $5,000 max fine and 3-year 1st-offender max prison term are unchanged, while the repeat-offender max prison term increases from 3 years to 5 years; (2) in (b), (c), and (e) (2DF), the $10,000 max fine is unchanged, while the prison range increases from 'not to exceed 5 years' to 1–8 years (1st offender) or 3–10 years (repeat offender); (3) in (f) (2DF), the 10-year repeat-offender max prison term is unchanged, while the max fine drops from $25,000 to $10,000; and (4) in (g) (M), the 1-year max prison term is unchanged, while the felony label is corrected to misdemeanor and the max fine drops from $5,000 to $1,000. Why: Eliminate bespoke penalty ranges in (a)–(f) so Computer Protection Act felonies carry the standard 9 GCA Chapter 80 felony imprisonment and fine ranges (including the distinction between first offenders under § 80.31 and repeat offenders under § 80.30), and correct the statutory contradiction in (g) where an offense punishable by 'not to exceed one (1) year' was mislabeled a felony contrary to 9 GCA § 1.18. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (1) clear and plain language.

Bill § 21 · 9 GCA Chapter 52: Perjury and Offenses Against the Integrity of Official Proceedings

§ 52.10 Definitions

Bill § 21, p. 141, l. 3 · Amend · Criminal Procedure (chapter originally assigned to DOCO)

▲ "Statement" broadened. Any representation, not only a "non-trivial" one, is a "statement." Perjury (§ 52.15) still requires materiality; false statement under oath (§ 52.20) does not, so its reach widens.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Copies the definitions of "official function" and "public servant" from § 49.10 into this section (previously incorporated by reference); deletes the unused definition of "public record"; in "statement," deletes "non-trivial" and conforms wording to MPC § 241.0; moves "testimony" to new (g). Why: Conforms (e) to source MPC § 241.0(1), which defines 'statement' as 'any representation' without 'non-trivial.' In Chapter 52, felony Perjury (§ 52.15) already requires a 'material statement' (defined in § 52.10(a)), whereas petty-misdemeanor False Statement Under Oath (§ 52.20) applies to any false 'statement' under oath; the undefined modifier 'non-trivial' in § 52.10(e) blurred that distinction. Truly trivial infractions remain subject to dismissal under 9 GCA § 7.67. Review standards: (2) consistent definitions; (3) describe all elements, including mental states.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Criminal Procedure (chapter originally assigned to DOCO) Plenary: Approved without objection Apr. 10, 2025; subsection (e) presented and approved without objection May 29, 2025 (omitted from the April slides); final approval May 29, 2025.
(4) Agencies	No agency outside the CLRC's voting-member agencies has an implementation role.
Hearing questions	Changes elements of an offense or an available defense. Expands criminal liability.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

For clarification of the section, subsection (a) definitions of "official function" and "public servant" in are inserted directly into this section from § 49.10. Subsection (d) definition of "public record" in is stricken as the term is not used in this chapter. Subsection (e) term "non-trivial" is stricken as it creates a potential conflict with "statement" as used in § 52.15 (Perjury) and § 52.20 (False Statement Under Oath); other amendents are for consistency with source MPC § 241.0 (Definition of Statement). Subsection (f)(3) definition of "testimony" is erroneously placed and is renumbered as a new subsection.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a): "any written false statement of his own" becomes "any false statement, in written or electronic format." Why: Modernizes (a) to cover electronic submissions to public servants, and conforms (a) to source MPC § 241.3(1)(a) by striking 'of his own' so that knowingly submitting or using a false written or electronic statement prepared by another person is covered equally with submitting one's own false statement. Review standards: (1) clear and plain language; (10) other amendments the Commission believes necessary.

§ 52.30. Unsworn Falsifications; Defined & Punished.

A person is guilty of a misdemeanor if, with intent to mislead a public servant in performing his official function, he makes, submits or uses:

(a) any ~~written~~ false statement, in written or electronic format, ~~of his own~~ which he does not then believe to be true; or

(b) any physical object, exhibit, writing or drawing which he knows to be either false or not what it purports to be in the circumstances in which it is made, submitted or used.

§ 52.55 Falsifying Evidence; Defined & Punished

Bill § 21, p. 145, l. 5 · Amend · Criminal Procedure (chapter originally assigned to DOCO)

▼ 3DF → M. Fabricating evidence for an official proceeding becomes a misdemeanor, the same grade as destroying evidence (§ 52.60).

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Grade changes from third-degree felony to misdemeanor; adds "in any form, including written or electronic format."

	Why: The third-degree felony grade in § 52.55 was an anomalous carryover from the pre-1977 Guam Penal Code; reducing it to a misdemeanor aligns it with source MPC § 241.7 (Tampering with or Fabricating Physical Evidence) and companion § 52.60 (Destroying Evidence), while updating the text to cover electronic evidence. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.

CLRC COMMENT Interim Report (June 13, 2025)

Amendment reduces the offense level to a misdemeanor. Felony level in this section is inconsistent with source MPC § 241.7 (Tampering with or Fabricating Physical Evidence), which is a misdemeanor, and is inconsistent with § 52.60 (Destroying Evidence), which is a misdemeanor. § 55.20 False Alarms; Defined & Punished

Bill § 22, p. 147, l. 9 · Amend · Criminal Procedure (chapter originally assigned to DOCO)

▲ New M and new 3DF. False alarms spread to the public (not only to responders) become criminal, and serious hoaxes become felonies.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Existing (a) retained (misdemeanor: knowingly causing a false alarm to an emergency-response organization). New (b) (misdemeanor): knowingly initiating or circulating a false alarm likely to cause evacuation of a building, place of assembly or public transport facility, or public inconvenience or alarm. New (c) (third-degree felony): a false alarm involving a report of an impending bombing, hostage situation, armed person, or any other incident that elicits an immediate or heightened law-enforcement or emergency response. Why: Modeled on N.J.S.A. § 2C:33-3 (False Public Alarms) (Apr. 10, 2025 plenary, Slide 12) to broaden (a) (which only covered false alarms transmitted directly to emergency organizations) to reach false alarms circulated to the public that cause evacuations or public alarm ((b), misdemeanor), and to elevate life-threatening false alarms (bombings, hostages, armed persons) that trigger heightened emergency response to a third-degree felony ((c)). Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (10) other amendments the Commission believes necessary.

(b) A person is guilty of a misdemeanor when, with knowledge of its falsity, he initiates or circulates a false alarm of fire or other emergency knowing that the alarm is likely to cause evacuation of a building, place of assembly, or facility of public transport, or to cause public inconvenience or alarm.

(c) A person is guilty of a felony of the third degree if the false alarm involves a report or warning of an impending bombing, hostage situation, person armed with a deadly weapon as defined by 9 GCA § 16.10, or any other incident that elicits an immediate or heightened response by law enforcement or emergency services.

§ 55.25 Making False Reports; Defined & Punished

Bill § 22, p. 147, l. 21 · Amend · Criminal Procedure (chapter originally assigned to DOCO)

▲ (a) M → 3DF. Falsely incriminating another person (including "swatting") becomes a felony.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a): knowingly giving false information to a peace officer intending to induce the officer to believe another person committed an offense becomes a third-degree felony (was a misdemeanor). (b): other false reports (reporting a non-occurring offense; purporting to furnish information one does not have) remain misdemeanors. "Law enforcement officer/authorities" replaced with "peace officer." Why: Modeled on N.J.S.A. § 2C:28-4(a) (Falsely Incriminating Another) (Apr. 10, 2025 plenary, Slide 13) to deter 'swatting' and false criminal accusations that place innocent persons at risk of armed police response or arrest, while keeping general false reporting of non-existent incidents in (b) as a misdemeanor. Review standards: (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties.

▲ New 3DF. Police impersonation becomes a felony.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Retitled. (a) unchanged (misdemeanor: impersonating a public servant). New (b): falsely pretending to be a peace officer, or a member, employee or agent of a peace-officer organization, to induce submission or reliance, is a third-degree felony. Why: Modeled on N.J.S.A. § 2C:28-8(b) (Apr. 10, 2025 plenary, Slide 14) to elevate impersonating a peace officer from a misdemeanor to a third-degree felony given the grave public-safety risk and abuse of coercive authority when someone poses as police, while keeping impersonation of other public servants in (a) as a misdemeanor. § 70.20 Animal Neglect (Violation)

▼▲ Neglect revised (V). Recklessness moves from failing to provide care to causing injury. A reckless failure to provide minimum care is no longer neglect unless it causes physical injury, and new (a)(2) makes reckless or criminally negligent injury to an animal in the person's possession neglect (a violation).

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a)(1): failure to provide minimum care must be intentional or knowing (was intentional, knowing or reckless). (a)(2) (new): recklessly or with criminal negligence causing physical injury to an animal in the person's possession. (b): "an offense punishable by a fine of not more than $500 per offense" is redundant and replaced by exact equivalent "a violation" (fine set by Chapter 80). Relocation of injury related to reckless or criminally negligent action from 70.25 to 70.20. Why: Feb. 29, 2024: the Subcommission edited both § 70.20 and § 70.25 in an effort to better distinguish overlapping offenses and elements. Review standards: (3) describe all elements, including mental states; (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties.

§ 70.20. Animal Neglect (Violation).

(a) A person commits the offense of Animal Neglect if, except as otherwise authorized by § 70.65 of this Article, the person (1) intentionally or, knowingly, or recklessly fails to provide minimum care for an animal in the person's possession, or (2) recklessly or with criminal negligence causes physical injury to an animal in the person's possession.

(b) Animal Neglect is an offense punishable by a fine of not more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500) per offense a violation.

(c) Each act or omission in violation of Subsection (a) of this Section shall constitute a separate offense violation.

§ 70.25 Animal Abuse

Bill § 23, p. 154, l. 7 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▼ Mental state narrowed. Recklessly killing or seriously injuring an animal is no longer abuse. If the animal was in the person's possession it is neglect (a violation); otherwise it is not an offense under the Article.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a): mental state becomes "intentionally or knowingly" (was intentionally, knowingly, recklessly, or with criminal negligence) for causing physical injury (misdemeanor), serious physical injury, or death (third-degree felony). Why: Feb. 29, 2024: intent was to distinguish "neglect" and "abuse" by separating out the mens rea and punishing intentional and knowing abuse at the higher level. Review standards: (3) describe all elements, including mental states; (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.
(3) Considered	Subcommission: Subcommission on Crimes Relating to Property Plenary: Approved without objection Feb. 29, 2024 (moved to final reading file); final approval May 29, 2025.

(2) causes serious physical injury to an animal; or

(3) causes the death of an animal.

(b) Animal Abuse under Subsection (a)(1) of this Section is a misdemeanor. Animal Abuse under Subsection (a)(2) or (a)(3) of this Section is a third degree felony.

§ 70.35 Animal Fighting

Bill § 23, p. 155, l. 2 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

▲ Cockfighting → 3DF. Cockfighting (already prohibited under federal law in the territories) becomes animal fighting under Guam law, a third-degree felony. Fines default to Chapter 80 and the $5,000 minimum fine is removed.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: (a): deletes "This Section does not apply to cockfighting that is authorized by law." (d): deletes the section's own penalty clause (confinement under Chapter 80, Article 2, and a fine of $5,000–$15,000 per violation), leaving the Chapter 80 defaults for a third-degree felony; property-seizure provision retained. Why: Federal law: P.L. 115-334 § 12616 (2018) removed the exception in 7 U.S.C. § 2156 for live-bird fighting where local law allowed it, effective Dec. 20, 2019, so cockfighting is now a federal offense in Guam.

	Review standards: (9) identify unconstitutional statutes and recommend removal or amendment; (6) adjust penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties; (4) reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between offenses.
(2) Repeal	Not a repeal.

§ 70.450 Blacklisting Employees

Bill § 23, p. 180, l. 12 · Repeal · Crimes Relating to Property

✕ Repeal (PM, M; civil). Blacklisting and coercion of employment are no longer specific crimes; the statutory civil cause of action, the employer and bank reference immunities, the communications privilege, and fee-shifting all disappear.

(1) Change and reason	What changes: Repeals the entire section: (a) petty misdemeanor (fine up to $500) and civil damages for preventing a discharged employee's re-employment by untrue statements; (b) misdemeanor (fine up to $1,000) and civil damages for preventing employment by threats, intimidation or force; (c)–(d) employer immunity and presumption of good faith for job references; (e)–(f) privilege for required communications to government agencies; (g)–(h) immunity for financial institutions' written references; (i) mandatory fee-shifting.

	Why: Feb. 29, 2024: members questioned the need for criminal provisions and recommended moving (c)–(i) to civil statutes. Review standards: (5) eliminate archaic and unused offenses; (7) organize statutes in a logical order.
(2) Repeal	Intentionally eliminated as to (a)–(b); intended to be relocated as to (c)–(i), but the bill does not reenact (c)–(i) anywhere, so as drafted they are eliminated. 10 GCA § 60109 Concealed Carry

Bill § 29, p. 252, l. 8 · Amend · Crimes Relating to Property

Discretionary route removed. Concealed carry is available only through the shall-issue license in § 60109.1 (objective criteria, including age 21, residency, citizenship or permanent residence, training, and disqualifiers). Practical change is small because § 60109.1 has existed since 2014.

OVERLAPPING LEGISLATION

Staff monitor bills and new public laws for effects on sections reviewed or under review. We defer to intervening enactments and will keep working with legislative staff so the bill reflects them.

DEVELOPMENT OF RECOMMENDATIONS

Developed, discussed, and finalized in subcommission working sessions, then presented at plenary meetings on behalf of the whole subcommission. The Commission did not record which member first suggested a recommendation.

CONSULTATION WITH BBMR OR DOA

As a matter of practice, the Commission has not formally consulted the Bureau of Budget and Management Research or the Department of Administration on recommendations that would require appropriations.

(d) DOC, ~~and GBHWC.~~ GMHA and GBHWC shall deliver health care services at the Correctional Medical Clinic and Correctional Behavioral Health Clinic, respectively, at the most economical costs, implement best practices, and promote financial accountability to DOC.

~~(1) GMHA and GBHWC shall provide written reports to DOC one month after each fiscal quarter detailing services rendered and supplies used during the previous quarter, including applicable costs and administrative fees. The system for payment by DOC to GMHA and GBHWC shall be established with the Governor's Office, the Bureau of Budget Management & Research (BBMR), and the Department of Administration (DOA) to ensure GMHA and GBHWC has a regular commitment of funding secured solely and exclusively for paying GMHA and GBHWC on time for health care services, medical supplies, and for the timely payment to pharmaceutical vendors to prevent any future risks of credit hold.~~

~~(2) Allotments shall be made to GMHA and GBHWC in advance of services rendered and medical and pharmaceutical supplies, based on the previous fiscal year budget, and adjusted for any under-utilization or over-utilization from the previous fiscal year. Quarterly allotments shall be released on October 1, January 1, April 1, and July 1, of each fiscal year.~~

~~(3) GMHA and GBHWC shall submit to DOC expenditures statements post fiscal year that certify funds were spent in accordance with actual allocations.~~

STAYS

- Permanently codify both clinics in statute
- Identify GMH and GBHWC as providers in the statute (to submit annual budget requests)
- Compliance with national correctional standards

GOES

- NO NEED for (d)(1)-(3)
- Funding directly to GMH
- Consolidated Cooperative Agreement now in place

Why: Permanently codifying the clinics will help prevent a future civil rights receivership

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Bueñas. This public hearing is now called to order and the time now is 9:03a.m. on October 13, 2026. This hearing is conducted by myself, Senator Telo Taitague, Chairwoman of the Committee on Economic Investment, Military Buildup, Regional Relations, Technology, Regulatory Affairs, Justice, Election, and Retirement. To comply with the Open Government Law, notice of this hearing was published on the Guam Legislature's GTA Channel 21, Docomo Channel 117, and the Government of Guam Public Notice Portal on Tuesday, October 6, 2026, and a second notice on Friday, October 09, 2026. I would like to recognize those who are in person that are here today. Thank you for taking time out of your schedule and those watching from home. Welcome to your Guam Legislature. I would also like to welcome my colleague Speaker Frank Blas Jr. who's joining me today. And Speaker, you know, copies of the legislation and documents received ahead of time of this hearing can be accessed through the Google Drive link which is published on the public hearing notices for this hearing and also emailed to you in advance. For the listening public, you can access the Google Drive link on the public hearing notices published by the Government of Guam Public Notice Portal at notices.guam.gov or the Guam Legislature's website at guamlegislature.gov. This is quite a huge piece of legislation. So, for those who want to follow along or look through it, it's over 200 pages long. So, you might want to take advantage of that opportunity.

The rules before I begin: Please speak directly into the microphone. We have a bad sound echo system here. Also state your name for the record, your position and who you represent. I ask that those here testifying today please stay seated after you've testified in case we have any questions and then you'll be excused. However, if anyone, especially at the Judiciary, if anyone has to leave sooner, then please let me know. Ask one of my staff over there, and I will have you come up right away and then I'll excuse you right away. Those individuals who do not comply with the rules will be removed from the room and prohibited from further participation.

So the agenda for today's public hearing is Bill No. 317-38 (COR), which is "AN ACT TO REPEAL AND REENACT CHAPTERS 1, 4, 16, 17, 19, 22, 25, 25A, 31, 34, 37, 40, 43, 46, 47, 48, 52, 55, 70, 71, 90, AND 91 OF TITLE 9, GUAM CODE ANNOTATED AND TO AMEND §§ 60109, 60110, AND 60110.1 OF CHAPTER 60, TITLE 10, GUAM CODE ANNOTATED AS RECOMMENDED BY THE GUAM CRIMINAL LAW AND PROCEDURE REVIEW COMMISSION RELATIVE TO THE COMMISSION'S MANDATE TO RECOMMEND ENACTMENTS, AMENDMENTS AND REPEALS TO GUAM'S CRIMINAL LAWS AND PROCEDURES TO I LIHESLATURAN GUÅHAN."

At this time, a fiscal note on the bill was received on August 25th, 2026. It states the Unified Judiciary of Guam is still reviewing the bill and cannot yet determine its fiscal impact. Because the bill makes numerous changes to the criminal laws, it may affect court operations, case processing, supervisions, detention, and other criminal justice resources. The overall cost of the government of Guam cannot be determined until the bill is implemented and its effects are evaluated, was their comment. Our Legal Counsel did review the bill during its introduction and at this time we've heard no recommendations or changes or amendments.
Invitations to this public hearing were sent to the following: Guam Criminal Law Procedure Review Commission, Judiciary of Guam, Guam Bar Association, Public Defender Service Corporation, Office of the Attorney General, Department of Corrections, the Guam Police Department.

And at this time, I'd like to recognize the author of this legislation, as I'm a co-sponsor of this one, the Honorable Speaker Frank Blas Jr. to begin. And you are now recognized for your bill.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: Thank you very much, Madam Chair. First off, good morning, Chief Justice, Justice Torres, Judge Quan, Attorney Quenga, and ma'am. Thank you very much and everybody that's here today. We're finally here. Okay. And it's a very momentous occasion actually. And you know before I go on, one of the things I want to say is please utilize the Google Drive. The report itself is over 597 pages long. So, we did a lot of reading over the last few days with regard to this. I want to thank you for being here in this morning's public hearing which is obviously an Act that uh the gracious chairperson had already stated. But one of the things too before I go, I want to give kudos to the Chairwoman of the Committee. Between her and her staff, as well as with the many individuals from the Judiciary- that branch of government- worked together tirelessly over the last few years, actually, to be able to provide the product before us. Now, I know that this is the first of many more that we could see coming, but I'm glad that we're finally getting off the ground.

This measure represents one of the most significant steps our Legislature has taken in recent years to modernize Guam's criminal laws and procedures. For decades, our criminal code has carried the weight of outdated provisions, inconsistent penalties, and structural gaps that complicate enforcement, prosecution, and the fair administration of justice. Recognizing this, the Legislature created the Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission through Public Law 36-119 in November of 2022, with a clear mandate to conduct the first comprehensive review of Guam's criminal statutes and procedures since 1976 and recommend enactments, amendments, and repeals necessary to strengthen our justice system. And Bill 317-38 is a direct product of that mandate. The Commission's work was deliberate, exhaustive, and grounded in professional expertise. It brought together prosecutors, defense councils, judges, law enforcement officers, legal scholars, and community stakeholders to examine our criminal laws from top to bottom. The recommendations reflect real world challenges, ambiguities that hinder charging decisions, outdated definitions that fail to capture modern criminal conduct, procedural gaps that slow the administration of justice, and statutory inconsistencies that undermine fairness and predictability. The bill implements a portion of those recommendations by repealing provisions that no longer serve the needs of our community, amending others to ensure clarity, constitutionality, and contemporary relevance.

It is part of a broader effort to build a criminal code that is coherent, enforceable, and aligned with the realities our people face today. Today's hearing is an essential part of that process. We are here to listen to the legal practitioners who work with these statutes every day. To the agencies responsible for enforcement, to advocates, to survivors, and to members of the public who expect the justice system that is both fair and effective. Your testimony today will help us refine the measure and ensure that the reforms we advance are grounded in lived experiences and professional insight.

I want to thank the Commission for its years of dedicated work and I extend my gratitude to all who have submitted written testimony or are here to speak today. Your participation strengthens the integrity of this process and ensures that the laws we enact reflect the needs and values of the people of Guam. So, as we approach this hearing, I ask that we approach it with respect, patience, and a shared commitment to improving public safety and justice to our island. The work before us is not merely technical. It is foundational. It shapes how we protect our community, how we uphold our rights, and how we ensure accountability. Si Yu'os ma'åse' and I look forward to your testimony. Thank you very much.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Si Yu'os ma'åse' Speaker. I'd also like to recognize those senators who just joined us, former Speaker and Senator Therese Terlaje. Thank you for being here. And Senator Gumataotao, thank you. And at this time, we're very anxious to hear from the Judiciary and those who put this bill together, created legislation that would help everyone on this island and to understand the law completely. So, at this time, I'd like to recognize the honorable Chief Justice Katherine Marman. You are now recognized, ma'am.

Honorable Chief Justice Katharine Maraman, Judiciary of Guam: Thank you, Madam Chair. I'd also recognize my colleague, Associate Justice Robert Torres, who's present. Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony on Bill number 317-38. The bill was recommended by the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission, which serves as a division of the Supreme Court of Guam. It is chaired by Magistrate Jonathan Quan and administered by Executive Director Attorney Serge Quenga.

I would like to thank Speaker Frank Blas for his leadership in establishing the CLRC through Public Law 36-119, enacted on November 09, 2022.

Since its creation, the CLRC has undertaken a comprehensive review of Guam's criminal laws, completing an extensive examination of more than half of the chapters of Title 9, which is our criminal and correctional code. As a result of that work, the CLRC now recommends amendments to this code. This effort represents a significant undertaking requiring substantial research, legal analysis, and collaboration with each of the subcommissions. I commend Magistrate Quan, Executive Director Quenga, and the members of the Commission for their dedication and commitment to this important work. Their efforts have produced thoughtful recommendations aimed at improving Guam's criminal justice system. The CLRC members meet regularly and continue to provide updates on their work which have been sent to the Legislature and available on our Judiciary website.

The Commission is composed of attorneys from the Guam Bar Association, full-time and retired judicial officers, directors of government criminal justice and p public safety agencies, and private individuals from community-based and public interest organizations relating to the criminal justice system. All members in their respective roles have contributed to the Commission by drawing on their professional experience and expertise. As a result, the Commission has gathered recommendations representing a broad spectrum of the Community, enriched by diverse perspectives and invaluable insights. I extend my immense gratitude to these individuals for their time, diligence, and dedication while leading the development of this effort.

I am confident that the Commission will continue to provide valuable guidance as it completes its review of the remaining provisions of Title 9, the Criminal Procedure Code in Title 8, and the Criminal Jury Instructions to be promulgated by the Supreme Court. I also extend my appreciation to the Legislature for its continued support and funding of the CLRC's work. The CLRC still has important work ahead, and support from the Legislature and the Judiciary remains essential to ensuring the successful completion of its mission and the continued improvement of our justice system.

While I will not comment on the specific recommendations contained in this measure, the Judiciary supports the work and purpose of the Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission and respectfully asks for your favorable consideration of the bill.

Thank you, Madame Chair and members of the Committee for the opportunity to provide testimony and express our support for this measure.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Si Yu'os ma'åse' CJ. I also would like to recognize Justice Torres. I know you're not written on here, but would you like to say anything?

Honorable Associate Justice Robert J. Torres, Judiciary of Guam: I'm going to defer to the Chief Justice. I'm just here to provide support or if there's answer questions, if there's a need.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Well, thank you for being here in support. Thank you. Next, I would like to call on Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan. You are recognized, sir.

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: Good morning. Thank you, Madam Chair. If we could put up the first slide. My name is Jonathan Quan. I am a Magistrate Judge for the Superior Court of Guam and the current Chairman of the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission. I present this testimony on behalf of the Commission. The Commission thanks this Committee for the opportunity to testify on Bill 317-38. The bill represents an important step in the comprehensive review and modernization of Guam's criminal law envisioned by Public Law 36-119. The Commission's recommendations reflect extensive research, careful deliberation, and collective experience of the Commission members and volunteers from across Guam's criminal justice system. The testimony provides an overview of the Commission's mandate, membership, and work. It explains how recommendations were developed through sub-commission working sessions considered at public plenary meetings and approved for submission to the Legislature, and how Bill Number 317-38 incorporates all those recommendations.

Next slide, please. Beginning with a brief overview of the Commission's creation: the Legislature established the Commission in Public Law 36-119, enacted on November 9th, 2022. Then Senator, now Speaker, Frank Blas Jr. recognized the need for the first complete review of Guam's criminal and correctional code and Criminal Procedure Code since their adoption by the 13th Guam Legislature in 1976, nearly 50 years ago from today. Thank you, Speaker Blas for your foresight and your support through these years. In the 50 years since the adoption of the criminal law, criminal correctional code, in Public Law 13-185, many piecemeal amendments have been enacted, resulting in some unnecessary, duplicative, unclear, and overly broad laws and procedures. Public Law 36-119 brings together the key stakeholders and experts to review these laws and recommend necessary amendments and repeals.

The Commission consists of 15 voting members representing the three branches of government, the Guam Bar Association, criminal justice and public safety agencies, and community-based and public interest organizations. Its membership includes full-time and retired judicial officers and attorneys with prosecutorial and criminal defense experience. It is supported by a full-time executive director, one administrative assistant, one full-time research attorney, and two part-time research attorneys, along with volunteer attorneys and other stakeholders. Under the terms of our enabling law, we are established as a working Commission. Because of the diversity and depth of experience of our members, we believe our members are exceptionally qualified to review criminal statutes, develop proposed changes, deliberate on recommendations, and submit those recommendations for legislative action.

The Commission's work is divided among subject matter sub-commissions. Recommendations are developed in working sessions, debated in public plenary meetings, and then reconsidered for final approval prior to submission to this Body. The Commission's first report of legislative recommendations was its June 13, 2025 Interim Report covering 22 of the Title 9's 46 chapters. These recommendations are now contained in Bill 317-38 (COR).

I wish to be clear, the contents of this Bill 317-38 were provided to the Legislature on June 13, 2025. The Commission has been working very diligently and has not stopped. And since then has at this point almost completed all of Title 9 and are targeting completion of Title 8 by September 30th, 2027. We will be submitting all of the work by or shortly after that date. Under Public Law Number 36-119, the Commission operates as a division of the Supreme Court of Guam and receives administrative support from the Judiciary of Guam. The Commission is grateful to the justices of the Guam Supreme Court and the Office of the Administrative Courts for their support.

It is important to note that this Body provides sufficient funding for a full-time executive director, one administrative assistant, one full-time research attorney, and two part-time research attorneys. The Judiciary of Guam provides all of the equipment, supplies, utilities, workspace, technical support, computers, software, research software, and Administrative HR support. We are grateful to both for all that we have received.
On December 27th, 2022, then Chief Justice F. Philip Carbullido appointed a Commission chairperson and the executive director. The Commission formally began operations and held its initial plenary meeting on January 13, 2023.

Next slide, please. Turning now to our specific statutory mandates. Under Public Law 36-119, the Commission is mandated to review the criminal laws of Guam and to recommend enactments, amendments, and repeals to this Body. More specifically, the Commission must conduct a comprehensive and systematic review of the Guam Criminal Procedure Code codified in Title 8, the Guam Criminal Law and Correctional Code codified in Title 9, and other criminal laws outside of Title 8 and Title 9. The Commission is required to prioritize the review of criminal, and correctional code, and the focus of the sub-commissions has been on Title 9. The commission reports quarterly on its activities to update the Chief Justice, the Governor, and the Speaker.

Its final reports to the Legislature must include comprehensive recommendations and proposed legislations for Title 8 and Title 9 and other criminal law and procedure provisions. Public Law 36-119 sets out the standards for those recommendations, specifically to meet plain language, consistent definitions, express elements and mental states, reduced overlap and gaps among offenses, treatment of archaic and unused offenses, proportionate grading and penalties, logical organization, consideration of common law crimes and statutes held unconstitutional, and specific steps for implementation. After the comprehensive review is complete, the statute contemplates periodic review at least every 5 years subject to appropriation.

Next slide, please. Public law 36-119 provides for 15 voting members. The Chief Justice, the Governor, and the Speaker each appoint three members; one of whom must be a member of the general public with experience and interest in community-based or public interest criminal justice services. The Chief Justice's appointees who serve as Chair must be a judicial officer. These members currently are myself as a Chair, Attorney Randall Cunliffe, and Mr. Monte McDowell. The Governor's appointees currently are the Honorable Maria T. Cenzon, retired Judge Anita Sakola, and Miss Valerie Reyes. The Speaker's appointees are Attorney Philip Tydingco, Attorney Michael Phillips, and Attorney Christine Santos Tenorio.

Next slide, please. The President of the Guam Bar Association appoints two members. The Attorney General of Guam, the Executive Director of the Public Defender Service Corporation, the Chief of Police, and the Director of Corrections each serve or designate a representative. These current members are for the Guam Bar Association, Attorney Joseph B. Macdonald, and Attorney William B. Brennan. The Attorney General has designated Assistant Attorney General Richard Kim to serve. The Public Defender Service Corporation Executive Director has designated Attorney John Morrison to serve. The Guam Police Department has designated Sergeant Michael Elliot and the Director of Corrections has designated Major Anton F. Aguon. The Compiler of Laws and the Commission's Executive Director serve as Ex-Officio members without a vote.

Now senators, it became very clear very quickly that the mandated scope of work as set out by this Body was too great for the 15 statutory members, the majority of whom are volunteers. It is a testament to the members of the Guam Bar Association and the legal and law enforcement community that other volunteers have stepped forward to assist in this important work. The following individuals have answered the call and volunteered their time that are not statuary members. Current volunteers include Magistrate Judge Shawn Brown, former Administrator of the Courts Kristina Baird, Attorneys Mary Hill, Christine Borja, Zachary Taimanglo, Kat Siguenza, and Lenny Rapadas, all of whom have judicial, prosecutorial, or criminal defense expertise.

Volunteers also include Mike Quinata, the Parole Chief, Rosanna Villagomez-Aguon, the Probation Chief, Jeremiah Cruz, Probation Supervisor, and Kennedy Robinson and Dodd Mortera, both Deputy Marshals. These people have stepped forward above and beyond the statutory requirements from the community to serve. Past official voting members include the Honorable Elizabeth Barrett Anderson, retired Superior Court Judge, the Director of Corrections, Robert Camacho, Attorneys General designees; Assistant Attorney General, Marianne Woloschuk, Steven Cody, Nathan Tennyson, Emily Rees, Valerie Nuesa, and former Chief of Police designees; Lieutenant David Brantley, Major Manny Chong, and the late Lieutenant Ron Titano.

I would like to especially acknowledge the participation and work of retired Judge Barrett-Anderson, whose mother, the Honorable Concepcion Cruz Barrett, in the 13th Guam legislature, was the primary sponsor of Public Law 13-185, which adopted the Criminal and Corrections Code, now codified as Title 9, and which the Commission is now reviewing. Judge Barrett Anderson was the Governor's original appointee and served as the original Chair of the Drugs and Other Criminal Offenses sub-commission. Most original voting members continue to serve today providing continuity and contributing substantially to the commission's work.

Next slide, please. On sorry, next slide. One more. Thank you. on the division of chapters for review under public law 36119. Subcommissions were established to focus on different areas of law. Now, the members of the subcommissions were carefully selected and placed to ensure maximum vigorous debate. We attempted to place an equal number of former prosecutors, defense councils, and members of the local community organizations on each subcommission to ensure maximum vigorous debate. In retrospect, we may have done our jobs too well. Sometimes the debates are knockdown drag out affairs, but that is the way it needs to be to ensure that the viewpoints of both sides are heard, ultimately making a better product in the end.

Chairpersons were designated for each subcommission. The subcommissions are as follows: the Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons, the Subcommission on Crimes Relating to Property, the Subcommission on Drugs and Other Criminal Offenses, the Subcommission on Criminal Procedure, and we had to create with the volunteers an ad hoc Subcommission on Corrections Related Chapters. That ad hoc Commission has now been joined together with the Subcommission on Drugs and Other Criminal offenses. Members of each subcommission shown here were carefully and deliberately selected on their criminal law experience and ability to provide complimentary diverse perspectives. Subcommissions are also supported by several volunteer non-voting members who contribute to the review of the Guam criminal laws. Although non-voting volunteer members ensure vigorous debate and provide representative voices at the subcommission and plenary meetings. The volunteer non-voting members are identified in that slide.

Next slide, please. On the subcommission's work and review processes, chapters are assigned for review and discussion at the working sessions. Recommendations are developed and presented to the full Commission at plenary meetings. In conducting their work, subcommission members and volunteers rely heavily on their extensive experience with the Guam criminal laws. Each member has the opportunity to provide their critical experience and input on Guam's criminal laws. Guidelines for review are set forth in Public Law 36-119. They are followed. Working sessions may be in person, virtual, or hybrid or both. And we are only able to do that because of the expertise of the staff. They may also be done by correspondence in the exchange of draft comments by emails or other electronic means.

Reviewing statutes is very intensive and time consuming. Since Guam's criminal codes are based primarily on the Model Penal Code, members base their review on other MPC jurisdictions, particularly those cited in the source comments of the Guam statutes. In addition, review may be based on U.S. jurisdictions with recently reformed or revised criminal codes, such as Hawaii and the District of Colombia. District of Columbia members identify provisions that are archaic or unused, unconstitutional or inorganic based on subsequent Supreme Court Decisions or contain outdated language among other issues and propose recommendations to resolve each issue. Members may recommend amendments, repeal or no change.

Next slide, please. Subcommission recommendations are presented to the Plenary Commission in two review and approval processes. In the initial review process, subcommission recommendations are submitted to the plenary group for discussion by all the members and are approved by majority vote. If you have logged into our meetings on YouTube, what you are seeing are the work of the subcommissions that are then being debated by the Plenary Commission. If a recommendation is not approved, it is tabled for resolution of the issues at the subcommission level. We then, we functionally send it back. It is then presented again to the Commission for approval at a later date. All recommendations approved by the Commission in this initial process are subject, if necessary, to further review and refinement by subcommission members. In the final review process, recommendations are presented again to the Commission for final consideration of approval. So, the current bill you have in front of you has gone through that entire process from beginning to end.

Plenary meetings are called by the chair, must be held by law, must be held at least once every six months, and are subject to the Open Government Law. Members participate in person or by Zoom. Plenary agendas, meeting packets, and approved minutes are posted on the Commission's website, and recommendations approved at the plenary meetings are recorded in the minutes and in the Commission's quarterly reports, typically with the proposed statutory text and commission comments attached. Since its initial meeting on January 13, 2023, the Commission has held 20 plenary meetings, most recently on September 10th, 2026, far exceeding the statutory mandate of at least two per year. The subcommissions have collectively held more than 60 working sessions, 60, in addition to reviewing drafts and exchanging comments by email. Members often request legal research, statutory drafting assistance, and substantive participation by the Commission staff.

I would like to note for the record that for the last 18 months the CLRC has noted that you Madam Chair and your staff have attended every plenary meeting that has been held. We see your presence on Zoom and we have received helpful comments and questions after various meetings that have assisted us in ensuring we comply with our mandates. I would like to thank Madam Chair and her staff for their consistent participation, assistance, and unwavering support these last 18 years. Your presence at our meetings shows your continued interest in the Commission's work and support for and validation of our members' volunteer efforts. Thank you.

To keep the Guam Bar governmental entities, interested stakeholders, and the community at large informed of our work, all submissions, quarterly reports, reports to the legislature, plenary meeting recordings, agendas, packets, minutes, and resolutions are posted on the Commission website, which we could not do without the Judiciary's technical support.

Next slide, please. Having described our mandates, composition, and work processes, we support the passage of Bill Number 3317-38. The bill would adopt the recommendations in the interim report and the Notice of Errata and revisions attached as Exhibit A and B. These exhibits are necessary to preserve, memorialize, and include the Commission's work record on the recommendations in this bill. Bill 317 includes twenty-two (22) chapters listed here and three sections from title 10. Bill 317 also contains administrative and procedural provisions directing the Compiler of Laws to codify the reenacted chapters and permitting inclusion of explanatory comments, providing an effective date 90 days after enactment and expressly prohibiting retroactive effect.

Our review does not always result in a recommendation for change. We generally do not substantively review recently enacted laws. We also refrain from recommending changes when deliberations remain inconclusive or center on unresolved policy or political differences. We have been monitoring pending bills that would amend chapters included in Bill Number 317. We have identified two adjustments that are needed to update Bill 317 in light of our intervening legislative enactments and we have reported those adjustments to the Oversight Chair and her Committee.

Next slide, please. Moving forward, the Commission is committed to completing its comprehensive review of Guam's criminal law and procedures. Members devote substantial time to reviewing assigned chapters, developing recommendations, and participating in working sessions alongside their regular professional responsibilities. Their contributions reflect a strong commitment to public service. The Commission has completed a substantial portion of its review of Title 9 and continues to address the remaining chapters, Title 8 and other criminal law provisions within its statutory mandate. Through continued subcommission working sessions and public plenary deliberations, the Commission intends to complete its review by September 30th, 2027.

Next slide, please. In conclusion, I on behalf of the Committee, the Commission, want to thank Chief Justice Katherine Marman and the Administrator of Courts Danielle Rosetti for their steadfast administrative support, as well as former Chief Justice Robert Torres and former Chief Justice Philip Carbullido. We thank Speaker Frank Blas Jr., the sponsor of bill 317, Chairperson Telo Taitague and the members of this Committee for their support of our mission.

I and the Executive Director also are thankful for the work of our staff members in the Commission, Ms. Lisa Ibanez, Yusuke Haffeman-Udagawa, Gordon Anderson, and Andrew Serge Quenga, and the members of my staff, Curtis Aulerio, Sheila Sablan, Mave Santos, Deputy Marshal Dodd Morttera, Deputy Marshall Franklin Tenorio, and Deputy Marshall Alan Eckley Jr., as well as the Judiciary's IT staff and Jessica Perez Jackson for critical technology and YouTube support, which is foreign completely to me. The Commission and its staff are available to answer any questions you may have. Un dångkulu na Si Yu'os ma'åse'.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you, Judge Quan. Thank you so much. I'm looking at the spreadsheet here of those who are providing oral testimony. Some have marked off written testimony, but I noticed that Attorney Serve, you have not. Would you like to say a few words? You didn't write down oral testimony but I know you've been so instrumental. I've seen you at every meeting. Would you like to say a few words?

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes. Thank you, Madam Chair. It's wonderful to be here. Speaker Blas, Senator Gumataotao, and Senator Terlaje. Again, we are very happy to be before you presenting our work in Bill 317. And I don't think I need to go over everything that our chairman has mentioned or the thank yous, but I do want to say that Jonathan, Gerry and I have been with the Commission since the beginning. And we created everything from scratch; the work processes, the subcommission organization. Everything that we have done so far has been an amazing effort, taking a lot of time. And I really do want to thank Speaker Blas for the faith that he put in entrusting us to see this task through. The review of the Criminal and Correctional Code, which has not been touched in fifty (500 years comprehensively, has been a long time coming. The fifteen (15) voting members and numerous volunteers have spent countless hours, hundreds of hours of their own personal time away from their work and their families to research the law and come up with recommendations based on their own personal experiences and professional experiences.

The CRLC staff has worked tirelessly also to support that research in terms of getting into the nitty-gritty of looking at the Model Penal Code, various other jurisdictions, looking through the case law locally and nationally to see if anything affects the laws here. And then cross referencing the laws to make sure that whatever recommendations that are put forth are noted elsewhere so that we have a comprehensive understanding of what our recommendations are and how they are affecting other areas of law. So, I want to echo the thanks that our chairman has given to all the Judiciary staff and particularly, I need to thank legislative staff. Madame Chair, your presence at our meetings has been very, very heartening. It shows that the legislature is paying attention to our work. They're interested in our work and are right behind us in what we are doing. After all, we are a creature of the Legislature and we take our mandates and jobs very, very seriously.

Also, putting together Bill 317 was a collaborative effort. It was a monumental task and it involved all the members of the CLRC family as well as legislative staff from the Clerk's office to COR, to the staff in Speaker Blas' office. So, I just want to send a big shout out to those folks; Derek at the Speaker's office and Kamarin at COR for everything that they've done. Painstaking work in reviewing all of our amendments, the black lines, making sure that every period, every comma, every space is accounted for, all the formatting irregularities are accounted for, and that everything is where it should be. So, what you see before you in Bill 317 is the fruit of everyone's labor and we are, I am, very grateful. I'm sure the Chairman is also very grateful for the collaborative effort put forth by everyone. With that, I would ask respectfully that if …I know the written testimony has been submitted by several of our members, and if they are not present to deliver, I respectfully request that that the Compiler of Laws or I, or other persons on our Commission be allowed to read those testimonies into the record, if their authors are not present today. Again, thank you all very much for the opportunity to be here and to testify on Bill 317. And we're ready to answer any questions.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you so much, Serge. At this time, I think Phil Tydingco is coming up- speaking of other people who have testified, I'm going to go ahead and ask him to come up as well. He has a testimony he's going to read on behalf of Monte McDowell. Please take a seat. We have two more seats. Is there anybody else that is here to testify orally? Attorney Brennan, my procurement teacher, nothing? Okay, Fred, did you want to come up? Please come on up. If there's no one else, then I'm going to go straight to our Compiler of Law and ask her. Geraldine Cepeda, welcome. Thank you so much for being here.

And if you'd like to say a few words, and I believe you have some testimony to read into the record. Okay, please. You are recognized, ma'am.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: I do. Thank you, Madam Chair and Speaker, members of the Legislature for myself as Serge said, we will speak with one voice through the Commission testimony. But one thing I would like to emphasize with both Serge and myself as former compilers and the current compiler sitting on this commission as non- voting members, what I would like to emphasize is the process. What you have before you was the product of what you saw, a very deliberative process taking in minds and thoughts, input from members of the community who are most impacted by the laws. We have judges, attorneys, we have people who practice in the law privately as well as members from the legislature, from the community, from law enforcement agencies. This is a process that was well thought out. And what we have before you are recommendations based on our mandate. So, I would ask that you keep that in mind. This is not a substantive review by the non-voting members. This is a review by members that have been appointed by the three branches as well as the Guam Bar Association. So, I can't speak more than to say this process has been very well thought out and deliberative. Thank you.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you so much. And at this time, I'd like to recognize Phil Tydingco.

Phillip J. Tydingco, Esq., Guam Legal Services Corporation: Buenas yan Hafa adai Speaker Blas, Chairwoman Taitague, Senator Terlaje, and Senator Gumataotao. It's my honor and privilege to deliver this written testimony put together by Mr. Monty McDowell, who was a community member of the Commission. I also was a member of the Commission. My name is Phil Tydingco of Guam Legal Services Corporation.

[Reads Testimony of Monty McDowell into the record]

Hafa adai Chairperson Taitague and Honorable Senators: This is from Mr. M. Monty McDow]. I respectfully submit this testimony in strong support of Bill No. 317-38 (COR). I am Monty A. McDowell, CEO/Principal Broker of Advance Management, Inc., and a Member of the Law Review Committee. Having participated in this work, I urge you to move these recommendations from review to enactment for the benefit of the people of Guam.

A Public Mandate Backed by Dedicated Service: Public Law 36-119 established the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission to undertake a comprehensive review of criminal and criminal procedure codes adopted in 1976. Bill No. 317-38 provides a vehicle for acting on completed recommendations involving 22 chapters of Title 9 and related provisions of Title 10. The Legislature called for meaningful review; it should now give that work meaningful effect.

This was not simply an editing exercise. The review brought together judicial officers, attorneys with prosecution and defense experience, public safety representatives, and community members. Recommendations were developed through subcommission work and presented at public Commission meetings. That combination of legal knowledge, practical experience, and community perspective deserves serious consideration.

I particularly wish to recognize the numerous Guam attorneys who have volunteered their time and expertise while carrying demanding professional responsibilities. They contributed valuable knowledge to a difficult undertaking for the good of our island. Their service reflects a commitment to something larger than any individual practice or personal interest: a better system of justice for Guam.

As a participant, I am proud of this effort and grateful to those who made it possible. The case for passage is not simply that volunteers worked hard; it is that this work offers a substantial opportunity to improve the laws on which our community depends. The most meaningful recognition of that service is to put sound recommendations to work.

Better laws for a safer, fairer Guam: The review has examined outdated language and provisions that may be unclear, unused, or legally problematic. In my judgment, addressing these weaknesses can help law enforcement identify applicable offenses, help prosecutors and defense attorneys understand the legal requirements of a case, and help courts apply the law consistently. Victims, witnesses, and families deserve a process that is not burdened by avoidable confusion. People accused of crimes are equally entitled to clear legal standards and due process.

Public safety and fairness are not opposing goals; they are obligations of the same justice system. Our laws should protect people from harm, hold offenders appropriately accountable, respect individual rights, and support confidence in the administration of justice. Modernization should advance those goals together. As a business leader and real estate professional, I also believe that safe neighborhoods and dependable legal institutions are essential to the well-being of our employees, families, property owners, and customers. This is not a matter affecting attorneys alone. It concerns the quality of life in every village.

Turn completed work into meaningful results: A report, however thoughtful, does not change the law. Unless these recommendations are enacted, the community cannot receive the full benefit this review was intended to deliver. The issue is not merely whether our work is acknowledged; it is whether that work produces meaningful improvements for the people we serve. Bill No. 317-38 represents an important completed stage of a broader review, not the end of all criminal law reform. Further work should build upon this progress. Any concerns about particular provisions should be identified specifically and addressed promptly with the Commission. Careful scrutiny and decisive action are not mutually exclusive. Please resolve necessary corrections without allowing worthwhile reform to stall indefinitely.

I respectfully urge this Committee to report Bill No. 317-38 (COR) favorably, the Legislature to pass it, and the Governor to sign it into law. Guam asked for this review. Dedicated professionals and community members answered that call. Now is the time to translate their service into lasting public benefit.

Si Yu'os Ma'ase' for your consideration and service to our island.

Very Respectfully Submitted
Monty A. McDowell, CEO Principal Broker, Advanced Management Inc., Member, Law Review Committee.

And my oral testimony here is, "What he said." Thank you.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you so much, Attorney Tydingco. Next, I would like to recognize the former Chief of Police and Director of DOC and what else is there?

Fred Bordallo Jr., Former Director, DOC: Former Director of Veterans Affairs, too.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: That's right. Veterans Affairs. I missed that one.

Fred Bordallo Jr., Former Director, DOC: Good morning, Senator Taitague, and Senator Terlaje, Speaker Frank Blas Jr., and Senator Gumataotao.

First of all, I want to thank Serge for inviting me here because as I was participating in this Commission, review Commission. There were interesting conversations that were had. One of the first ones I remember is that they were discussing, and it's not in this chapter, not in legislation, but they were talking about the work credit program; those 40 hours of work that the inmates do outside the prison, they get one day after sentence. And then I brought up the question about those inmates that have the skills that are working in the prison that are not allowed to go outside because of security reasons? Would they get one day after sentence if they're working 40 hours of working and improving the prison's infrastructure? And then that question was raised and it started some real good discussion of a lot of work that probably is going to be needed.

I support this legislation and of course work still continues in terms of possible revisions that are going to be necessary, especially on the area of the Corrections because it's been an issue that has been discussed even in some public hearings. And what's not indicated on the recommendations here in the provisions, that they do in the states in terms of some of the statutes, is what defines what a prison penitentiary is versus what a jail or detention facility is.

And Speaker Blas, you remember when we were in the Guam Police Department, the Guam Police Department was solely responsible for the Hagåtña lockup and the detention. And the prison was the Department of Corrections, they were responsible for the prison, for those serving time and then could be eligible for rehabilitation programs. Two different sorts of clients, right?

What has basically happened is that the jail, the Hagåtña jail somehow, and I've tried to research any public hearing or executive order, and there was no executive order or public hearing that transferred the Hagåtña lock up- the jail- to the Department of Corrections. And so, this is the opportunity that when we have this Commission and we go through some of the follow-up kind of discussions, there's one area where they indicated Manet Guerrero when they transferred and created a Department of Corrections. Of course, you know, public safety was split. Fire departments became themselves; Guam Police Department became themselves, right? And handling the lockup. But things have changed especially when it comes down to the challenges of having pre-trial detainees, over 300 of them up there at the Department of Corrections in dome tents. The big challenge is segregation issues, even women. Because as we talked today, transporting women, some of them are riding with the men as they're going into court. That is another challenge because it's not supposed to be co-ed.

So, what I want to point out is basically just some terms to consider as we move forward, and the Commission moves forward, and the Legislature moves forward with this bill. One of the uh areas there is the definition of a detainee that is indicated into this bill. It indicates, if you look at page 206, a detainee is defined as someone under the custody of the Department of Corrections. An inmate who has been convicted is under the custody of the Department of Corrections. A prisoner is both an inmate or a detainee under the custody of the Department of Corrections. They don't say or the Guam Police Department should something happen to the Department of Corrections in some black swan event at the Department of Corrections. You know, you always talk about continuity of operations. What's our support should something happen at the Department of Corrections? So, thinking more about this is, what States define what detainees are. First, they actually look at what a facility is. What are they functioning as? So, in some of this legislation they will say a jail is defined as a place where you hold pre-trial detainees. At the most, maybe a person serving one year. After that, if it's going to be longer than one year, they go to a state penitentiary or a state prison. So, defining the facilities first, should be ongoing discussions. What is a jail versus what is a penitentiary?

Then the second thing of course is, now that you know what a jail's purpose is, what a purpose of a jail is or the purpose of a state penitentiary, now you can look at; do we put 300 pre-trial detainees into a state penitentiary that we just defined as, a person, as a facility really meant for rehabilitation and long-term clients serving, some of the most dangerous individuals serving triple murders. Do we make it into where the police bring their DUI offender and put them up there next to, within the vicinity of these convicted individuals serving a long time. The second aspect of this bill that I remember is that it calls for an Annual Corrections Officer Cycle. And you know, Senator, Chairperson of public safety is always interested to look at how you are doing with your recruitment of your manpower and everything else. But if you limit it to just corrections officers as the annual cycle, the Department of Corrections has staffing. Were allowed to hire detention facility guards. As a matter of fact, there are three detention facility guards and two detention leaders currently under the staffing pattern of the Guam Police Department working up in Sinajaña, a mile away from where the corrections detention facilities are at. They're not doing any detention security operations. So, what we would do is should those three detention officers and that two detention leaders be transferred over to the Department of Corrections where the real work is being done, those are those are redundant functions that are taking place. They just book and process but they don't do any detention facility security duties.

The purpose of me entering this into the record is because there's so much work to do when it comes down to the correctional system we have. I worked in the correctional system in the military where, you haven't been court marshaled, you haven't been adjudicated, then you're going to be in our correctional detention center. But once you're convicted, you're going to serve hard labor for the military. And you know, Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan knows this because he's been in the military. We transfer you to Kansas where you're going to actually do your long-term sentences. And I believe wholeheartedly, senators, Speaker, that this correctional system in Guam needs to recognize that that's the way we operate in the mainland, then we can emulate that here to make our island safer, if we operate in that kind of managed correctional system.

The last area here in this provision, it called for the Modernization Act and it indicated on the Modernization Act that the challenges of the Department of Corrections has always been an overpopulation of inmates and detainees. But I don't think that was true. I think in the Modernization Act, the really crucial overpopulation is the jail because the highest population we have in the Department of Corrections is the pre-trial detainees. There's over 500 of them, right? And there's only about 300 to 400 convicted inmates. So, what I'm getting at is the Modernization Act is completely different from that Facility Master Plan. They said that they were considering an 80-year Facility Master Plan, where that Facility Master Plan was only done in 2020, COVID. And it was only for several months. It wasn't years of planning on that Facility Master Plan. And it did call for a jail/prison up there in Mangilao. And it did all for closing the Hagåtña Detention Facility, which to me is problematic because you transferred an additional 200 pre-trial detainees to Mangilao. We're going to have a situation where the rehabilitation programs are going to be disrupted up there. So hopefully, you know, as a community here and you hearing my remarks being entered into the record, that we really consider distinguishing between what that Facility Master Plan is as opposed to what the Modernization Act was proposing in terms of legislation that was signed at the law.

And that's all I have to say in terms of… Again, I support this Legislation. But at the same time, there's work to do to look at some of these provisions that I just finished mentioning. Thank you.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you, Mr. Bordallo. And yes, absolutely. This is just part one. We're waiting on part two, and if possible, there may be a part three to this. But thank you so much for testifying. I'd just like to recognize Mr. McDowell who's here. We read your testimony. Phil did a great job and he said ditto on his behalf too, on your testimony. But thank you so much for being here and then the work you've done on this Commission.

Monty McDowell, Community Member, Law Review Committee: Thank you, Senator. You know, we're just here to Tell it to Telo.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Yes, and expect results. Thank you so much. With that being said, if there's no other individual who'd like to come up and testify orally, I'm going to turn it over to us. We're going to ask some questions. There are a few things. The author of the bill asked to go last. So, before we begin though, I'd like to put certain things into the record so that we ensure it goes into the committee report and so that those senators that are not here today will be able to hear what we were talking about today, and some of the amendments that we already are going to make once we go into a markup meeting with my office, which every senator is invited to participate in as well.

So, just to note again as Judge Quan mentioned, on October 2nd, 2026, the CLRC notified the Committee that two laws that were just enacted after the CLRC submitted the report. So, I just want to place this into the record. To update the bill, we will be making changes to:

- 9 GCA § 25.25- Third Degree Criminal Sexual Conduct (Bill 317, Section 11, pp. 41–42): Replace Bill 317's version with the language enacted by P.L. 38-083 (Dec. 20, 2025). The newer law adds Aggravated Third-Degree Criminal Sexual Conduct, including circumstances involving force/coercion, an offender more than five years older than the victim, a position of authority or supervision, or a prior criminal-sexual-conduct conviction. It makes the aggravated offense a first-degree felony with 12–25 years' imprisonment and also includes a close-in-age mitigation provision for qualifying consensual conduct.

The second one was:

- 9 GCA § 55.75- Tampering with Customs and Quarantine Agency Seals (Bill 317, Section 22, after § 55.65, p. 151): Add the new offense enacted by P.L. 38-136:XII:67 (Aug. 4, 2026). It makes it a third-degree felony to intentionally break, remove, or alter a Customs and Quarantine Agency seal placed on a container or cargo before its official release from Customs custody.

Also, it hasn't been passed yet, but we have a good review that it will pass, and it will get to us before this bill gets to the session. Another bill, Bill 338-38 (COR), which is "AN ACT TO ADD A NEW § 10115 TO ARTICLE 1 OF CHAPTER 10, TITLE 12, GUAM CODE ANNOTATED AND A NEW § 70.470 TO ARTICLE 4 OF CHAPTER 70, TITLE 9, GUAM CODE ANNOTATED, RELATIVE TO PROHIBITING UNAUTHORIZED UNMANNED AIRCRAFT OPERATIONS AT DESIGNATED PORT AUTHORITY OF GUAM PROTECTED CRITICAL INFRASTRUCTURE FACILITIES AND ESTABLISHING PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS THEREOF."

It's again currently in the voting file for this September Regular Session and may be passed into law before the bill is placed on the next session agenda. The Committee will monitor this, and we will also incorporate that as an amendment. I know while you were working on it certain bills were passed and we're trying to play catch up here. And hopefully we'll do that in the markup meeting. Okay. You know, Judge, you definitely went through the history of this legislation and what was involved. I do have a lot of things like Chapter One; Preliminary Provisions and Definitions; what changes were made, modernizing the basic rules governing Title 9 is interpreted. I have all the way down to chapter, because we went through the bill, all the way down to Chapter 91 and then Title 10 Health and Safety, Chapter 60 Firearms. We went into military grace periods. I'm going to save that for the session floor. To let some of my colleagues understand what those changes were made, however, I have some questions that may help them to understand what the real stickler ones are that they might have questions on.

So, for the record, can the Commission clearly identify the provisions in Bill 317 that make substantive changes to current law as opposed to technical, organizational or conforming changes? Would you like me to repeat it?

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes, please.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: So, for the record, can the Commission clearly identify which provisions in Bill 317 make substantive changes to current law as opposed to technical and any conforming changes, or organizational- just the real substantive changes.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes, Madam Chair, we can certainly provide that to you by next week. If that's okay.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Okay. Yes, and please send it to all senators.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Okay.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: You know, so they know, not just myself. I'd like them to really understand because that's really important. It's voluminous, as you know, the bill. And it helps them pinpoint those real substantive ones. Okay, are there any provisions that change the elements of an offense; an available defense, level offense, sentencing, exposure, agency authority, or legal rights that the Committee should specifically scrutinize before reporting out the bill?

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes, Madam Chair. We have a number of amendments that are recommended for many of those same issues that you have identified. And we can insert that, include that into the review of the substantive changes to the sections. We have spreadsheet upon spreadsheet that we should be able to get this information fairly quickly.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Okay. The other one is in § 90.26 relative to DOC correctional healthcare appears to go beyond code cleanup by establishing responsibilities for DOC, GMHA and GBHWC and requiring advance quarterly allotments for correctional healthcare. What specific problem was the Commission trying to solve, and did DOC, GMHA, GBHWC, BBMR and DOA participate in developing or reviewing this funding mechanism?

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes. Can I ask Gerry Cepeda to address this?

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: Thank you, Madam Chair. That's an excellent question. I would, because at the time when we worked on Chapter 90, the Chair was former Judge Elizabeth Barrett Anderson. And during her time as the Attorney General, and during her time as former Attorney General, and then during her chairship of the Drugs and Other Criminal Offenses, she focused specifically on Chapter 90, and that was in part due to the Consent Decree and the litigation. So, this was actually legislation that had initially been introduced or sought to be introduced at separate legislation during prior legislative terms that she saw the opportunity. And actually, it was a nice confluence of time to include it in the Criminal Law Revision Commission review of Chapter 90 because this was something that had already been a product of litigation. That's the genesis of that particular provision.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Okay. So just for the record, for this particular section the Commission recommended mandatory advanced quarterly allotments GMH. But did they consult with DOC? Did they consult with BBMR regarding this? Because this is almost like an appropriation, something that should have been left to the Legislature who handles the budget, to determine what allotments are going through. So, um I do hear you and I understand that she did try to get it through legislation, but it obviously did not get through. So, placing it in here is something that we looked at and thought it might have been a little bit far reaching. The proposed language requires advanced quarterly allotments and a dedicated payment structure to prevent delayed payments and pharmaceutical credit holds. So, this is substantial.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: It is understood on that point and also uh this is a recommendation to the Legislature. Again, this was, I guess the most I could say is aspirational. And to hope that you there would be the opportunity for her to address concerns that had come up during her time as Attorney General and during her time chairing the Commission. I'm not sure if you would like to speak on that.

Fred Bordallo Jr., Former Director, DOC: I just want to say that when we had our meetings with GMH with the Administrator, and also with the Guam Behavioral Health, that I briefed them and we indicated to them there was a move to codify it into law not just our MOU. You know, because we work on a tri-MOU with GMH and behavioral health to provide services. But they were given the heads up that the Commission was looking to codify that interaction and the commitments to ensure because of what had happened in the receivership and what had happened in the past. So, the Administrator of GMH was well aware, and I believe the Director of behavioral health was aware that this would be codified, and if they wanted to have input, they would easily be able to provide input on those provisions.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you Fred for that. Thank you. The other question I have is where the Commission recommends repealing an offense or statutory provision because it is duplicative, obsolete and unnecessary, has the Commission confirmed that the conduct or protection remains adequately addressed elsewhere in Guam law? And can you identify any repeal in Bill 317 that would actually narrow criminal liability, eliminate a remedy, reduce penalty, or change an existing protection? Do you know anything offhand? Again, these questions, of course, I know they're extensive and you can also include that to your list.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: We can do that. There are so many recommendations and sections covered that my mind is kind of swimming through everything, fitting the examples that you're…

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Serge, can you bring the microphone just a little closer to you.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Right, so I think the difficulty is in identifying off the top of our heads what sections are applicable, or that the examples you're mentioning are applicable to the recommendations. But we can try to include that in our review of the substantive changes. But I will say it that when the subcommission examines a criminal statute and reviews it for redundancies, or inadequacies, or whatever else recommendation it wants to put forth, it does so look at the entire section, neighboring sections, and any other sections that affect it, cross referencing back and forth all these different sections. So, there's a thorough review not just by Commission members but by CLRC staff to ensure that the corrections or the recommendations they're making are consistent with other sections.

And so, the comments that we've offered in the Interim Report allude to those things. We also referred to the minutes, and if necessary, we can actually put up the transcripts for those meetings to determine what the subcommission members or the plenary commission members were discussing at that particular time. So, we can actually get to whatever issue you want us to identify.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Okay. A lot of it is like… You know, the question basically is that the statutory provisions were duplicated, right? You know, let us know as your review of the chapter. Again, repealing an offense that's needed.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes, we will do that.

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: If I could, what is causing us difficulty is that what you have before you are the snapshot up until June 2025. We have; the Commission has done significant substitute work since then. So, in our minds, we can't off the cuff right now give you what was pre and what was done already. It's all one big group to us. So, we need time to parse that out to answer your question.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: I appreciate that. Okay, these questions will help a lot of my colleagues to pinpoint areas of concern. Bill 317 makes changes based in part on provisions the Commission believes are unconstitutional, including the concealed-carry 'exceptional cause' requirement in 10 GCA § 60109. Has the Commission obtained legal analysis confirming that the proposed replacement language itself complies with current constitutional law?

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes, that was part of the, has been part of the overview of each individual section. And that particular section in 10 GCA, the recommendation there was put forth by Phil Tydingco, who is not here unfortunately. Phil, can you address that?

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Phil you want to come up and address that please? So, oh no, please, you have to come up to the… Yeah. I'm sure Monty will share his microphone with you. Okay. So, Phil Tydingco.

Phillip J. Tydingco, Esq., Guam Legal Services Corporation: So, a lot of the input, just to give a little context, we had a lot of practitioners also, and then people who are aware of particular Supreme Court cases that have come down and effect our statutes, would raise that. And then we would also… I believe the Commission also had on contract other lawyers who would do the analysis constitutionally or statutorily or statute construction wise, and look at case law. And so those provisions that we believe were impacted by certain Supreme Court Decisions, either Guam Supreme Court or the U.S. Supreme Court were addressed and worked into the proposed changes. And so that's sort of my general response to your question. And ultimately the answer is, yes. We had legal analysis conducted and especially from the viewpoint of practitioners. It's kind of like using the medical model. You would like the clinicians to tell you what's happening in real life, in the real world before the courts as well as what's on the face of the statue, which is kind of theoretical. But those who have experience in court uh practicing and having to deal with, for example, jury instructions that are defining these terms would raise that. And we had really great input from many of the members, especially from the Criminal Defense Bar that raised these issues.

And so, in other words, the input was a combination of both legal research and scholarly research as well as the experience of… If you add up all the attorneys, a thousand years of attorney experience was examining this. So, I would say that's the context in which you should rely on this. And of course, the most valuable input I thought was coming from the community members who kept us focused with common sense. So, I think it was a good balance and that would be my best response, Madam Chair.

Monty McDowell, Community Member, Law Review Committee: I'd like to chime in that as a layman, because my degree and Masters are in engineering. So, it was a very enlightening experience. But these practitioners that they had on contract, I guess they were on contract across the nation. We were basically allowed to drop a lot of these things in their lap. While they investigated multiple states of how they handled this similar thing, put it all in a beautiful matrix, compared it to each other. Well, we went back to work and we came back for our next meeting and they had it all logically laid out, and trials that have been conducted, and rules that have been made or changed or whatever, and so we could make a very logical choice that didn't bring any gray area or violations of law into our system. We wanted to bring it up. It was very rewarding to be a part of a committee composed of people like Phil. I was with Bucky Brennan, and Randy Cunliff. What a group, just dynamic with years of experience. And I have had contracts across the nation and had to unfortunately hire attorneys across the nation, and at many times, the cost I paid for an attorney hour here in Guam. And I would compare that our attorneys aren't just comparable but are head and shoulders more versed in the law than any of those people that I paid astronomical amounts of money for. The people of Guam are going to benefit greatly with the passage of Bill 317-38.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you so much Mr. McDowell. So, with those questions that I asked earlier, I hope we can get some of those answers. But I have one more question and it is for the record. Once Bill 317 is enacted, the question is what remains unfinished in the Commission's review of Title 9? And are there chapters or subjects still under substantive review that may require additional legislation? And does anything in Bill 317 potentially overlap with the ongoing work?

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: So, as I said, we haven't stopped working after the submission of that Interim Report. So currently, as of now there are ten (10) Chapters in Title 9 that are scheduled to be brought before the Plenary Commission. There are remaining seven (7) in Title 9 currently being reviewed by the subcommissions now. So, at this point functionally, Title 9 is all reviewed. So, ten (10) are going to come to us for vote and another seven (7) are being hashed out right now at the subcommission level.

In reference to Title 8, the two research attorneys plus Attorney Yusuke Haffeman-Udagawa, as well as the Executive Director and myself, and the Compiler have gone through eight already. So, we have looked at the thirty-five (35) chapters in Title 8. Of the thirty-five (35) chapters, it is going to be our recommendation that eighteen (18) fall under the purview of the Supreme Court as Supreme Court rules. So, we're going to recommend that it be sent to the Supreme Court because it's really rules based as opposed to procedure. That leaves seventeen (17) chapters of the thirty-five (35) for the Commission to review. Hence, our timeline looks like we'll be completed by 30th September.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: I'm sorry, the last completed by what?

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: By the 30th September, 2027.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: 2027, yeah. I'm a timeline kind of girl. So, that was a question I was going to ask you. So, we can anticipate that. Okay. That being said, thank you so much. Serge, do you want to add anything to that?

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes, just to add on to what the Chairman said, as we're going through the remaining chapters in Title 9, we do as part of our process cross reference other titles. That will include everything in Bill 317 just to ensure that there are no conflicting recommendations. And we will reconcile whatever we find to be conflicting to ensure that we're as close as possible to consistency among all the chapters that are reviewed.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you so much. And we do know there is some type of overlap that may happen down the line that you have to go back into Title 9. But we can do that in your next phase. So, I appreciate it. And that being said, thank you for answering my questions. I'd like to turn it over now to Senator Terlaje. You are now recognized.

Senator Therese M. Terlaje, Co-Chairperson: I want to thank all of you for all of your work and all of the other members of the Commission who are not here today. It's great work. So, I'm trying to follow. The report has the version that has the CLRC comments, which is very helpful. But I'm very glad that the Chairperson asked the question, if we could get the list of the substantive changes. That would very much help us, and I think that would be really the core of any debate here. I would really prefer that it be a public presentation. It's really the public that needs to know what might be changed by this bill and of course practitioners. But, the public especially. And I recognize that some of these, for example, the firearms, the comment says the exceptional cause requirement has been found to be unconstitutional. And then you put the case name, which is helpful. But I'm just curious if there's any dimension of that that is still open. We didn't read the cases. Do they say any requirement is unlawful or which part of this requirement is unlawful? That type of thing. So, I guess when we come back for the discussion on the substantive changes, we can maybe just hear a little bit more. We'd be able to pinpoint the ones we want to ask just a little bit more on.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes.

Senator Therese M. Terlaje, Co-Chairperson: But so yes, Madam Chair. All your questions, I thought were excellent. I just want to hear what the substantive changes are. I want the public to hear those so that we know when we pass this bill, we are actually passing substantive changes to these laws. So, again, thank you for all your work. It sounds like you have a really set schedule going forward to review the rest of the chapters. I appreciate your pace and hopefully this will all be done. I'm looking forward to that. Si Yu'os ma'åse' again to all of you.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you, Senator Terlaje. And yes, I actually have a date that I have set aside just in case this was going to take long because it is a huge bill. So, October 22nd. What I will be doing is recessing this hearing until October 22nd to provide the information from the questions that we had and any other additional substantive changes that actually need to be discussed in public, so people know what those changes are. So, just FYI, October 22nd. I'm not sure of the date yet. I mean, the time. 9:00 a.m.? Okay, I will recess until that time. But at this time, I'd like to recognize Senator Gumataotao for any questions he may have.

Senator Eulogio Shawn Gumataotao: Yes. Thank you, Madam Chair, and thank you to the panel for being with us. Chief Justice Maraman, great to see you as well as Justice Torres and Judge Quan. I'm going to limit my questions to my current role as the public safety chair. Recognizing that the proposed amendments to certain laws governing DOC eliminate the Corrections Advisory Council which exist at least on paper to provide advice to the DOC Director, to what extent did the Commission, including its Subcommission on Drug and Other Offenses, consider modifying the DOC Director qualification to align more closely to those established for the Chief of Police and the Guam Fire Department, which at a minimum require candidates to hold an undergraduate degree and at least ten (10) years of experience in their respective fields, including supervisory or management responsibilities?

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: Thank you for that question. Again, we worked on Chapter 90 as one of the first tackles for our committee. And for [Chapter] 90 actively involved were at the time, former Director Robert Camacho as well as Anton Aguon. We had strong representation. In fact, we had our meetings at DOC in Mangilao, and they had strong input into that which of course, we deferred to them in terms of their suggestions. So, if it was considered, we did hash it out at the subcommittee level. Again, this was 2023. So, I'd have to go back and look at exactly what the discussion was. But I do know that there was active discussion by the representatives of the subcommission at the time.

Senator Eulogio Shawn Gumataotao: All right. Thank you so much, Gerry. I heard it earlier, but I just want to double check for the record. Did DOC, the Commission or relevant subcommission engage BBMR, DOA, GMHA the Guam Behavioral Health and Wellness Center on these and other fiscal related proposals to DOC's statute? And did the proponents consider drafting policies that would address instances wherein allotments are not made in advance as required or are insufficient to cover actual costs during a fiscal quarter due to unanticipated utilization rate? I understand that this had a lot to do with previous policy that the former Attorney General had brought. But again, did you all engage?

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: Other than the representations made by former Director Bordallo in terms of the subcommission reaching out to BBMR, we did not in terms of this legislation. If it had come up in its prior iteration as a bill or as a draft bill, it may have occurred at that time. But for the purposes of Bill 317, we did not for this particular new provision for correctional medical centers, not for this bill and not during our discussion.

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: To be clear, as I understand it, I wasn't at the subcommission level. As I understand it, Judge Barrett Anderson and that team specifically engaged GMH and Guam Behavioral Health, as well as DOC. They were involved actively. I do not believe that BBMR or DOA was a consultant.

Senator Eulogio Shawn Gumataotao: Look, because I did speak to her about the policy and so she did tell me that she did engage. But I wanted to make sure that you all in terms of what you testified today, you said that you know you did not. I just want to make sure that somebody is engaged because I know there's no, I didn't see the fiscal note either. So, go ahead, Serge. I'm sorry. Go ahead.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes. Thank you, Senator. We'll go back and review the record on the Correctional Medical Clinics. But if I am recalling correctly, those medical clinics were the subject of a Consent Decree case at the District Court many, many years ago. And I believe it was Judge, Attorney General Barrett Anderson who finally reached resolution with the District Court. And I believe an executive order was executed by the Governor creating Correctional Medical Clinics at the Department of Correction. And that was the only way I think the Consent Decree was actually satisfied and then lifted. And so, the intent of the Correctional Medical Clinics section of law was to permanently codify those Correctional Medical Clinics. So, much of the language that was taken and placed into that section was taken or had its genesis in the executive order. But again, we will go back and review everything and put it in our listing and report of the substantive changes to the law.

Senator Eulogio Shawn Gumataotao: And now Serge, I mean, I appreciate that. I think that this was so much work done and I mean it didn't just take 50 years to get here for nothing. I just understand that you would have engaged. And again, in my discussions with her especially about this particular part of the code, because when I first became Public Safety Chair when the report was issued, she engaged me on this. We spent a significant amount of time going over it. I just wanted to make sure for the record, for this particular public hearing, that that was out there.

If I can, I only have one more question, Madam Chair. The bill is drafted to eliminate sections of the Prison Industries statute assigning a percentage of the earnings to the Criminal Injuries Compensation Fund, Prison Industries Revolving Fund, restitution, and an inmates account. Can the Commission or the subcommission explain the reason for these proposed amendments and confirm whether the DOC Director will be required to develop rules and regulations to help manage the Prison Industries Program?

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes. We've been talking about not only the prison industries uh that section in Chapter 90 which was recommended for repeal but other sections that are in Chapter 80 that cover other inmate work programs. The difficulty that the Department has had, and this is a firsthand information from the directors that have been on our Commission and also Major Anton Aguon, is that the Department has not had the wherewithal to form or to create the execute the prison industry law. So, their recommendation was to repeal that. Now what we are working on is a comprehensive repeal and reenactment of Chapter 84 which is another prison work program, so that we don't have three different work programs that are created in Guam law that allow inmates to work and earn money.

It is problematic in one of the sections in Chapter 80 that we're now working on, have been working on for the past three plenary meetings and going back and forth with our members. Part of it is that the law is cumbersome and difficult to understand. We want to streamline it. We want to consolidate the prison industries into one single chapter. And that's what we're working on now. So that we can create a program that the Department is actually able to create. and if it uh you know we don't want to get away from requiring the department to enact rules and regulations. That should always be the case when a department is using its expertise to establish a program like this which is authorized by law. So then are the proposed amendments based on DOC's desire to adopt a model program from some other U.S. jurisdiction. If you're saying that they wanted to repeal it entirely, but it sounds like they wanted to do it. They still want to do it? I don't know, I'm not following.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Well, what we understand is that there is a need for prison industries or work programs that allow an inmate to work and earn money. And so, we want to be sure that there is consistency among those programs, and maybe create just and the difficulty that we've seen is that we've got that Chapter 90 section that recreates prison industries. We've got Chapter 84 which creates another program. And in Chapter 80 there's a section that creates a work and educational release program. And so, all these three different laws were created in different time periods. Some are way old. Some are more recent. and they also have very, very different allocation of the inmate's wages. And so that's become an issue that we're working on in the section that creates the Work and Educational Release Program in Chapter 80. We're looking at that along with [Chapter] 84 so that we don't create issues with [Chapter] 84. And the idea is that we may end up pulling something from that section in Chapter 80, 84, and 90 to create a single program that allows an inmate to work and earn money, as opposed to work programs within the walls of the prison. There are two different things that an inmate may not work to earn money for, but could use that time to reduce their sentences.

Senator Eulogio Shawn Gumataotao: I got it. Thank you so much, Serge. Thank you, Madam Chair, for allowing me to ask questions. And again, I do appreciate the work in totality. This is not just the whole panel here. There are so many people involved and I know you recognized them, Judge Quan. And I mean, I just can't say enough that when you have that many people, that much expertise to be brought to bear upon the modernization of the criminal code, I think that's in itself, that is such a feat. And again, kudos to you and your chairmanship and to all the work of the Commission. And thank you, Madam Chair, for the time.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you, Senator Gumataotao. Just to add on that this is on Chapter 90 on Corrections and the changes that we saw in this were changes in statute to establish DOC's existing Correctional Medical and Dental Clinic and Correctional Behavioral Health Clinic, formalizing the correctional healthcare system developed in response to federal litigation over conditions at DOC. GMHA would oversee outpatient medical and dental services, while GBHWC would oversee behavioral-health services. The provision also establishes quarterly reporting and a dedicated interagency funding process requiring advance quarterly allotments to ensure timely payment for healthcare, medical supplies and pharmaceuticals and reduce the risk of interruption in inmate healthcare services.

The CLRC explains that the provision is intended to make permanent the medical, dental and mental-health services developed at DOC following the federal consent decree and to ensure inmates and detainees continue to receive constitutionally adequate healthcare. The funding provisions are intended to improve financial accountability and prevent disruptions caused by delayed agency payments or pharmaceutical vendor credit holds.

Substantially reorganizes DOC's enabling statutes, clarifies custody terminology and places correctional-health and administrative responsibilities into a more coherent statutory structure. The DOC provisions go beyond simple stylistic cleanup. They consolidate statutory authority, change DOC's mission language, define categories of persons in custody, restructure rulemaking authority and establish correctional-health funding mechanisms. These are operational policy changes, not merely technical corrections.

So, I hope that you can provide more in-depth information regarding this section of the Legislation. We know that in particular, on page 189, Lines 24 to 26 through page 190, Lines 1 to 25 to be looked at, page 191 to 193 also needs to be reviewed. On that § 90.16 it is revised to defer more directly to POST qualifications. On page 193 line 16 onward. So, and on approximately pages 195-196, a new § 90.26, Correctional Medical Clinics is added. It statutorily establishes the medical setup there. So, these are some of the questions that probably you can explain when we review the report. And at this time, closing out just for this particular public hearing, I'd like to turn it over to the author of the legislation, our Speaker Frank Blas. You are now recognized sir. Thank you for allowing me to explain that section. Thank you.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: Not a problem. I appreciate the explanation as well because I did have some concern with that discussion. First off, thank you very much. I appreciate all the work and the conversation. And the discussions that we had today were very enlightening. The whole idea here when I created the legislation for the Criminal Law Procedure Review is leave it, give it to the subject matter experts. That's you, okay. And you're the one that's going to have to work with this every day. And so, what better body of expertise and individuals to be able to look at something that is as antiquated as it is?

You know, we only talk about the law review, you know, last time it was reviewed was in 1976. And the expansion, and I appreciate that while the legislation specifically states Title 8 and Title 9, that there's a recognition that there are other titles within the Guam Code Annotated that are going to be affected. And hence, why the review has to expand beyond Title 8 and 9. It's going to remind you and some of you, that folks that we had conversation with, that it is probably going to go back all the way down to Title 20, okay. Because I don't know if we still have cashmere goats and sheep on Guam. You know what I'm referring to, don't you, your Honor? But with that said, I appreciate that while we want to look to you to be able to clean up what has been in existence for that long, I was just a little concerned about…. Well, if this is just also an opportunity to be able to add on. And so, while I can appreciate the concerns and things that the Department of Corrections has with regard to wanting to codify some things, there were other means. And as I sat here over the last 30 minutes listening to what the conversation was and why we wanted to do this. Why do we have to hear that conversation now? Why wasn't it heard anytime earlier?

And I don't want this to be a sticking point to the passage of something that is greatly needed. I'm not saying that what Corrections would like to have isn't necessary, isn't needed. But is this the vehicle to be able to do that? Okay, so that's what we're going to have to look at. And I guess one of the other things that I want to be able to… As you stated, this was a product and you finished this almost a year ago and did some refinement to this. But in recognition that there is a lot more work to be done, what is the possibility of now the amendments…Or let's say this bill was to pass and provisions and amendment recommendations are intact, what is the possibility that now the second or the third iteration or product to be presented to this body will contain, 'Oh well, we need to change what we had said earlier'?

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: I think that that will always be a possibility because of what we are doing now. We're making the first round of recommendations. We wanted to get the work product out before the Legislature to show that we are actually doing work and get something done now. And the possibility that what we are going to be doing in the future with the next round of recommendations is always there, that something could affect what we're doing now. But we're cognizant of what we're doing. We know what we've done in the past and so we have the ability to make sure that we don't do anything inconsistent.

Similarly, when the Legislature has a bill pending that affects what we're looking at now or what we have already looked at, we defer to the Legislature. We've made it a call that you don't want to ask the Legislature not to look at Title 9 or Title 8 or any other criminal laws. That's your job. And you as the representatives of the people and the policy makers, we will defer to you. We'll take whatever new enactments or new amendments that you have and insert those into what we're doing. And if what we have done is affected by any law that's enacted, we will withdraw our recommendations and insert the new law in its place so that we don't have any inconsistency there or attempt to usurp what the Legislature has recently done, keeping in mind what our mandates are under Public Law 36-119, to comprehensively look at all the criminal laws of Guam.

And this kind of goes to the suggestions, the big substantive changes that have been recommended, like the Correctional Medical Clinics. When the DOCO subcommission proposed that, we looked at our enabling law and our mandates there and we determined that's part of what the Legislature wanted us to do. So, we put that down as a recommendation. The upside to that is that if the Legislature decided that's kind of too big for what we want to do with this round, they could excise that and make it into another bill and give it the attention that is due to that piece of legislation. And you have the fundamentals of the beginning of a bill right then and there to build on without having to recreate the wheel, so to speak. So, whatever recommendations that we've put forth, nothing has been set in stone. It's really up to the Legislature, of course, to accept or not accept. And to say that, 'Okay, this part should be introduced as a standalone bill rather than in the comprehensive bill that we've put forth in recommendations.' I'm sorry, in Bill 317 and the recommendations that will come sometime next year.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: I appreciate that, you know. And outside the bounds of Bill 317 and we had to discuss this earlier, that you appreciate. Well, first off, one of the first discussions is that this process

Ste. 407 DNA Building
2238 Archbishop Flores St.
Hagatna, Guam 96910
(671) 989-8356

is taking longer than we had anticipated even back in 2022. But we see the value of this process, of this mechanism not just for what we're doing today, but what we need to do in the future. And I'll tell you the impetus for the creation of the public law that created the CRLC. As you know, I have a former background in law enforcement, and you know, I had the luxury a lot of times to interpret the law the way I wanted to interpret it because it gave me the flexibility to do that. And there are times that it works and times that it doesn't.

But what has happened now is I think this gives us an opportunity to be able to create now a mechanism, a process, so that when there is an idea to be able to make corrections in Title 8, Title 9, whatever title, that there's a body of experts, there's an entity that we can actually turn to and say, 'Look this is an idea. How does this fit? Where would it fit? What else is going to be necessary? Because there are many times that legislation, while we draft legislation, we don't recognize the consequence that this piece of legislation that is affecting this portion of the law is going to affect another portion of the law in another chapter or in another title. And having a body created to be able to, we can bounce things off for lack of a better term, and provide us the language so that it is congruent. It doesn't become; it saves the Justices time enough to be able to interpret what the intent it was of the Legislature. You know, I heard this earlier today that a lot of times you have to look at the legislative intent. You have to research the legislative intent, and even there are times that it's just as confusing. You know, when I've got a bill on the floor and the bill says this is what it's going to do or the intent says this is what we want to do, but I look at the bill and I'm like this is not what it's doing. Okay. I can just imagine when it comes into your realm as to how you're going to be able to interpret it.

So, you know, we look forward to that and I appreciate all the work and effort that has been brought in. And I appreciate that the good Chairwoman is going to schedule another hearing date prior to. We want to be able to put this in the December session, okay, to be able to hear this in the December session. October 22nd is the opportunity to be able to bring in some of the information that's necessary so that the public can be informed and be advised of what it is. I think that you know one of the areas that the public is still confused about is what is marijuana. And I'm sure that's one of the areas that you had discussions with. Okay. But it's simple things like that. Remember in 1976 marijuana was a Schedule I Controlled Substance. Not for God's sake, if chewing gum is higher as far as scheduled than marijuana. Simple things like that. So, I appreciate and thank you very much for the testimony today. Thank you very much Madam Chair.

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: If I could, to what the Speaker was asking just briefly. So, your question was how can you ensure or protect what's going to be recommended to you later, we're not going to have to revisit this. So, when the subcommissions meet, there's a lot of experience in those groups and we instinctively know from the practitioners that if you're dealing with through one section there are other related sections automatically that are connected. So, for instance, if you're looking at uh assault, the definitions of bodily injury etc. also apply to homicide as well as other areas. So, the practitioners, we're relying on the practitioners and the expertise in the room to go, wait a second, if you touch that, this is going to be touched as well. So that is occurring. Those discussions are occurring. They're also coming up in the plenary sessions.

Additionally, as a safeguard we have the research attorneys that also check up on, 'Okay what's the ripple effect?' So, although it's not perfect, we have significant systems in place to try to ensure that what we touch now, we're not going to, anything we touch later is not going to affect what we presented to you.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: I appreciate that and that's exactly why I wanted to make sure because it's going to happen. It's going to happen. I just want to point out the reality and eventuality of things that occur. It's not going to be perfect, but it is a start. Thank you very much.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you, Speaker Blas. And Attorney Cepeda, I know that as the Compiler of Law, as these bills are being passed and what we have in Bill 317; I don't know if there's like a lap or how you would do that. Let's say that a bill passes but we incorporate let's say the drone bill. Let's give it a good example, right? So, the drone bill gets passed into law, it goes to you to be codified in the Guam Code Annotated. But yet Bill 317, it also has it in Bill 317 to change the law. You wouldn't need that, right? I mean it's not like duplicative or anything like that, right? How would that work? Would we not put anything in Bill 317 when we go into markup to make sure that other laws that were already passed and sent to you to be codified that we don't incorporate in 317.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: Thank you for thank you for that question. As you know, I do work very closely with the CLRC so we are all on the same page. So, we are all aware if there's pending legislation that might affect Bill 317. That's already accounted for in our process. So, we are on the same page.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Okay, we'll keep close ties with you especially on this because I know how difficult it is. And the change of law, it helps us as we write our legislation, to recognize the Guam Code Annotated.

Okay, thank you so much. Thank you so much everyone for being here. I hope those who want to participate on October 22nd, please attend. But in the meantime, if there are no further questions or comments, we're going to conclude Bill 317-38 (COR). We're just going to recess actually. If there's anybody who has any further testimony that you would like to provide, those who are listening, you're very welcome to hold your testimony and bring it to the October 22nd public hearing. So, my office will continue to accept these testimonies. You can email it to me or mail it to me at 238 Archbishop Floor Street, Suite 407 at the DNA Building. You can also email it to me at senatortelot@gmail.com.

And at this time, we are going to recess. It is 11:00 a.m., and we're going to recess this hearing and come back on Thursday, October 22nd at 900 a.m. Si Yu'os ma'åse' and create a great day everybody. Thank you so much.

RELATIVE TO THE COMMISSION'S MANDATE TO RECOMMEND ENACTMENTS, AMENDMENTS AND REPEALS TO GUAM'S CRIMINAL LAWS AND PROCEDURES TO I LIHESLATURAN GUÅHAN," was the item on the agenda.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Buenas and Hafa adai. We are resuming this public hearing from our last public hearing. We are on Bill 317-38 (COR). During the last hearing before we recessed, we requested some information. I'd like to thank the courts, the Criminal Law Review Commission for actually providing us very extensive amount of information on every bill, I mean every amendment that was made in the chapters. And we really appreciate also providing some minutes of those changes that were made during that time. There were some minutes in there, and certain attorneys agreeing and not agreeing. So that was very helpful. I really appreciate that. And before I get started with the presentation of your PowerPoint, I would like to recognize the author of the legislation, Bill 317-38, Speaker Blas, who's here this morning and former Speaker and Senator Therese Terlaje who is here. And before I get going, Speaker, would you like to say anything? Okay, we're going to go ahead and get started.

Welcome to the second part of this public hearing for bill 317-38. You are now recognized.

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: Thank you. Please put up the first slide.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: And if you can please introduce yourselves.

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: Jonathan Quan.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Yeah. Can we go ahead and go down the line so you don't have to do it again?

Yusuke Haffeman-Udagawa, Esq., Research Attorney, CLRC: Yeah, Good morning, Haffeman-Udagawa, Research Attorney for the CLRC.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Good morning, Madam Chair, Speaker Blas, and Senator Terlaje. My name is Andrew Serge Quenga. I'm the Executive Director for the CLRC.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC/Compiler of Laws: Good morning. Geraldine Cepeda, Compiler of Laws.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you so much. You may proceed.

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: Thank you. Good morning, Madam Chair, Mr. Speaker, Senator Terlaje. Thank you for the opportunity to provide additional information on this bill and to respond to the questions raised at the October 13th public hearing. The Commission was mandated to review every chapter and section of Title 9. Bill 317 covers about two-thirds of Title 9 and hundreds of individual sections. We submitted this work in July of 2025 because we understand that the time and effort required to review a bill of this scope is significant. We hope the additional report that we submitted this week pursuant to your request will further assist you in that work. Drafting laws that anticipate every circumstance is exceptionally difficult, if not impossible. You know that better than anyone.

The Commission's recommendations in Bill 317 are based on members years of experience and exhaustive reviews and research. Our role at last week's public hearing and today's hearing is to answer any questions you may have, explain our recommendations, and support informed legislative decisions. The Legislature ultimately decides which proposals become law. We are just a recommending body. The ultimate decision as to whether to accept, revise, or disregard our recommendations is yours.

The detailed report submitted to the Committee responds to the questions and requests for information about each substantive recommendation. It includes the marked up statutory language and explanations of the proposed changes. Although the report is lengthy, we believe that the level of detail is necessary to answer the questions you asked.

Next slide, please. Now, let's talk about some definitions. What we classify as substantive. For purpose of this report, we define a substantive change as an outright repeal or deletion or an amendment that materially changes the law's meaning or effect, including offense elements, available defenses, offense levels, sentencing, criminal exposure, agency authority, or legal rights. It is not substantive if it is a repeal and reenactment of a section into a different section or location. For example, definitions in Title 9 GCA §§ 1.12, 1.34, and 1.36, and so on, have been consolidated and reenacted into § 1.12. That is not substantive. We classify it as substantive only if it also materially changes the provision's meaning or effect. Every substantive recommendation is included in the additional report with marked up language and an explanation of the change.

Next slide, please. Now, the summary of changes: In chapters outside of Chapter 90. Changes include seven (7) outright repeals, ten (10) provisions repealed and reenacted elsewhere, and forty-nine (49) substantive amendments. Chapter 90 will be covered separately in our presentation today. Our goal is to give the Legislature, practitioners, and the public a clearer understanding of the proposed changes and their practical effects. Before turning to the executive director for discussion of the report, I would like to briefly revisit the Commission's composition, expertise, and mandate under Public Law 36-119, and address several questions and issues raised at last week's hearing.

Next slide, please. Commission members and volunteers: the Commission has fifteen (15) statutory voting members, including members appointed by the heads of all three branches of government and designees of the Guam Bar Association, Attorney General, Public Defender, Guam Police Department, and the Department of Corrections. Of those 15 members, three are current or former judicial officers, eight are practicing attorneys, two are law enforcement representatives, and two represent the community-based and public interest organizations, including its statutory Ex Officio members, the Executive Director, and the Compiler of Laws, the Commission has 10 attorneys or former attorneys. When we also include the Commission's full-time Research Attorneys, two part-time research attorneys and attorney volunteers, around 15 attorneys have contributed to the review underlying the recommendations of Bill 317. Most have many years of experience practicing criminal law. The Commission's members, volunteers, and staff are clearly subject matter experts on our criminal laws. Public law 36-119 intended to bring that expertise together with the perspectives of law enforcement and the community. Each statute was reviewed and amendments were considered in light of relevant case law, similar laws in other jurisdictions, members professional experience and sometimes, too robust discussions and debate. Recommendations passed through multiple layers of legal analysis by several attorneys.

Next slide, please. Let's talk about overlapping legislation. Some issues raised at the last hearing concerned overlapping legislation. We recognize that the Legislature continues to enact criminal laws that may overlap with the Commission's recommendations in Bill 317 or its forthcoming recommendations. Commission staff continuously monitor bills and newly elected public laws for their effect on sections already reviewed or under review. Our policy is to ensure they are included in Bill 317. On the development of recommendations, as a matter of practice, the Commission does not record which individual members or volunteers suggests a recommendation. Subcommission recommendations are developed, discussed, and finalized during subcommission working sessions. Recommendations are then presented usually by the Subcommission Chair or another designated subcommission member on behalf of the entire subcommission to the plenary meeting or at the plenary meeting.

In regards to consultation with BBMR/DOA, as a matter of practice the Commission has not formally consulted the Bureau of Budget and Management Research or the Department of Administration on recommendations that would require appropriation. The Judiciary was asked by BBMR to comment on the fiscal impact of 317 as a whole. The response provided was because of the large number of possible amendments, any fiscal impact on the criminal justice system would be impossible to measure.

Next slide, please. In closing, I will now turn to the Executive Director to introduce the report focusing on significant substantive changes, proposed repeals, and provisions specifically identified at the last hearing. The written report provides the section-by-section detail for the Committee's review. We welcome further questions and any adjustments the Legislature considers appropriate. Thank you for the time.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you, your honor. You may proceed.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Thank you, Magistrate Quan. Good morning, Madame Chair, Speaker Blas, and Senator Terlaje. My name is Andrew Serge Quenga. I am the executive director of the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission. We have made our best efforts to produce this report in the short time since last Tuesday, October 13th. Commission staff has spent many hours preparing it. We apologize that it was submitted only late yesterday, but as you can imagine, the typhoon took the weekend away, which we would have had otherwise to work on the report. We realize it is a very long report, but the bill is long and there were quite a few substantive changes and a lot of information was requested. That said, we are very happy to be here to present this report and we thank you for this opportunity. As I've said many times before, the transparency of the Commission's work is one of my top priorities, and all of our work is published on the Commission's web page.

So, the Chairman described how the Commission does its work. My part here is to provide an overview of the report, what it covers, how it's organized, and how to find what you need in it. Again, the report is long, but we believe it covers all the information requested at the last hearing and Senator Taitague's follow-up letter to the Commission. The goal of the next few minutes is simple that any member of the legislature, any member of your staff can open the report to any section of the bill and find the Committee's questions answered there.

Next slide, please. So, if you've seen the report, it's in three parts. I will address the main report, which is parts one and two covering chapters outside of Chapter 90. The Compiler of Laws, Gerry Cepeda, will cover Chapter 90 separately and in greater detail as it was of particular interest to the Committee at the hearing last week. Part three of the report is a summary of the Chapter 90 substantive changes. The main report covers the substantive changes the bill would make other than in Chapter 90. It follows the order of the bill chapter by chapter for each section. It answers the first four categories of information in the Chair's letter of October 13, which are the four boxes you see at the bottom. Three things are left out of the report. Technical changes are left out. Reorganization, renumbering, terminology, spelling, punctuation, and citation form. Laws the legislature has enacted since the interim report are also left out. And again, Chapter 90 corrections will be addressed separately. The four boxes at the bottom of the slide are the four columns in part one, one for each category of information requested. (1): The changes, its effect and the reason for it. (2): For a repeal and with what effect. (3): The subcommission and its plenary review. And (4): Agencies consulted, if any.

Next slide, please. So, outside Chapter 90, the bill covers 312 sections. The Commission recommended substantive changes to 56 sections, and technical only changes to 40 sections. It recommended no change to the other 216 sections, although they each received very diligent review. The report presents the 56 substantive changes in 54 entries because three of the related sections are covered in one chapter. And these share a single entry.

On October 13, the Chair asks us to identify changes that affect offense elements, defenses, offense level, sentencing, and criminal exposure. The report flags each substantive section accordingly, whether it changes an element of an offense or an available defense, whether it raises or lowers an offense level or penalty or expands on or narrows criminal liability, which the report marks with up and down arrows, and whether it overlaps with another offense. A section can carry more than one flag, or in other words, it can have overlapping offenses.

Next slide, please. The 40 sections with technical only corrections are not in the report. So, they are listed here by chapter just for your information and reference. These changes affect wording or arrangement, not the legal effect. Such as section titles, citations, typos, grammar and punctuation, outdated agency names, consolidating or renumbering sections, and removing unused definitions and placeholders for sections already repealed.

Next slide, please. Again, just for your general information, here's a typical example of technical only corrections. § 55.60 on page 150 of the bill; this change makes unauthorized use of water declared during an emergency a petty misdemeanor which might be relevant right now during our recovery from Typhoon Champion. The only change replaces existing language; the Public Utility Agency of Guam with the agency's current name, Guam Waterworks Authority.
Nothing else has changed. The conduct is the same and the penalty is the same. The examples at the bottom of the slide show other kinds of technical only corrections. And I'll skip over those, but they are there for your review.

Next slide, please. Thank you. The main report covering chapters outside of Chapter 90 has two parts. Part one is a summary table with a brief description of changes for each section. And part two gives each section a full detailed entry with all the information requested in the same order under the same chapter headings. The example shown here is § 1.14, the first substantive change, which adds three general purposes of sentencing, which are restitution to victims, needed training, medical care or treatment, and sentences no more severe than necessary. To get from a row to an entry in part two, in your electronic word or PDF copy, each section number links to its entry. So, just click on that link. If you are looking at a hard copy, use the entry page printed under the section number. For § 1.14, that is page nine.

Next slide, please. The page one of the report has a shaded box that serves as its key. Here's the information that's necessary to understand what's in the report. It states the scope and order I just described. It also explains the great abbreviations and symbols review standards cited in Column 1, the abbreviations and dates in Column 3 and which agencies in Column 4. The next few slides will describe these a bit more.

Next slide please. What you see here is part one row is the part one row for section 1.14 enlarged. The first column gives a section number and title and the build page and line and the page of the full entry in part two. The next column opens with the description of the change in a few words. Here it says sentencing purposes added. Next is what the change does in plain terms. The last line is why it was made with sources and review standards in brackets, which will be explained later.

Next slide, please. When a change results in a raising or lowering of a grade or liability, the up arrow means the change raises a grade or expands liability, and a down arrow means it lowers a grade or narrows liability. An X represents a repeal. Grades use the abbreviations on the left from first-degree felony down to violation. For example, § 52.55 at the bottom, falsifying evidence, goes down from a Third-Degree Felony to a misdemeanor. The other example, § 55.25(a), giving a peace officer false information to implicate another person goes up from a misdemeanor to a third-degree felony. On the right side of the slide, § 5550 adds government vehicles to the government generators, telephones, and emergency or utility equipment whose damage or theft is a secondary felony. And on the bottom, § 4650 is a repeal. It removes contest rigging offenses tied to greyhound racing, which no longer exists in Guam.

Next slide, please. So here you see the review standards that are dictated by our enabling law Public Law 36-119. The bracketed numbers refer to the 11 root review standards in title 1 section 25.07B again enacted by public law 36119. The key list lists all 11. Section 1.14 sites Standards 6 and 10, adjusting penalties, fines and gradation for proportionate penalties and other amendments the commission believe necessary. The brackets tell you which part of the Commission statutory mandate a recommendation serves.

Next slide, please. Another example of the part one review. The other three columns are shown here for § 5550. Column 2 applies to repeals; why the section is repealed, and what the repeal does. § 55.50 is not a repeal, so it reads N/A for non-applicable. Column 3 gives a subcommission that reviewed the change and the date of the plenary meeting where it was presented. Here it was a subcommission on Criminal Procedure on August 10th, 2025. The note floor motion means the change was made by motion at the public meeting. Column 4 lists other agencies the change affects. Here are the government agencies that own vehicles which are basically every agency in the government.

Next slide, please. Again, in part one, the key spells out Column 3. The four subcommissions are the (1) Crimes Against Persons; (2) Crimes Relating to Property, (3) Criminal Procedure; and (4) Drugs and other Criminal Offenses. The dates are public plenary meetings. Every recommendation was then approved in the Interim Report on May 29, 2025. Errata refers to the Notice of Errata and revisions of January 29, 2026, which was also submitted to the Legislature. Column 4 lists only agencies that are without voting seats on the Commission. The AG, Public Defender, GPD, and DOC all hold voting seats, so they are not listed here.

Next slide, please. Turning now to part two, which contains the full detailed information on each substantive change. Each entry opens with the heading we saw earlier. Then a table that answers the same four categories in full. For our example, Section 1.14. Number one in red shows what changes, why, and the review standards written out. Number two in red; whether it is a repeal. Number three in red; the responsible subcommission and its plenary meeting history. Four in red shows the agencies affected where a change, touches one of the matters raised on October 13. You see number five in red, the fifth row, hearing questions, it says which are responded to. § 1.14 has no such row. § 5550 does. It expands criminal liability and increases penalty or grade.

Next slide, please. Each entry ends with two items. The first is the CLC, pardon me, the CLRC comment, the Commission's explanation taken from the Interim Report or from the Notice of Errata, where the errata revised the section. The section, the second is a text of the section as it appears in the bill with the bill section page and line. In the text, struck through words are deleted and underlined words are new. For Section 1.14, for example, the old title is struck and the new title is underlined and the three new purposes 8 through 10, are underlined. Where a section is repealed outright, every word is struck through. That is the structure of the report. With it, the Committee can turn to any section of the bill and see what changes, why, who reviewed it, and what other agencies it affects, and the exact text of the section.

We would be happy to address any questions on the substantive changes. But we would first focus like to focus on Chapter 90 which received a lot of the attention last week, and we'll address the issues raised by the committee at the hearing last week. So, I will now turn it over to our Compiler of Laws Gerry Cepeda, who will address Chapter 90 substantive changes. There you go.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you. You are now recognized.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: Okay, thank you Madam Chair, Mr. Speaker. Thank you, Serge.

Madam Chair, Mr. Speaker, at the October 13 public hearing on this bill, many questions were raised about changes to Chapter 90. And I'd like to go over this chapter in greater detail, as I've been part of the Drugs and other Criminal Offenses subcommission or DOCO since its inception. and after several months of work by the subcommission members. I presented Chapter 90 to the Plenary Commission as the acting DOC Chair on October 5th 2023. Chapter 90 is DOC's governing statute. It defines no crimes and it sets no penalty. So, nothing in Chapter 90 changes what a crime is or how anyone is sentenced. In fact, in my Compiler moment, I'll let you know that Chapter 90 was not even included in the original Guam Penal Code back in the day. In fact, it was only included with a criminal and corrections code with the enactment of Public Law 13-185. Historically, it's been part of the government code because it is a government executive branch agency. So, when the criminal and correctional code turned into Title 9, it became included and was enveloped in Title 9, and as pursuant to the CLRC mandate, DOCO did review it. And we reviewed it extensively in the beginning under the guidance of former chair Judge Elizabeth Barrett Anderson. She would be here and would have told you the work that we did section by section and the analysis that we did for Chapter 90, and most specifically for article 1 at the last hearing.

Next slide please. At the last hearing, Madam Chair, you noted that there was not just stylistic cleanup, and we acknowledge. Oh, next slide. Yes. So, at a glance, this is Chapter 90. I think that's okay. I don't have for this slide. Okay. What it does at a glance is outright repeal three provisions, repeals and reenacts ten others, and there are thirteen substantive amendments. But if you note most of them will occur in Article 1. If I could go to the next slide. Madam chair, you noted at the last hearing that the changes particularly to Article 1 go beyond stylistic cleanup. And first, the main thing it does is it clarifies who DOC holds and what DOC is for by creating new definitions that distinguish between detainees and sentenced inmates, and creates a new mission statement.

It also addresses hiring by stating that the qualifications for corrections officer would be uniform by specifically referring to the POST Commission standards, and it also require states that recruit training would be subject to the availability of funds. It consolidates as a third point the Director's power in one place because as currently drafted his duties or her duties in the future perhaps, have been scattered in different sections throughout Article 1 and they are now consolidated and found in article in § 9025. And a significant change is adoption of DOC rules pursuant to the Administrative Adjudication Act rather than at the approval of the governor.

As a fourth point, Article 1 removes bodies that never operated including the Advisory Council, the Transfer Review Committee and the prison industries earnings formula, as DOC has indicated to us that they have never met and never been used, in particular with the prison industries formula. Five, it implements fewer legislative and fiscal controls with reports of the legislature and the Revolving Fund, the commissary audit being removed again at the request of DOC.

I will spend more time on the sixth point which is codifying the new program for the Correctional Medical Clinic. For all six points in Article 1, there is one common thread, and it's that oversight of outside bodies will now shift to the Director and through departmental rules adopted pursuant to the AAA. To this report, we have included Exhibit A and as you noted, the CLRC minutes that tie several of these changes directly to DOC requests. And DOC also has a voting seat on the Commission.

During Judge Barett- Anderson's tenure as DOCO Chair, Director Robert Camacho hosted DOCO meetings at their facility with Major Aguon and executive administrative staff present. She distinctly recalls, and I recall myself, how we completed a section-by-section analysis and incorporated recommendations from DOC to improve the statute. So, what you see in Chapter 90 is a review by subject matter experts and their recommendations. For Articles 2, 6, and 7, however, these articles are reenacted essentially unchanged with Article 2 being the Western Interstate Corrections Compact; Six, the Civilian Corrections Reserve Program; and Article 7, the recent 2021 Modernization Act.

Next slide, please. Particular concerns that you had raised at the last hearing, I can spend just a little time, but it is in the fuller report. For page 189, the repeal and reenact of Chapter 90 allow the Compiler to move the Interstate Compact on Juveniles. We suggest or was suggested to Title 19 along with DYA, as it is more appropriate. And, there is also a juvenile compact on the Interstate [Interstate Compact for Juveniles] a commission on juveniles that the legislature may wish to reconsider.

On page 190, § 90.10, definitions, as I indicated earlier, this is a distinction that clarifies the definition of a detainee as opposed to an inmate. Detainee being on pre-trial hold, federal hold, or for example, a parole violation while an inmate is serving post-conviction. For § 19.15 on page 190; a mission statement replaces general duties. And as a practical matter, it basically means DOC no longer has a statutory duty to provide staff services to the courts Parole Board or probation. They have their own staff.

[Section] 19.16, Officer Qualifications. As I'd indicated earlier specifically references the POST Commission Standards rather than the litany of officer qualifications. The training cycle for [Section] 90.16.1; DOC still retains the duty to train at least 20 recruits a year but does make that subject to funding, and this would be included in DOC's annual budget request and subsequently what is granted.

Page 193 for § 90.20; the Advisory Council is repealed as it never met. In fact, if you look at the statute it refers to the vocational school principal. and I don't know very many people who remember Guam Voc-Tech. I know I'm one of them, but that is outdated language and more importantly this advisory council never met. Finally, for § 90.25; the powers of the Director, again, this consolidates duties that had been scattered throughout Article 1 so it incorporates four other sections as will be detailed I think in the next slide.

Next slide. Yes. So, in the next slide, it does show you in specific detail how Section 90.25 absorbed five different sections to include the old § 90.48, Nursing Mother's Accommodations.

Next slide, please. What I'd like to do now is spend a lot of time on what concerns have been raised regarding the new § 90.26- Correctional Medical Facilities. And this is the only new section that is recommended by DOCO in Chapter 90, and it did draw a lot of questions.

Senator Gumataotao, who's not present, asked us to review the record we have and additional information has been included in this report. So, what it does, it establishes two clinics within DOC, one for medical and dental care and one for behavioral health, which operate to national correctional health care standards. Who runs them? It would be GMH for medical and dental and Guam Behavioral Health and Wellness Center or GBHWC for the behavioral health clinic. And presently in 2026 it is operating under a Consolidated Cooperative Agreement with DOC with the budgets submitted by each agency.

What I'd like to note is, as drafted, I know there were concerns raised regarding Subsection (d) [90.26(d)] on the next slide please. I'll go back to this slide. Can I go to the next slide, please? Thank you. Subsection (d)- there were concerns raised regarding the payment language in Subsection (d)1 to (d)3. Now one thing is that we drafted this language in 2023. It was presented in 2024, and voted on at that time. In February 2025, GBHWC and GMH entered into a Consolidated Cooperative Agreement with DOC to provide these services. So, the language that we had presented is outdated now pursuant to the current practice of these three agencies in a basically consolidated MOU.

So, although original Bill 317 does recommend this language, we are now offering something that would be a floor amendment to delete the necessary language in Subsection (d)1, (d)2, and (d)3, as they're no longer relevant and don't reflect the current practices. So, while the payment options and the payment requirements and obligations are removed from the statutory language, the obligation on the prior slide- if I can go back- to have medical, dental, and mental health services to those detained and confined at the Department of Corrections, these remain.

As a quick history. In 1991, there was a lawsuit filed by the United States against the government of Guam regarding conditions at the Department of Corrections with the work of … Let me see, I don't want to get this wrong. In 2015, the court set deadlines, basically an 18-month deadline, to meet 25 requirements, and those were met. And that was pursuant to the work of then Attorney General, Judge Barrett Anderson and a task force with Lieutenant Governor Tenorio, that met weekly. And in 2015, we're talking decades after the lawsuit filed in 1991, there was a cooperative, the very first cooperative agreement between DOC and GMH to provide services. Throughout the years from 2015, 2017 movement was made. And in 2017 there was a joint motion to end the case where United States and Guam jointly advised the court that DOC had built an infrastructure for a DOC Outpatient Clinic for Future Success, and that was all reliant on the MOU. And in April 2017 the court found that the remaining sections were satisfied, terminated the case, terminated the proceeding and dismissed the case. But movement within the government showed that there was support for continued health care and mental health care services. In 2020 and 2021, the Executive Order 2020-21 gave GBHWC and DOC or directed them to open an annex within DOC facilities for mental health, alcohol and substance abuse treatment. In 2021, GBHWC and DOC signed their own separate agreement.

Now, fast forward to 2025, we have the consolidated version with all three in one agreement. However, that does mean for purposes of health care, medical, dental care and mental health care, it's all relying on a document. The goal of [Section] 90.26 was to ensure that this mandate is codified, and not relying on MOUs that might change, that might expire and ensuring that we as an island do not return to the situation of a receivership for our correctional facility.

So, Judge Barrett-Anderson, who relayed to me, she was the AG when it started. She was the AG that ended it. She didn't know why it took 20 years, but the only way she believes to guarantee I believe as a subcommission, and speaking for the subcommission, the only way we believe to ensure that, was to codify the correctional medical facility language in Chapter 90. So that is the genesis of including it and the concerns regarding the payment would be addressed by the removal of Subsection (d)1, (d)2 and (d)3 from the bill.

Can I next slide after that? So aside from [Section] 90.26, we do have other provisions that were obsolete, relocated or eliminated. These are listed here. I don't think I need to go through it, but it clearly details those provisions, including the Corrections Advisory Council as obsolete and had never met. You have some relocations to other provisions and intentional elimination. Procurement terms, inmate transfer protections- those have been removed as being public policy choices if they're reinserted at a later date through subsequent legislation. But it is the belief based on DOC, I should say DOCO that these provisions be eliminated from Chapter 90.

On the last slide we do have a list. Next slide please. On the last slide, I'm sorry we do have a list of questions that were raised specifically. The answers are there. I don't believe I need to go through it unless you'd like further detail. And other than that, I believe that concludes my presentation on Chapter 90.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you so much. Anyone else would like to… Have you finished your presentation? Okay. At this time, I'd like to open up to the author of the legislation, Speaker Blas, you're recognized.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: Thank you, Madam Chair, and once again, thank you very much for this is a very detailed report. I'm just going to get right to it and obviously one of the bones of contention was Chapter 90. Okay, I agree, when you're looking at the chapters…. I have this old adage, 'What does that got to do with the price of Tang at Happy Mart? Okay. There's no criminal statute or procedure that's in here. And how did it get here? And you know, now thank you for the history of it. The question is, is it necessary to keep it in that title?

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: Of course, Mr. Speaker, as a Commission, we make recommendations.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: Sure.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: And it is ultimately the decision as a policy by the Legislature. But on behalf of our subcommission, I would say, and I know this recommendation was put forward by the entire plenary, but on behalf of the subcommission we saw the mandate to review. A lot of work was done. I mean, this is something that seeing the work upfront, up close and personal of DOC, of Director Camacho before he passed and the passion that he had to ensure that these changes were made, backed up not just by his own knowledge, but by the history and the knowledge of his executive staff, including Major Aguon. This expertise, you don't get anywhere else. And leading at that time the review of Chapter 90, Judge Barrett-Anderson who had gone through the litigation. And the reason why she wanted to ensure, and again backed by the subcommission that [Section] 90.26 be included. We do believe even if you decide to move it, it's definitely at the policy decision of the body, but the review shouldn't be ignored.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: No, let me make one thing perfectly clear. I appreciate the review. All right. Nothing to say. It's nothing against anything of the review. It's just the whole, the chapter itself. Does it fit in that title or can that chapter fit in another title within the Guam Code Annotated where it becomes more germane, relevant, and would make sense?

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: What would make sense, DOC was historically separate it was part of the government code. In fact, it wasn't even part of the Department of Public Safety, which then broke off into GPD and fire Department. Both of those are in Title 10. Should you want to put Department of Corrections in Title 10- Health and Safety or would you want to put it in Title 5- Government Operations?

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: Okay.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: That's almost cosmetic, I guess, because it's organizational. It's classification. I'm putting my Compiler hat on at this point. But does it belong in 90 or I'm sorry, Title 9 with a definition of aggravated assault?

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: Yeah. And hence why I'm inclined all right to… I don't want to say delete in the word of ignore it, but take it out of this bill. All right. Take that language and then propose a separate piece of legislation putting it into the proper title with the same language.

If I may offer, rather than starting the process again, it's not going to start the process. No, no. I mean, in a separate bill, you've got the bill in front of you. You could direct the compiler where to place it, and that way you wouldn't have to start the process again.

Okay? you know that could be it's just that I I while I appreciate it and it goes to all the work that's necessary, I also recognize that they're in Chapter 90 there are other provisions that have fiscal impact, as opposed to the redefinition, that would require a fiscal analysis outside of everything else that we're doing. Okay. And for the purposes of not wanting to styme or stunt the process of moving, I think that it is best from our side procedurally, and so that we can get the information is to have that fiscal conversation. Okay. While I agree with you that what you know the MOA or MOU that exists today possibly negates the you know the need for other sections. I have the same concern. MOAs and MOUs have a tendency to disappear. Okay. Then we get ourselves caught in the pickle. All right. as opposed to having that conversation and recognize it and then if you have to need to be and if it's the will of the body, to codify that funding stream that mechanism to do this, okay. I just I just don't want this to be that lynch pin or that stumbling block and force us to have to now go into a committee of the whole for the purposes of having a fiscal discussion, okay, on the floor and it's got nothing to do with rape, robberies, and murders. Okay. Okay. So,

Ste. 407 DNA Building
2238 Archbishop Flores St.
Hagatna, Guam 96910
(671) 989-8356

I see that. So, I you know, I mean, I want to know you let you to know in advance. I'm more inclined to say let's take that portion of this bill out. Create a separate legislation that's going to require a fiscal conversation. Nothing else is going to require it, but keep the same language that's there. All right. Great thing about it already done a lot of the intellectual review. Okay. is just now having that which you know as you said it was the basically the policy or that the commission doesn't engage with DOA or BBMR and I don't see the reason for why either until you got to this point I'm like okay we have a problem here so how do we do this and one of my suggestions will be let's separate this out for now so that we can have a different discussion on this while placing it elsewhere. Now what that does is you know as compared I'm speaking to the choir it keeps chapter 90. Let's say this bill was to pass and we removed all the recommendations of chapter 90. The reality fact is it keeps chapter 90 intact the way it is until legislation is okay.

So, it doesn't mean that we take it out then all of a sudden chapter 90 disappears. No, it stays intact the way it is where it's at until the new bill a new bill is introduced. Okay. and prosecuted for the for lack of a better term and then either placed in like you said in title five or in title 10. See that's another discussion which is going I don't want to I want this is going to be a long discussion on the floor to begin with. Okay. Okay. And so, I just that's so one that's one of the areas that I'm concerned about. So, you understand so it doesn't you know you guys don't watch you know from your monitor back in the courts when you on the session floor is what's the speaker doing okay or what's you know the chair chairperson doing so that's one of the things that we want to do to Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: if I if I may as you envision the body as this body envisioned we you created a recommending body, experts that would recommend ultimately as we said the ultimate decision whether to accept, revise or disregard is yours. So, we've given you our best advice based on what we were mandated to do. All I ask is that just be cognizant that MOAs evaporate as you know. the consent decree was finally closed. there may be a time issue depend how long that revision to 96. And finally, this took about I want to say four months of work this section with Judge Barrett-Anderson with the late director, with the current director as well as all the staff. So please

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: No, and your honor I recognize that but please also recognize, and thank you for the timelines and everything. This has been on their radar since then. Why did it take this body to be able to address it when they could have done that? Okay. So, please, no to no fault of yours, they got to thank you for bringing in. All right. I appreciate that there's an MOA or MOU that probably has stayed off, you know, receivership or further judicial action on this, but you're right, okay. It could disappear just as quickly as it came on. But, no, they had the time. They didn't have to wait for the CLRC to do the work for them or to use it as an excuse. And you know, I looked at it and I said pretty ambitious.

Okay, and while I again, all the work that you that you all have done in this, I'm looking at this like why didn't you bring this up earlier to us. And that's a question I need to ask DOC. Why'd you wait for the CLRC to do this? You could have done this yourself. All right. And so no, please understand. And then you know like I said, thank you. A lot of great recommendations and for the most part, I have no problem with it. My issue here is [Chapter] 90 and the fiscal nature that exists there. Okay. You know, I think that's it. Thank you very much Madam Chair. Thank you very much.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Thank you. Thank you, Speaker. A lot of the questions that I had of course were answered. I really appreciate the work that you put into this. There are some areas in the legislation which gives you the authority. Now remember when you were given this task to make any recommendations it was clearly stated that it was to make any other necessary changes to the law. So, it gave you a huge umbrella to work under. And some of those changes came in to the fact that actually talked about cockfighting, and moving in that direction where you took it upon yourself to codify it into Guam law versus because it's already federal law. And it makes you wonder, why now? Because, you know, federally they can go after anybody, where Guam decided not to codify it so that locally we're not using our forces, our police forces to apprehend or prosecute on our end. So, some of this stuff is huge. But I don't I think what the Speaker is talking about is very substantial. You know, trying to put everything in order. Was there ever a discussion on moving some of this stuff to Chapter 10 for DOC? You keeping them under the public safety. Were there any recommendations to do this at all? Thank you.

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: Thank you for that question. No, that was not discussed. It was a section-by-section analysis presuming it would stay, of course. As a Compiler, when you look at the code as a whole from my perspective and historically speaking. But the recommendation from the subcommission was not made either way. We just reviewed [Chapter] 90 as it was contained in Title 9.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: And as a Compiler of Law, I think it might in your opinion, you know makes a little easier to go straight to an area in the chapter that deals with public safety. And I believe DOC is public safety, you know. So, how would you feel as far as a Compiler, making it a lot easier for you to locate?

Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq., Ex-Officio Member, CLRC, Compiler of Laws: Speaking as the Compiler, not on behalf of DOCO or the subcommission, it is odd to have a government agency in Title 9. That decision was made back in 1975, 1976. But historically, again looking at the penal code, it was never in Title 9 or it was never in the criminal code. It was only thought to become the criminal and correctional code in [Public Law] 13-185. Historically in the old penal code that we've had since literally 19-Antes, it was separate in the government code. Whether in [Title] 10 or whether in [Title] 5, that really is the discretion. But generally speaking, as the Compiler, I think it makes sense to put it in [Title] 10 with GPD and with fire department.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: May I speak to that also please Madam Speaker?

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Sure, please.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: I'm the also a former Compiler of Laws. And so, I feel the tension that Gerry does when I look through Chapter 90, and I see that it includes only operational and administrative provisions, and no criminal offenses at all. I can't help but feel that consideration should be given to moving it to another appropriate title, more appropriate than in Title 9, which is criminal corrections. I could see where it was because it deals with corrections, but because it doesn't contain any criminal offenses and it does make sense to move it out of Title 9. But again, that's my hat as a former Compiler of Laws and not the Executive Director. But I thought I'd just add my two cents. Thank you.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: Okay. Well, thank you so much for that. We have a lot of work ahead of us on this. I didn't think it was going to be easy at all. None of us did. So, I think we just need to continue the conversation. We will have a markup meeting, and usually, you know, I invite all senators. I think in our markup meeting, I'm going to actually invite you, if you can make it. Both Serge as well as the Compiler, your honor. I know they represent you very well as the Commission. And of course, if there's someone else you would like to bring. We're going to look through the legislation. I know there are some recommendations that I think my committee has, you know, to the author of the legislation. I'd like to work with him first and then we'll call you in and make our changes from there and then we'll meet with you again in the markup meeting. Is that clear, please?

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: Thank you very much. And your honor, I'm going to go back to an old conversation that you and I had about Angora sheep and Kashmir goats. Okay. I'm still very much bothered by it because I see again how you have tightened the language with regard to murder, the offense of murder. Still uneasy about how the statute is in another title within the GCA. Okay. I really hope it wasn't the attempt to codify the justification for killing a dog or killing, you know, a pet and the owner. But at the same time, remember at the same section it basically gives you the remedies to how a victor in a duel, what his responsibilities are to the loser and his family, and where it really conflicts with is. And so, I just don't want the listening audience to say, what specific section is that? You know, where it's at. I'm not going to get into it and to make this. So, has there been a any discussion or analysis when you were looking at the statute of murder or even cruelty to animals? Remember, this very specifically states that any person finding the dog wounding or killing the sheep or the goat, that the owner of the sheep or the goat can kill the dog, and the owner. It's actually in Section 2233 of Subarticle 2 Chapter… I'm in Title 20.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: Yes, Mr. Speaker, that's in Title 20. It's not in the bill before us now.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: I know it's not in the bill, but what I'm getting at is again, how we do the technical and the legal analysis of how the change in this law here changes this over here.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: So, we have looked at that in our subcommission, at our subcommission level. We were mandated to look at criminal offenses outside of Title 9 and Title 8. So, we look outside of those two titles and our coverage will extend to everything. And because this was a particular interest, we looked at all those antiquated laws that perhaps on their face aren't criminal offenses, but they do, I think, intersect with criminal laws because they could create a criminal offense if they seem to permit dueling or otherwise conflict with cruelty to animal laws. And a lot of the laws you mentioned are more than 100 years old, came from a different state. Maybe they had a purpose once upon a time in their history. Yusuke led the research on that. He can speak to it a great deal. And these laws, I think came from California, and even California got rid of them. And so, I think the cleanup that we've accepted as part of our responsibility is to look at those laws that have no place in our code that could potentially possibly create an argument that someone could use as a defense. And, I think people in general realize that these are antiquated and don't have a place here. And so, yes, we've addressed that and we look at the conflicts and especially that section. I'll let Yusuke speak to whether there is coverage elsewhere for that law, if it'll be recommended for repeal.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: Yeah. And the reason why I say this is because as you laid out basically the prima facie, what are the elements to the offense, I find in another section another title of the GCA that it lays out the defense, all right. And it's okay, then never mind what you said in Title 9 because in Title 20 it says it's justifiable. And again, I bring this up to the subject matter experts, for lack of a better term, to just deal with it before somebody goes in uses dueling as a defense.

Yusuke Haffeman-Udagawa, Esq., Research Attorney, CLRC: Thank you, Senator, for that question. I believe our April 9, 2026 plenary hearing directly addresses a number of those antiquated laws, including dueling. And there was also a section on hurting animals, and defense of one's land, or other hurting animals. And as a preview, I guess of course it's not in this bill, but those sections including the dueling sections were voted to be repealed by the plenary. So, it's a work in progress. These sections outside of Title 9, we are covering them and they will be included in the next bill.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: I appreciate it. And like I said, I mean, when you look at it at face, okay, looks horrible. It looks scary. But then, okay. Was there a reason? All right. Serge, like you said, it may have been 200 years ago. I'm sure Serge and Geraldine; you can you can appreciate this. There were at one point in time, just less than a decade ago that we were still referencing canoes, okay, in our code. You know what I'm getting at. So thank you very much. I just wanted to make sure that we covered that so it doesn't provide us… You know, while you say that these are the elements for the crime here, that there is another section that provides you the justification for committing it, and then we're caught in a dilemma. You're caught in a dilemma, okay. I don't prosecute. You do.

Honorable Magistrate Judge Jonathan Quan, CLRC Chairperson: We're getting there. We're getting there.

Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: All right. Thank you. Thank you, Madam Chair.

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: You're very welcome, Speaker, and thank you for those questions. And it prepares us for what we have coming up. I think at this time I'm going to ask a big favor from you. And that is to, if you can please make any recommendations, make a recommendation on moving DOC to Chapter 10, and to adjust the legislation before us to reflect that change. This is going to be helpful for us as we review that area and I think is that Speaker Frank Blas Jr., Prime Sponsor: And if I can add, it's the recommendation to move Chapter 90 as it currently exists. Okay. We'll deal with now changing the structure after that. But like you said from the Compiler standpoint, if you put it there it can be done, fixing it afterwards so that it addresses many of the recommendations.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: You know it's a great idea. Yes, we can certainly do that. We're tentatively planning our next plenary meeting for November. Keeping our fingers crossed, no more typhoons. But yes, that would be our last one for the year.

Yes please. My goal is to have this completed ready to go for session for our December session in the first week, but I need to get this in as soon as possible. So, I'm asking a huge favor from you to make those changes and submit it to us in legislative form. what you submitted what we submitted to you and what you've submitted to us also of course what speaker asked for and any other recommendations just to separate it so that I think the following year I think we're going to have whoever takes over judiciary will be able to smoothly go into chapter nine you know and eight and any other recommendations but I really would like to move on this to get it on the December session agenda.

Andrew S. Quenga, Esq., Executive Director, CLRC: So, we'll work on that as quickly as possible

Senator Telo T. Taitague, Chairperson: And we'll keep in touch. So, that being said, if there are no further questions or comments, this concludes our discussion on Bill 317-38 (COR). My office will continue to accept written testimony on today's hearing which will be emailed to my office at 28238 Archbishop Flor Street Sweet 407 of the DNA building in Hagåtña. You may also send written testimony to my office via email at senatortelot@gmail.com. So, thank you all for your participation and create a great day.

Public Hearing Adjourned at: 10:10 a.m.

IV. FINDINGS & RECOMMENDATIONS

Bill No. 317-38 (COR) seeks to modernize Guam's criminal laws by adopting recommendations of the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission (CLRC). The bill updates outdated provisions, clarifies criminal offenses and penalties, and addresses inconsistencies in Titles 9 and 10 of the Guam Code Annotated. Established by Public Law 36-119 in November 2022, the CLRC was tasked with conducting the first comprehensive review of Guam's criminal laws since 1976. Its Interim Report was submitted on June 13, 2025, followed by a Notice of Errata and Revisions on February 6, 2026. The CLRC's review remains ongoing, with additional recommendations forthcoming for the remaining criminal statutes.

The Committee held public hearings on October 13 and 22, 2026, receiving oral and written testimony from the Judiciary, CLRC members, legal practitioners, and corrections officials.

Chief Justice Katharine A. Maraman, Magistrate Judge Jonathan R. Quan, CLRC Executive Director Andrew S. Quenga, and other Commission representatives supported the bill, emphasizing the need to modernize Guam's criminal laws. The CLRC presented its review of substantive changes, including revisions to criminal offenses, penalties, and defenses.

Written testimony from Joseph B. McDonald, retired Judge Anita A. Sukola, and Monty A. McDowell supported the Commission's recommendations, citing the need for clearer, more consistent, and enforceable criminal laws. Attorney William B. Brennan also supported the bill and recommended establishing the CLRC as a permanent entity to continue reviewing Guam's criminal statutes.

Testimony and discussions concerning Chapter 90 raised several concerns about the proposed changes to the Department of Corrections (DOC). These included the fiscal and operational impact of correctional medical services under § 90.26, the proposed quarterly funding requirements, and whether BBMR, DOA, GMHA, and GBHWC had been adequately consulted. Senators also questioned the proposed elimination of the Corrections Advisory Council, qualifications for the DOC Director, and changes to prison industries and inmate work programs, including their effects on sentence credits and funding for the Criminal Injuries Compensation Fund.

The Committee also questioned whether Chapter 90, which primarily addresses DOC administration and operations, should remain in Title 9. During the October 22 hearing, Speaker Frank F. Blas, Jr. recommended removing the proposed Chapter 90 amendments from Bill 317 to allow separate fiscal and agency review without delaying the remaining criminal law reforms. The Committee agreed to preserve existing law and consider the CLRC's recommendations through separate legislation, including the proposed relocation of Chapter 90 to Title 10.

The Committee also examined proposed changes to juvenile curfew and cockfighting laws, along with the need to incorporate public laws enacted during the Commission's review.

Following the public hearings and review of testimony, the Committee held a markup meeting on November 9, 2026, at 1:00 p.m. in the Clerk's Office Conference Room at the Guam Legislature. Invitations were extended to all senators and the Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission (CLRC) to provide additional feedback and proposed amendments before the bill was reported out of Committee.

In attendance were Committee Chairperson Senator Telo T. Taitague; Speaker Frank F. Blas, Jr., the bill's principal sponsor; Policy Advisor Edward Lee, representing Vice Speaker Tony Ada; CLRC Executive Director Andrew S. Quenga, Esq.; CLRC Ex-Officio Member and Compiler of Laws Geraldine A. Cepeda, Esq.; and CLRC Administrative Support Lisa Ibanez.

The Committee discussed concerns raised during the public hearings, particularly the proposed changes to Chapter 90 concerning the Department of Corrections, juvenile curfew provisions, animal fighting laws, and the incorporation of recently enacted legislation. The CLRC reviewed the Committee's proposed amendments, confirmed the related corrections, and provided additional technical and conforming recommendations.

Following the public hearings and the November 9, 2026 markup meeting, the Committee incorporated the following amendments into Bill No. 317-38 (COR), As Amended:

1. Bill Title (Page 1): Revised the title to remove Chapters 17, 22, 40, 47, 48, 90, and 91, which are not being amended by the bill, consistent with the CLRC's recommendation during markup.
2. Legislative Findings and Intent (Section 1, Page 2): Clarified that the Legislature is not adopting the CLRC's recommendations concerning § 31.65 (juvenile curfew), §§ 70.35 and 70.65 (animal fighting), and Chapter 90 (Corrections).
3. Effective Date (Section 4, Page 3): Incorporated the CLRC's recommendation to preserve the original effective dates and implementation requirements of laws enacted after June 13, 2025, and subsequently incorporated into Bill 317.
4. Third-Degree Criminal Sexual Conduct (Section 11, Page 41; 9 GCA § 25.25): Updated the provision to reflect Public Law 38-083, consistent with the CLRC's October 2, 2026 correspondence.
5. Production of Child Pornography (Page 52; 9 GCA § 25A204(a)(5)): Corrected the statutory reference from § 70.35 to § 28.70, as recommended by the CLRC during markup.
6. Juvenile Curfew (Section 13, Page 59; 9 GCA § 31.65): Removed the proposed repeal and preserved existing law. Any proposed changes to the curfew law will be considered separately to allow further public input.
7. Customs and Quarantine Agency Seals (Section 22, Page 152; 9 GCA § 55.75): Incorporated the provision enacted through Public Law 38-136, Section XII:67.
8. Animal Fighting/Cockfighting (Section 23, Page 156; 9 GCA § 70.35): Removed the proposed amendments and preserved existing law. Any proposed changes to animal fighting offenses and penalties may be considered through separate legislation.
9. Animal Fighting Exceptions (Page 162; 9 GCA § 70.65(g)): Restored the existing cockfighting exception under subsection (g)(2) and corrected the numbering of the remaining exceptions, consistent with the CLRC's recommendations.

10. Animal Welfare (Page 162; 9 GCA § 70.65(g)(3)): Restored the original provisions of existing law after the CLRC identified that its proposed amendment was inconsistent with 7 U.S.C. § 2160, which prohibits the slaughter of dogs and cats for human consumption.

11. Port Critical Infrastructure Protection (Section 23, Page 186; 9 GCA § 70.470): Incorporated the criminal offense and penalty provisions enacted through Public Law 38-157. The separate provisions enacted under Title 12 are not addressed in this bill and will be codified by the Compiler of Laws.

12. Chapter 90 - Corrections (Section 27, Page 191): Removed the proposed repeal and reenactment of Chapter 90, preserving existing law. The CLRC's recommendations will be addressed through separate legislation to allow further agency consultation and fiscal review, including consideration of relocating the chapter to Title 10, Division 3, as Chapter 59.

13. Technical and Conforming Corrections (Throughout): Incorporated applicable corrections from the CLRC's Notice of Errata and Revisions, additional recommendations received during markup, and updates necessary to account for recently enacted laws.

Following its review of the testimony, public hearing discussions, and recommendations received during markup, the Committee finds that Bill No. 317-38 (COR), As Amended, addresses needed updates to Guam's criminal laws while preserving existing provisions that warrant further review. The Committee appreciates the extensive work of the CLRC and recommends passage of the bill, with the understanding that the remaining issues may be addressed through separate legislation.

The Committee on Economic Investment, Military Buildup, Regional Relations, Technology, Regulatory Affairs, Justice, Elections, and Retirement hereby reports our Bill No. 317-38 (COR), As Amended- Introduced by Frank F. AN ACT TO REPEAL AND REENACT CHAPTERS 1, 4, 16, 17, 19, 22, 25, 25A, 31, 34, 37, 40, 43, 46, 47, 48, 52, 55, 70, 71, 90, AND 91 OF TITLE 9, GUAM CODE ANNOTATED AND TO AMEND §§ 60109, 60110, AND 60110.1 OF CHAPTER 60, TITLE 10, GUAM CODE ANNOTATED AS RECOMMENDED BY THE GUAM CRIMINAL LAW AND PROCEDURE REVIEW COMMISSION RELATIVE TO THE COMMISSION'S MANDATE TO RECOMMEND ENACTMENTS, AMENDMENTS AND REPEALS TO GUAM'S CRIMINAL LAWS AND PROCEDURES TO I LIHESLATURAN GUÅHAN.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF GUAM:

Section 1. Legislative Findings and Intent. Public Law 36-119 established the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission ("CLRC") to conduct the first comprehensive and systematic review of the Guam Criminal Procedure Code codified in Title 8 of the Guam Code Annotated and the Guam Criminal and Correctional Code codified in Title 9 of the Guam Code Annotated, which were adopted in 1976, and to recommend to I Liheslaturan Guåhan such revisions, amendments, and repeals as may be necessary to update and modernize these codes, with priority given to the review of Title 9 of the Guam Code Annotated.

In accordance with this mandate, the CLRC submitted to I Liheslaturan Guåhan, on June 13, 2025, an Interim Report setting forth its findings and recommendations for amendments to selected chapters of Title 9 of the Guam Code Annotated. The Interim Report, attached to this Bill as Exhibit A, identified changes to sections in blackline (markup) format, with CLRC comments explaining the changes or indicating that no changes were recommended. The remaining chapters of Title 9, and other criminal statutes, are to be addressed in subsequent reports of the CLRC.

On February 6, 2026, the CLRC submitted a Notice of Interim Report Errata and Revisions ("Notice of Errata") to I Liheslaturan Guåhan correcting clerical errors and withdrawing recommendations for those provisions in Title 9 that had been amended by legislation enacted after the CLRC Interim Report was transmitted to I Liheslaturan Guåhan on June 13, 2025. The Notice is attached to this Bill as Exhibit B.

Accordingly, it is the intent of I Liheslaturan Guåhan, through this Act, to adopt and implement the recommendations of the CLRC as set forth in the Interim Report and the Notice of Errata consistent with the purposes of Public Law 36-119. The remaining Title 9 Chapters will be subject to legislative review and approval upon their completion by the CLRC.

Title 9 Chapters included herein incorporate legislative amendments enacted after submission of the Interim Report.

Section 2. Guam Compiler of Laws to Codify. The Guam Compiler of Laws shall codify the chapters as repealed and reenacted in this Act and may include CLRC explanatory comments as appropriate.

Section 3. No Retroactive Effect. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to offenses committed prior to its effective date. For offenses committed prior to this Act's effective date, the laws in effect on the date of the commission of such offenses shall apply, with such laws being specifically revived and continued in effect solely for that purpose, as if this Act were not in force. An offense was committed after the effective date of this Act if any of the elements of the offense occurred subsequent thereto.

Section 4. Effective Date. This Act takes effect ninety (90) days after enactment.

Section 5. Chapter 1, Title 9, Guam Code Annotated, is hereby repealed and reenacted in its entirety as follows:

§ 1.14. ~~Purpose for Defining Offenses~~ Purposes, Principles of Construction.

(a) The general purposes of the provisions governing the definition of offense are:

(1) to forbid, prevent, and condemn conduct that unjustifiably and inexcusably inflicts or threatens substantial harm to individual or public interests;

(2) to insure the public safety by preventing the commission of offenses through the deterrent influence of the sentence authorized, the rehabilitation of those convicted, and their confinement when required in the interest of public protection;

(3) to subject to public control persons whose conduct indicates that they are disposed to commit offenses;

(4) to give fair warning of the nature of the conduct proscribed and of the sentences authorized upon conviction;

(5) to differentiate on reasonable grounds between serious and minor offenses; and

(6) to define adequately the act and mental state which constitute each offense, and limit the condemnation of conduct as criminal when it is without fault.

(b) The general purposes of the provisions governing the sentencing of offenders are:

(1) to prevent and condemn the commission of offenses;

(2) to promote the correction and rehabilitation of offenders;

(3) to assure the public safety by preventing the commission of offenses through the deterrent influence of sentences imposed and the confinement of offenders when required in the interest of public protections;

(c) The provisions of this Code shall be construed according to the fair import of their terms, but when the language is susceptible of differing constructions it shall be interpreted to further the general purposes stated in this Section and the special purposes of the particular provision involved. The discretionary powers conferred by this Code shall be exercised in accordance with the criteria stated in the Code and, insofar as such criteria are not decisive, to further the general purposes stated in this Section.

§ 1.16. Territorial Applicability.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a person may be convicted under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam of an offense committed by his own conduct or the conduct of another for which he is legally accountable if~~;~~:

(1) the conduct which is an element of the offense or the result which is such an element occurs within ~~this Territory~~ Guam;

(2) conduct occurring outside the Territory is sufficient under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam to constitute an attempt to commit an offense within ~~the Territory~~ Guam;

(3) conduct occurring outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam is sufficient under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam to constitute a conspiracy to commit or offense within ~~the Territory~~ Guam and an overt act in furtherance of such conspiracy occurs within ~~the Territory~~ Guam;

(4) conduct occurring within ~~the Territory~~ Guam establishes complicity in the commission of, or an attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy to commit, an offense in another jurisdiction which is also an offense under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam.

(5) the offense consists of the omission to perform a legal duty imposed by the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam with respect to domicile, residence, or a relationship to a person, thing, or transaction in ~~the Territory~~ Guam; or

(6) the offense is based on a statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam which expressly prohibits conduct outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam, when the conduct bears a reasonable relation to a legitimate interest of ~~this Territory~~ Guam and the person knows or should know that his conduct is likely to affect that interest.

(b) ~~Paragraph (1) of~~ Subsection (a)(1) does not apply when either causing a specified result or an intent to cause or danger of causing such a result is an element of an offense and the result occurs or is designed or likely to occur only in another jurisdiction where the conduct charged would not constitute an offense, unless a legislative purpose plainly appears to declare the conduct criminal regardless of the place of the result.

(c) ~~Paragraph (1) of~~ Subsection (a)(1) does not apply when causing a particular result is an element of an offense and the result is caused by conduct occurring outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam which would not constitute an offense if the result had occurred there, unless the person intentionally or knowingly caused the result within ~~the Territory~~ Guam.

(d) When the offense is homicide, either death of the victim or the bodily impact causing death constitutes a "result," within the meaning of ~~Paragraph (1) of~~ Subsection (a)(1) and if the body of a homicide victim is found within ~~the Territory~~ Guam, it is presumed that such result occurred within ~~the Territory~~ Guam.

(e) ~~The Territory~~ Guam includes the land and water and the air space above such land and water with respect to which ~~the Territory~~ Guam has legislative jurisdiction.

(f) Notwithstanding that territorial jurisdiction may be found under this Section, the court may dismiss, hold in abeyance for up to six months, or with the permission of the defendant, place on an inactive list a criminal prosecution under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam where it appears that such action is in the interests of justice because the defendant is being or is likely to be prosecuted for an offense based on the same conduct in another jurisdiction and ~~the Territory~~ Guam's interest will be adequately served by a prosecution in the other jurisdiction.

§ 1.18. Classes of Crimes.

(a) An offense defined by this Code or by any other statute of Guam, for which a sentence of imprisonment is authorized, constitutes a crime. Crimes are classified as felonies, misdemeanors or petty misdemeanors.

(b) A crime is a felony if it is so designated in this Code or if persons convicted thereof may be sentenced to imprisonment for a term which, apart from an extended term, is in excess of one year.

(c) A crime is a misdemeanor if it is so designated in this Code or in a statute other than this Code enacted subsequent thereto.

(d) Any offense declared by law to constitute a crime, without specification of the grade thereof or of the sentence authorized upon conviction, is a misdemeanor.

(e) A crime is a petty misdemeanor if it is so designated in this Code or in a statute other than this Code enacted subsequent thereto or if it is defined by a statute other than this Code which now provides that person convicted thereof may be sentenced to imprisonment for a maximum term of less than one year.

(f) An offense defined by this Code or by any other statute of Guam constitutes a violation if it is so designated in this Code or in the law defining the offense or if no other sentence than a fine, or fine and forfeiture or other civil penalty is authorized upon conviction. A violation does not constitute a crime and conviction of a violation shall not give rise to any disability or legal disadvantage based on conviction of a criminal offense.

(g) An offense defined by any statute of Guam other than this Code shall be classified as provided in this Section and the sentence that may be imposed upon conviction thereof shall hereafter be governed by this Code.

§ 1.19. Felonies Defined and Classified.

(a) Felonies defined by this Code are classified, for the purpose of sentence, into three degrees, as follows:

(1) felonies of the first degree;

(2) felonies of the second degree;

(3) felonies of the third degree.

Any crime declared to be a felony, without specification of degree, is of the third degree.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a felony defined by any statute of Guam other than this Code shall constitute for the purpose of sentence a felony of the third degree.

§1.20. Relationship of Code to Other Laws; Contempts, Penalties and Remedies.

(a) No conduct constitutes an offense unless it is a crime or violation under this Code or other statute of Guam.

(b) The provisions of this Code shall apply to offenses defined by other statutes, unless otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires.

(c) Nothing in this Code shall affect the power of a court to punish contempt or to employ any sanction authorized by law for the enforcement of an order or a civil judgment or decree.

(d) Nothing in this Code shall bar or suspend any liability for damages, penalty, forfeiture, or other remedy otherwise authorized by law to be recovered or enforced in any civil action or proceeding, for any conduct punishable by this Code.

§ 1.22. Prosecution for Conduct Which Constitutes More Than One Offense.

When the same conduct of a defendant may establish the commission of more than one offense, the defendant may be prosecuted for each such offense. He may not, however, be convicted of more than one offense if:

(a) one offense is included in the other as defined in 8 GCA § 105.58 ~~of the Criminal Procedure Code~~;

(b) one offense consists only of a conspiracy or other form of preparation to commit the other,

(c) inconsistent findings of fact are required to establish the commission of the offenses;

(d) the offenses differ only in that one is defined to prohibit a designated kind of conduct generally and the other to prohibit a specific instance of such conduct; or

(e) the offense is defined as a continuing course of conduct and the defendant's course of conduct was uninterrupted, unless the law provides that specific periods of such conduct constitute separate offenses.

§ 1.24. Double Jeopardy. Same Offense.

A prosecution of a defendant for a violation of the same provision of the statutes based upon the same facts as a former prosecution is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal by a finding of not guilty by the trier of fact or in a determination that there was insufficient evidence to warrant a conviction. A finding of guilty of a lesser included offense is an acquittal of the greater inclusive offense, although the conviction is subsequently set aside.

(b) The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint had been filed or the indictment found, by a final order or judgment for the defendant, which has not been set aside, reversed, or vacated and which necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact or a legal proposition that must be established for conviction of the offense.

(c) The former prosecution resulted in a conviction. There is a conviction if the prosecution resulted in a judgment of conviction which has not been reversed or vacated, a verdict of guilty which has not been set aside and which is capable of supporting a judgment, or a plea of guilty accepted by the court. In the latter two cases failure to enter judgment must be for a reason other than a motion of the defendant.

(d) The former prosecution was improperly terminated. Except as provided in this Subsection, there is an improper termination of a prosecution if the termination is for reasons not amounting to an acquittal, and it takes place after the jury was impaneled and sworn or, in a trial before a court without a jury, after the first witness was sworn but before findings were rendered by the trier of fact. Termination under any of the following circumstances is not improper:

(1) the defendant consents to the termination or waives, by motion to dismiss or otherwise, his right to object to the termination;

(2) the trial court finds that the termination is necessary because of the failure of the jury to agree upon a verdict after a reasonable time for deliberation has been allowed; or

(3) the trial court finds that the termination is required by a sufficient legal reason and a manifest or absolute or overriding necessity.

§ 1.26. Double Jeopardy. Different Offense.

A prosecution of a defendant for a violation of a different provision of the statutes or based on different facts than a former prosecution is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal or in a conviction as defined in § 1.24 and the subsequent prosecution is for:

(1) any offense of which the defendant could have been convicted on the first prosecution;

(2) any offense of which the defendant should have been tried on the first prosecution under ~~Subsection (b) of § 65.30 of the Criminal Procedure Code~~ 8 GCA § 65.30(b) unless the court ordered a separate trial of the charge of such offense; or

(3) the same conduct, unless (A) the offense of which the defendant was formerly convicted or acquitted and the offense for which he is subsequently prosecuted each requires proof of a fact not required by the other and the law defining each of such offenses is intended to prevent a substantially different harm or evil, or (B) the second offense was not consummated when the former trial began.

(b) The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint was filed or the indictment found, by an acquittal or by a final order or judgment for the defendant which has not been set aside, reversed or vacated and which acquittal, final order or judgment necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact which must be established for conviction of the second offense.

(c) The former prosecution was improperly terminated, as improper termination is defined in § 1.24, and the subsequent prosecution is for an offense of which the defendant could have been convicted had the former prosecution not been improperly terminated.

§ 1.28. Concurrent Jurisdiction. When a Bar to Prosecution.

When conduct constitutes an offense within the concurrent jurisdiction of Guam and of the United States or any state, a prosecution in any such other jurisdiction is a bar to a subsequent prosecution in Guam under the following circumstances:

(a) the first prosecution resulted in an acquittal or in a conviction as defined in § 1.24 and the subsequent prosecution is based on the same conduct, unless (1) the offense of which the defendant was formerly convicted or acquitted and the offense for which he is subsequently prosecuted each requires proof of a fact not required by the other and the law defining each of such offenses is intended to prevent a substantially different harm or evil or (2) the offense for which the defendant is subsequently prosecuted is intended to prevent a substantially more serious harm or evil than the offense of which he was formerly convicted or acquitted or (3) the second offense was not consummated when the former trial began; or

(b) the former prosecution was terminated after the information was filed or the indictment found, by an acquittal or by a final order or judgment for the defendant which has not been set aside, reversed or vacated and which acquittal, final order or judgment necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact which must be established for conviction of the offense of which the defendant is subsequently prosecuted.

§ 1.30. Former Prosecutions. When Not a Bar to Present Prosecution.

A prosecution is not a bar within the meaning of §§ 1.24, 1.26 and 1.28 under ~~either~~ any of the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution was before a court which lacked jurisdiction over the defendant or the offense tried in that court; ~~or~~

Section 6. Chapter 4, Title 9, Guam Code Annotated, is hereby repealed and reenacted in its entirety as follows:

CHAPTER 4

GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF LIABILITY

§ 4.10. Conduct to Include Voluntary Act or Omission.

A person is not guilty of an offense unless his liability is based on conduct which includes a voluntary act or the omission to perform an act of which he is physically capable.

§ 4.15. Voluntary Act Defined.

(a) A voluntary act is one performed consciously as a result of effort or determination.

(b) Possession is a voluntary act if the possessor knowingly procured or received the thing possessed, or was aware of his control of it for sufficient time to have been able to terminate his control.

§ 4.20. Liability for Omission Limited.

A person is not guilty of an offense if his liability is based solely on an omission unless the law defining the offense expressly so provides, or a duty to perform the act is otherwise imposed by law.

§ 4.25. Culpability.

Except as provided in § 4.45, a person is not guilty of a crime unless he acts intentionally, knowingly, recklessly or with criminal negligence, as the law may require, with respect to the conduct, the result thereof or the attendant circumstances which constitute the material elements of the crime.

§ 4.30. Culpability Defined.

(a) A person acts intentionally, or with intent, with respect to his conduct or to a result thereof when it is his conscious purpose to engage in the conduct or cause the result.

(b) A person acts knowingly, or with knowledge, with respect to his conduct or to attendant circumstances when he is aware of the nature of his conduct or that those circumstances exist. A person acts knowingly, or with knowledge, with respect to a result of his conduct when he is aware that his conduct is practically certain to cause the result.

(c) A person acts recklessly, or is reckless, with respect to attendant circumstances or the result of his conduct when he acts in awareness of a substantial risk that the circumstances exist or that his conduct will cause the result and his disregard is unjustifiable and constitutes a gross deviation from the standard of care that a reasonable person would exercise in the situation.

(d) A person acts with criminal negligence, or is criminally negligent, with respect to attendant circumstances or the result of his conduct when he should be aware of a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the circumstances exist or that his conduct will cause the result and his failure to be aware of the risk constitutes a gross deviation from the standard of care that a reasonable person would exercise in the situation.

§ 4.35. Culpability Applied to Elements of Offense.

(a) If the definition of an offense prescribes a culpable mental state but does not specify the conduct, attendant circumstances or result to which it applies, the prescribed culpable mental state shall apply to each such material element.

(b) If the definition of a crime prescribes criminal negligence as the culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally, knowingly or recklessly. When recklessness suffices to establish a culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally or knowingly. When acting knowingly suffices to establish a culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally.

(c) Knowledge that conduct constitutes an offense, or knowledge of the existence, meaning, or application of the statute defining an offense, is not an element of an offense unless the statue clearly so provides.

§ 4.40. Culpable Mental State Generally Required.

Except as provided in § 4.45, if the definition of a crime does not expressly prescribe a culpable mental state, a culpable mental state is nonetheless required and is established only if a person acts intentionally, knowingly or recklessly.

§ 4.45. ~~Same~~ Culpable Mental State: When Inapplicable.

The culpable mental state requirements of § 4.25 and § 4.40 do not apply if the offense is a violation or if the law defining the offense clearly indicates a purpose to dispense with any culpable mental state requirement.

§ 4.50. Causation Established and Defined.

(a) An element of an offense which requires that the defendant have caused a particular result is established when his conduct is an antecedent but for which the result would not have occurred, and,

(1) if the offense requires that the defendant intentionally or knowingly caused the result, that the actual result, as it occurred,

(A) is within the purpose of contemplation of the defendant, whether the purpose or contemplation extends to natural events or to the conduct of another, or, if not,

(B) involves the same kind of injury or harm as that designed or contemplated and is not too remote, accidental in its occurrence or dependent on another's volitional act to have a just bearing on the defendant's liability or on the gravity of his offense;

(2) if the offense requires that the defendant recklessly or negligently cause the result, that the actual result, as it occurred,

(A) is within the risk of which the defendant was or should have been aware, whether that risk extends to natural events or to the conduct of another, or, if not,

(B) involves the same kind of injury or harm as that recklessly or negligently risked and is not too remote, accidental in its occurrence or dependent on another's volitional act to have a just bearing on the defendant's liability or on the gravity of his offense;

(3) if the offense imposes strict liability, that the actual result, as it occurred, is a ~~probably~~ probable consequence of the defendant's conduct.

(b) A defendant shall not be relieved of responsibility for causing a result if the only difference between what actually occurred and what was designed, contemplated or risked is that a different person or property was injured or affected or that a less serious or less extensive injury or harm occurred.

§ 4.55. Guilt Established by Causing or Aiding Innocent Party in Commission of Crime.

A person is guilty of an offense if, acting with the culpability required for the offense, he causes or aids an innocent or non-responsible person to engage in conduct prohibited by the definition of the offense.

§ 4.60. Guilt Established by Complicity.

A person is guilty of an offense if, with the intention of promoting or assisting in the commission of the offense, he induces or aids another person to commit the offense. If the definition of the offense includes lesser offenses, the offense of which each person shall be guilty shall be determined according to his own culpable mental state and to those aggravating or mitigating factors which apply to him.

§ 4.65. Criminal Facilitation Established and Punished.

A person is guilty of criminal facilitation when, knowing that another person intends to engage in conduct which in fact constitutes a crime, he knowingly furnishes substantial assistance to him.

Criminal facilitation of a felony of the first degree is a felony of the third degree.

Criminal facilitation of a felony of the second or of the third degree is a misdemeanor.

Criminal facilitation of a misdemeanor or petty misdemeanor is a petty misdemeanor.

§ 4.70. Criminal Liability for Acts of Another: ~~Non-Availability of~~ Certain Defenses Not Available.

In any prosecution in which the criminal liability of the defendant is based upon the conduct of another person, it is no defense that:

(a) the offense can be committed only by a particular class of persons to which the defendant does not belong; or

(b) the other person has legal immunity from prosecution, or has not been prosecuted for or convicted of an offense based upon the conduct in question, or has previously been acquitted.

§ 4.75. ~~Same~~ Criminal Liability for Acts of Another: Defenses Available.

Unless otherwise provided by law, in any prosecution in which the criminal liability of the defendant is based upon the conduct of another person, it is a defense that:

(a) the defendant was a victim of the offense; or

(b) under circumstances manifesting a voluntary and complete renunciation of his criminal intent, the defendant withdrew from participation in the offense and made a reasonable effort to stop the commission of the offense.

§ 4.80. Criminal Liability of Corporations.

(a) A corporation may be convicted of:

(1) any offense committed in furtherance of its affairs on the basis of conduct performed, authorized, requested, commanded or recklessly tolerated by (A) the board of directors; (B) a managerial agent acting in the scope of his employment; or (C) any other person for whose conduct the statute defining the offense provides criminal responsibility;

(2) any offense consisting of a failure to perform a duty imposed by law; or

(3) any petty misdemeanor or violation committed by an agent of the corporation acting in the scope of his employment in furtherance of its affairs.

(b) It is no defense that an individual upon whose conduct liability of the corporation is based has not been prosecuted or convicted, has been convicted of a different offense or is immune from prosecution.

(c) As used in this Section, managerial agent means an agent of the corporation having duties of such responsibility that his conduct may fairly be found to represent the policy of the corporation.

COMPUTER SPYWARE PROTECTION ACT

§ 46.601. Title.

This Act may be cited as the "Computer Spyware Protection Act."

§ 46.602. Legislative Findings and Intent.

I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that spyware is a problem that adversely affects nearly every computer connected to the internet. Spyware is a catch-all term for computer programs that can track computer users' movements online. There are hundreds of programs that range from innocuous "ad-ware," which generates pop-up advertisements, to more dangerous programs that can record a user's keystrokes to gather personal information, such as credit card numbers and passwords, without their knowledge, and forward this information to another entity without the consumer's consent. Spyware is a serious problem that can create substantial privacy risks, increase the risk of identity theft, and cause serious degradation to personal and business computers that can cost millions of dollars in lost productivity.

It is the intent of I Liheslatura to protect owners and operators of computers on Guam from the use of spyware and malware that is deceptively or surreptitiously installed on the owner's or the operator's computer.

§ 46.603. Definitions.

(a) Cause to be copied means to distribute or transfer computer software, or any component thereof. Such term shall not include providing:

(c) Computer virus means a computer program or other set of instructions that is designed to degrade the performance of, or disable, a computer or computer network, and is designed to have the ability to replicate itself on other computers or computer networks without the authorization of the owners of those computers or computer networks.

(d) Damage means any significant impairment to the integrity or availability of data, software, a system, or information.

(e) Execute, when used with respect to computer software, means the performance of the functions or the carrying out of the instructions of the computer software.

(f) Intentionally deceptive means any of the following:

(1) an intentionally and materially false or fraudulent statement;

(2) a statement or description that intentionally omits or misrepresents material information in order to deceive an owner or operator of a computer; or

(3) an intentional and material failure to provide a notice to an owner or operator regarding the installation or execution of computer software for the purpose of deceiving the owner or operator.

(g) Internet means the global information system that is logically linked together by a globally unique address space based on the internet protocol (IP), or its subsequent extensions, and that is able to support communications using the transmission control protocol/internet protocol (TCP/IP) suite, or its subsequent extensions, or other IP-compatible protocols, and that provides, uses, or makes accessible, either publicly or privately, high-level services layered on the communications and related infrastructure described in this Subsection.

(h) Owner or operator means the owner or lessee of a computer, or a person using such computer with the owner or lessee's authorization, but does not include a person who owned a computer prior to the first retail sale of the computer.

(i) Message means a graphical or text communication presented to an authorized user of a computer.

(j) Person means any individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, or other organization, or any combination thereof.

(1) the first name or first initial in combination with the last name;

(2) a home or other physical address including street name;

(3) a personal identification code in conjunction with a password required to access an identified account, other than a password, personal identification number or other identification number transmitted by an authorized user to the issuer of the account or its agent;

(4) a social security number, tax identification number, driver's license number, passport number, or any other government-issued identification number; or

(5) an account balance, overdraft history, or payment history that personally identifies an owner or operator of a computer.

§ 46.604. Prohibitions, Use of Software.

It is unlawful for a person who is not an owner or operator of a computer to cause computer software to be copied on such computer knowingly or with conscious avoidance of actual knowledge or willfully, and to use such software to do any of the following:

(a) modify, through intentionally deceptive means, settings of a computer that control any of the following:

(1) the web page that appears when an owner or operator launches an internet browser or similar computer software used to access and navigate the internet;

(3) by extracting from the hard drive of an owner's or an operator's computer, an owner's or an operator's social security number, tax identification number, driver's license number, passport number, any other government-issued identification number, account balances, or overdraft history for a purpose unrelated to any of the purposes of the software or service described to an authorized user;

(c) prevent, through intentionally deceptive means, an owner's or an operator's reasonable efforts to block the installation of or execution of, or to disable, computer software by causing computer software that the owner or operator has properly removed or disabled to automatically reinstall or reactivate on the computer without the authorization of an authorized user;

(d) intentionally misrepresent that computer software will be uninstalled or disabled by an owner's or an operator's action;

(e) through intentionally deceptive means, remove, disable, or render inoperative security, antispyware, or antivirus computer software installed on an owner's or an operator's computer;

(f) enable use of an owner's or an operator's computer to do any of the following:

(1) accessing or using a modem or internet service for the purpose of causing damage to an owner's or an operator's computer, or causing an owner or operator, or a third party affected by such conduct to incur financial charges for a service that the owner or operator did not authorize;

(1) When the Director determines the existence of conditions which have affected, or in the immediate future will affect, the physical integrity of any correctional institution over which he has jurisdiction or the health or safety of the inmates thereof; and

(2) The effect of such conditions will, in the Director's opinion, be to render such institution unable to provide secure custody and proper care for the inmates thereof. The term 'conditions' as used hereinabove includes, although it is not limited to fire, earthquake, explosion, typhoon, flood, other acts of God and calamitous events and diseases, but it shall not include riot, insurrection or any other disturbance created by the inmates of such institution.

(d) Termination of Correctional Emergency. Whenever the Director determines that the conditions which necessitated the declaration of a correctional emergency no longer have the effect of rendering the correctional institution unable to provide secure custody and proper care for the inmates thereof, the Director shall declare the termination of such correctional emergency. Such declaration shall be in writing and executed by the Director and shall be filed and delivered as set forth in Subsection (b) of this Section. Such termination shall be effective immediately upon its execution.

(e) Return of Inmates. Upon the termination of a correctional emergency, all inmates who were transferred under the provisions of Subsection (c) of this Section shall immediately be returned to the correctional institution from which they were transferred, at the Department's expense.

§ 90.47. ~~Inmate Transfer:~~ Non-Emergency Transfers of Inmates.

The Director ~~of Corrections~~ is authorized to transfer an inmate to a correctional institution outside of Guam in non-emergency circumstances.

(b) when an inmate is subsequently convicted of a violation of § 58.20 or § 58.30 of this Code~~, or of any violent crime~~.

§ 90.47.02. ~~Same:~~ Non-disciplinary Transfers of Inmates.

The Director may recommend the transfer of an inmate to an institution outside of Guam for non-disciplinary circumstances under either of the following circumstances:

(a) whenever the Director determines that, due to the physical or mental condition of an inmate, the present incarceration lacks adequate facilities for custody, care, subsistence, education, treatment or training of the inmate, and that of the inmate would be better served by transfer to an institution outside of Guam; or

(b) whenever the Director determines that due to overcrowding which impacts on the adequacy of the facility to provide for the safe custody, care, subsistence, education, treatment and training of an inmate the interest of the inmate is better served by such transfer to an institution outside Guam.

§ 90.47.03. ~~Same:~~ Procedures for Transfers of Inmates.

Whenever the Director ~~of the Department of Corrections~~ determines that an inmate be recommended for transfer to a correctional institute outside of Guam, the Director shall ~~convene a Transfer Review Committee to~~ review the basis for such recommended transfer. The Director shall ~~promulgate~~ provide ~~through Executive~~

~~Order rules and regulations for the establishment of a Transfer Review Committee to include:~~

~~(a) a minimum of five (5) members to include a DOC case worker, the Attorney General or representative, a correctional officer, an inmate, a member of the clergy;~~

No inmate shall be recommended for transfer while any conviction for which he was incarcerated is on appeal. Any statement made by an inmate during the course of a transfer hearing shall not be admitted in evidence against the inmate in any subsequent criminal action, except for the purpose of impeachment or in a trial for perjury, false swearing or contempt.~~

~~(b) The Administrative Adjudication Law and the Open Government Law shall not apply to any proceeding or action taken under this Section, nor shall any inmate be represented by counsel in any proceeding held pursuant to this Section.~~

~~§ 90.47.05.Same: Appeal from Determination.~~

~~Any inmate whom the Transfer Review Committee has determined is to be transferred under these provisions may appeal such determination to the Superior Court of Guam. The review of the Superior Court shall not be de novo, and shall be limited to a review of the record to determine whether the Transfer Review~~

~~Committee made its determination based upon a fair and full hearing. A determination may be reversed only upon a showing that the Committee abused its discretion in applying the rules and regulations to the facts which provided the basis for the recommended transfer, and that to allow the decision to stand would result in a miscarriage of justice. Notice of filing an appeal in accordance with this Subsection does not automatically stay an inmates transfer pending appeal.~~

~~§ 90.48. Nursing Mothers-Accommodations.~~

~~(a) The Director of the Department of Corrections must make reasonable efforts to provide a breast pump and a sanitary room, other than a toilet stall, or a private area where a nursing mother confined at the Department of Corrections facilities can express her milk.~~

~~(b) A nursing mother confined at the Department of Corrections facilities may be allowed to breastfeed her child in a sanitary room, other than a toilet stall, or a private area as long as safeguards are in place, as determined by the Director, to prevent her escape and as long as it is not a threat to the infant's and the public's safety and welfare.~~

§ 90.48. Transfers Pursuant to Treaty.

When a treaty is in effect between the United States and a foreign country that provides for the transfer of convicted offenders who are citizens or nationals of the foreign country, upon the recommendation of the Attorney General of Guam, I Maga'lahen Guåhan (the Governor of Guam) or the Director of the Department of Corrections, if designated by I Maga'lahi (the Governor), on behalf of the island and subject to the terms of the treaty; may consent to the transfer of the convicted offenders who are under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections to the place or jurisdiction specified in the treaty. ~~or to the executive authority of the state where the juvenile is alleged to be located a written requisition for the return of such juvenile. Such requisition shall set forth the name and age of the juvenile, the determination of the court that the juvenile has run away without the consent or a parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to his legal custody, and that it is in the best interest and for the protection of such juvenile that he be returned. In the event that a proceeding for the adjudication of the juvenile as a delinquent, neglected or dependent juvenile is pending in the court at the time when such juvenile runs away, the court may issue a requisition for the return of such juvenile upon its own motion, regardless of the consent of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to legal custody, reciting therein the nature and circumstances of the pending proceeding. The requisition shall in every case be executed in duplicate and shall be signed by the judge. One (1) copy of the requisition shall be filed with the Compact Administrator of the demanding state, there to remain on file subject to the provision of law governing records of such court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a juvenile who has run away, the court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue and order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing him to take into custody and detain such juvenile. Such detention order must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No juvenile detained upon such order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the court demanding him shall have appointed to receive him, unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of a court in the state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his return, and who shall appoint counsel or guardian and litem for him. If the judge of such court shall find that the requisition is in order he shall deliver such juvenile over the officer whom the court demanding him shall have appointed to receive him. The judge, however may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.~~

~~Upon reasonable information that a person is a juvenile who has run away from another state party to this Compact without the consent of a parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to his legal custody, such juvenile may be taken into custody without a requisition and brought forthwith before a judge of the appropriate court who shall appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for such juvenile and who shall determine after a hearing whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person, subject to the order of the court, for his own protection and welfare, for such a time not exceeding ninety (90) days as will enable his return to another state party to this Compact pursuant to a requisition for his return from a court of that state. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a juvenile who has run away, there is pending in the state wherein he is found any criminal charge, or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in such state; or if he is suspended of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of such state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of any state party to this Compact, upon the establishment of their authority and the identity of the juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport such juvenile through any and all states party to this Compact, without interference. Upon his return to the state from which he ran away, the juvenile shall be subject to such further proceedings as may be appropriate under the law of that state.~~

~~(b) That the state to which a juvenile is returned under this Article shall be responsible for payment of the transportation cost of such return.~~

~~(c) That juvenile as used in this Article means any person who is a minor under the law of the state of residence of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to the legal custody of such minor.~~

~~Article V~~

~~Return of Escapes and Absconders~~

~~(a) That the appropriate person or authority from whose probation or parole supervision a delinquent juvenile has absconded or from whose institutional custody he has escaped shall present to the appropriate court or to the executive authority of the state where the delinquent juvenile is alleged to be located a written requisition for the return of such delinquent juvenile. Such requisition shall state the name and age of the delinquent juvenile, the particulars of his adjudication as a delinquent juvenile, the circumstances of the breach of the terms of his probation or parole or of his escape from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision, and the location of such delinquent juvenile, if known, at the time the requisition is made. The requisition shall be verified by the affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be accompanied by two (2) certified copies of judgment, formal adjudication, or order of commitment which subjects such delinquent juvenile to probation or parole or to the legal custody of the institution or agency concerned. Such further affidavits and other documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with such requisition. One (1) copy of the requisition shall be filed with the Compact Administrator of the demanding state, there to remain on file subject to provisions of law governing records of the appropriate court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a delinquent juvenile who has absconded or escaped, the court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing him to take into custody and detain such delinquent juvenile. Such detention order must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. The delinquent juvenile detained upon such order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him, unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of an appropriate court in the state, who shall inform him of the~~

~~demand made for his return and who shall appoint counsel or guardian and litem for him. If the judge of such court shall find that the requisition is in order he shall deliver such delinquent juvenile over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him. The judge, however, may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.~~

~~Upon reasonable information that a person is a delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision in any state party to this Compact, such person may be taken into custody in any other state party to his Compact without a requisition. But in such event, he must be taken forthwith before a judge of the appropriate court, who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for such person and who shall determine, after a hearing whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person subject to the order of the court for such a time, not exceeding ninety (90) days, at will enable his detention order issued on a requisition pursuant to this Article. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a delinquent juvenile who has either absconded while on probation or parole or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision, there is pending in the state wherein he is detained any criminal charge or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of such state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of any state party to this Compact, upon the establishment of their authority and identity of the delinquent juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport such delinquent juvenile through any and all states party to this Compact, without~~

~~interference. Upon his return to the state from which he escaped or absconded, the delinquent juvenile shall be subject to such further proceedings as may be appropriate under the laws of that state.~~

~~(b) That the state to which a delinquent juvenile is returned under this Article shall be responsible for payment of the transportation cost of such return.~~

~~Article VI~~

~~Voluntary Return Procedure~~

~~That any delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision in any state party to this Compact, and any juvenile who has run away from any state party to this Compact, who is taken into custody without requisition in another state party to this Compact under the provisions of Article IV(a) or of Article V(a), may consent to his immediate return to the state from which he absconded, escaped or ran away. Such consent shall be given by the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and his counsel or guardian ad litem if any, by executing or subscribing a writing, in the presence of a judge of the appropriate court, which states that the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and his counsel or guardian ad litem consent to his return to the demanding state. Before such consent shall be executed or subscribed, however, the judge, in the presence of counsel or guardian ad litem shall inform the juvenile or delinquent juvenile of his rights under this Compact. When the consent has been duly executed, it shall be forwarded to and filed with the Compact Administrator of the state to which the court is located and the judge shall direct the officer having the juvenile or delinquent juvenile in custody to deliver him to the duly accredited officer or officers of the state demanding his return; and shall cause to be delivered to such officer or officers a copy of the consent. The court may, however, upon the request of the state to which the juvenile or delinquent juvenile is being returned, order him to return unaccompanied to such state and shall provide him with a copy of such court order; in such event a copy of the consent shall be forwarded to the Compact Administrator of the state to which said juvenile or delinquent juvenile is ordered to return.

Article VII

Cooperative Supervision of Probationers and Parolees

(a) That the duly constituted judicial and administrative authorities of a state party to this Compact (herein called 'sending state') may permit any delinquent juvenile within such state, placed on probation or parole, to reside in any other state party to this Compact (herein called 'receiving state') while on probation or parole and the receiving state shall accept such delinquent juvenile if the parent, guardian or person entitled to the legal custody of such delinquent juvenile is residing or undertakes to reside within the receiving state. Before granting such permission, opportunity shall be given to the receiving state to make such investigation as it deems necessary. The authorities of the sending state shall send to the authorities of the receiving state copies of pertinent court orders, social case studies and all other available information which may be of value and assist the receiving state in supervising a probationer or parolee under this Compact. A receiving state, in it discretion, may agree to accept supervision of a probationer or parolee in cases where the parent, guardian or person entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile is not a resident of the receiving state, and if so accepted the sending state may transfer supervision accordingly.

(b) That each receiving state will assume the duties of visitation and of supervision over any such delinquent juvenile and in the exercise of those duties will be governed by the same standards of visitation and supervision that prevail for its own delinquent juveniles released on probation or parole.

(c) That, after consultation between the appropriate authorities of the sending state and of the receiving state as to the desirability and necessity of returning such

~~a delinquent juvenile, the duly accredited officers of a sending state may enter a receiving state and there apprehend and retake any such delinquent juvenile on probation or parole. For that purpose, no formalities will be required, other than establishing the authority of the officer and the identity of the delinquent juvenile to be retaken and returned. The decision of the sending state to retake a delinquent juvenile on probation or parole shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving state, but, if at the time the sending state seeks to retake a delinquent juvenile on probation or parole, there is pending against him within the receiving state any criminal charge or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for any act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of the receiving state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of the sending state shall be permitted to transport delinquent juveniles being so returned through any and all states party to this Compact, without interference.~~

~~(d) That the sending state shall be responsible under this Article for paying the costs of transporting any delinquent juvenile to the receiving state or of returning any delinquent juvenile to the sending state.~~

~~Article VIII~~

~~(b) That nothing in this Compact shall be construed to prevent any party state or subdivision thereof from asserting any right against any person, agency, or other entity in regard to costs for which such party state or subdivision thereof may be responsible pursuant to Articles IV (b), V (b) or VII (d) of this Compact.~~

~~Article IX~~

~~Detention Practices~~

~~That, to every extent possible, it shall be the policy of states party to this Compact that no juvenile or delinquent juvenile shall be placed or detained in any prison, jail or lock-up nor be detained or transported in association with criminal, vicious or dissolute persons.~~

~~Article X~~

~~Supplementary Agreements~~

~~That the duly constituted administrative authorities of a state party to this Compact may enter into supplementary agreements with any other state or states party hereto for the cooperative care, treatment and rehabilitation of delinquent juveniles whenever they shall find that such agreements will improve the facilities or programs available for such care, treatment and rehabilitation. Such care, treatment and rehabilitation. Such care, treatment and rehabilitation may be provided in an institution located within any state entering delinquent juveniles whenever they shall find that such agreements will improve the facilities or programs available for such care, treatment and rehabilitation. Such care, treatment and rehabilitation may be provided in an institution located within any state entering into such supplementary agreement. Such supplementary agreements shall (1) provide the rates to be paid for the care, treatment and custody of such delinquent juveniles, taking into consideration the character of facilities, services and subsistence furnished; (2) provide that the delinquent juvenile shall be given a court hearing prior to his being sent to another state for care, treatment and custody; (3) provide that the~~

~~state receiving such a delinquent juvenile in one of its institutions shall act solely as agent for the state sending such delinquent juvenile; (4) provide that the sending state shall at all times retain jurisdiction over delinquent juveniles sent to an institution in another state; (5) provide for reasonable inspection of such institutions by the sending state; (6) provide that the consent of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to the legal custody of said delinquent juvenile shall be secured prior to this being sent to another state; and (7) make provision for such other matters and details as shall be necessary to protect the rights and equities of such delinquent juveniles and of the cooperating state.~~

The duties and obligations of a renouncing state under Article VII hereto shall continue as to parolees and probationers residing therein at the time of withdrawal until retaken or finally discharged. Supplementary agreements entered into under Article X hereof shall be subject to renunciation as provided by such supplementary agreements, and shall not be subject to the six (6) months' renunciation notice of the present Article.~~

~~Article XV~~

~~Severability~~

~~That the provisions of this Compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this Compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. ~~Article XVI~~

~~Out-of-State Confinement~~

~~(a) This Article, known as the Out-of-State Confinement Amendment to the Interstate Compact on Juveniles, is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this~~

~~Territory with all other states legally joining therein the form substantially as follows:~~

~~(1) Whenever the duly constituted judicial or administrative authorities in a sending state shall determine that confinement of a probationer or reconfinement of a parolee is necessary or desirable, said officials may direct that the confinement or reconfinement be in an appropriate institution for delinquent juveniles within the Territory of the receiving state, such receiving state to act in that regard solely as agent for the sending state.~~

~~(2) Escapees and absconders who could otherwise be returned pursuant to Article V of the Compact may be confined or reconfined in the receiving state pursuant to this Article. In any such case the information and allegations required to be made and furnished in a requisition pursuant to such Article shall be made and furnished, but in place of the demand pursuant to Article V, the sending state shall request confinement or reconfinement in the receiving state. Whenever applicable, detention orders as provided in Article V may be employed pursuant to this Paragraph preliminary to disposition of the escapee or absconder.~~

~~(3) The confinement or reconfinement of a parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder pursuant to this Article shall require the concurrence of the appropriate judicial or administrative authorities of the receiving state.~~

~~(4) As used in this Article: (1) sending state means sending state as the term is used in Article VII of the Compact or the state from which a delinquent juvenile has escaped or absconded within the meaning of Article V of the Compact; (2) receiving state means any state, other than the sending state, in which a parolee, probationer, escapee, or absconder may be found, provided that said state is a party to this Article.~~

~~(7) All persons who may be confined in a "Compact Institution" pursuant to the provisions of this Article shall be treated in a reasonable and humane manner. The fact of confinement or reconfinement in a receiving state shall not deprive any person so confined or reconfined of any rights which said person would have had if confined or reconfined in an appropriate institution of the sending state; nor shall any agreement to submit to confinement or reconfinement pursuant to the terms of this Article be construed as a waiver of any rights which the delinquent would have had if he had been confined or reconfined in any appropriate institution of the sending state except that the hearing or hearings, if any, to which a parolee, probationer, escapee or absconder may be entitled (prior to confinement or reconfinement) by the laws of the sending state may be had before the appropriate judicial or administrative officers of the receiving state. In this event, said judicial and administrative officers shall act as agents of the sending state after consultation with appropriate officers of the sending state.~~

~~(8) Any receiving state incurring costs or other expenses under this amendment shall be reimbursed in the amount of such costs or other expenses~~

~~by the sending state unless the states concerned shall specifically otherwise agree. Any two or more states party to this Compact may enter into supplementary agreements determining a different allocation of costs as among themselves.~~

~~(A) Rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the terms of this Article may be promulgated by the appropriate officers of those states which have enacted this Article.~~

(b) The Department of Corrections is the only prison on Guam and provides services to local and federal agencies. DOC provides custodial care to individuals who are convicted of crimes and for those who are waiting judicial disposition. The environment of the prison must meet federal standards such as the National Prison Standards, Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA), and the National Commission on Correctional Healthcare Standards (NCCHC), which ensures that the living conditions are decent and humane; but, with the issue of overcrowding and structural failures, DOC has been struggling to properly execute their mandates and comply with national standards. DOC is ensuring that it prevents any violations of the Federal Consent Decree, which requires the Government of Guam to improve the living conditions of the inmates following the Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons Act.

(c) The Adult Correctional Facility (ACF) in Mangilao is in its stages of failure due to age and lack of modern technology, which is affecting the operations and personnel of the correctional agency. The ACF was built to hold a maximum of three hundred (300) inmates and detainees; and currently, the population of Guam is growing as well as its crime rates, while DOC has outgrown its ACF. Over time, other DOC buildings were added to address the overcrowding issues of the ACF, and buildings used for rehabilitation and offices were re-designed to accommodate the rising population of prisoners. The Adult Correctional Facility is made of fifteen (15) housing units, which holds not only local inmates and detainees, but also immigration and federal detainees. The lack of proper facilities prevents DOC from properly providing rehabilitation to the inmates.

(d) The poor condition of the housing units of the prison is not cost effective or adequate to handle the growing prisoner population, and DOC recognized the difficulty in meeting its mandates of providing security, health, rehabilitation and welfare to the inmates and detainees under its care without compromising the well-being of its personnel. The main goal of the Department of Corrections is to provide rehabilitation to individuals who have been convicted of crimes and ensure that they become useful members of the community and to themselves.

(e) Furthermore, I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that DOC has plans to build a new Department of Corrections facility with a bed capacity for one thousand (1,000) inmates to replace its current prison if funding was available. The new prison would provide the proper space to meet its mandates and the demands of its growing prisoner population. The Department of Corrections had started to draft an eighty (80)-year master plan, which will provide a phase-to-phase plan to construct a new Department of Corrections facility that will meet its construction goal of a bed capacity of one thousand (1,000) inmates. The Department of Corrections' goal is to ensure that all the issues on structural, technology, and security of the inmates and personnel are covered. The master plan also ensures that DOC meets all federal standards such as the National Prison Standards and PREA standards.

(f) Therefore, it is the intent of I Liheslaturan Guåhan to provide the Department of Corrections with the proper confinement of offenders in a controlled environment prison and community-based facilities that are safe, humane, cost-efficient, and appropriately secure, which also promotes the safety of the people of Guam. I Liheslaturan Guåhan has identified funding to construct a new Department of Corrections Adult Correctional Facility through the Earned Income Tax Credits to be reimbursed to Guam at an estimated Sixty Million Dollars ($60,000,000) annually, of which an estimate of no more than Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000) will be allocated for the payments of the lease-back agreement.

(g) In an effort to overcome financing hurdles, and to provide DOC with the proper tools to meet its mandates, I Liheslaturan Guåhan desires to authorize the Government of Guam to enter into contract for the financing, design, construction, and long-term capital maintenance of a new Department of Corrections facility with private sector contractors who can provide long-term financing.

(h) To facilitate the financing, design, construction, and maintenance of a new Department of Corrections facility envisioned by this Act, the Government of Guam will be authorized to execute a lease agreement of existing property under its inventory for up to thirty (30) years on which the new Department of Corrections facility will be constructed.

(i) The lease of the Government of Guam's property will be to the contractor and/or the Guam Economic Development Authority, who will design and construct the new Department of Corrections facility and provide a funding for the design and construction through appropriations received from the reimbursement of the Earned Income Tax Credit for Fiscal Year 2022 and prospective appropriations from the General Fund, thereafter annually. Upon completion of the construction, the facilities and land will be leased back to the Government of Guam for a period not to exceed the initial ground lease to the contractor over which time the Government of Guam will amortize, as lease payments to the contractor, the cost of financing, design, construction, and related expenses of the new Department of Corrections.

(j) The contractor/developer will also be responsible for the capital maintenance and repair of the Department of Corrections constructed under this Act, which costs shall be paid by the Government of Guam as provided for under this Act. At the expiration of the lease-back period, the Government of Guam real property and the Department of Corrections constructed on the Government of Guam real property will revert to the Government of Guam with no further obligations to the contractor.

§ 90.303. Authorization to Enter into Long-Term Leases.

(a) For the purpose of facilitating the financing, design, construction, and maintenance of the new Department of Corrections encompassed by this Act, the Government of Guam is authorized to lease property that will be used for the new Department of Corrections, as required, to the contractor/developer and/or the Guam Economic Development Authority; provided, such property is in the inventory of the Government of Guam.

(b) The Government of Guam is also authorized to lease-back from the contractor/developer and/or the Guam Economic Development Authority the property for a period mutually agreed upon between the Government of Guam and the contractor/developer and/or the Guam Economic Development Authority as may be reasonably necessary to amortize the lease-back period of no more than thirty (30) years the cost associated with the design, construction, and maintenance of the new Department of Corrections. In no event shall the end of such lease-back period be structured as an annually renewable lease with a provision for automatic renewals to the extent that pledged revenue under § 90.308 is available. The lease-back shall not be construed as a debt under any applicable debt limitation under the Organic Act of Guam or Guam law.

§ 90.304. Identification Projects and Procurement.

(a) The Guam Economic Development Authority, in consultation with the Director of the Department of Corrections, shall utilize the program study of the correctional agency to identify and prioritize potential projects to be completed.

(1) The list of projects identified by the Program Study of the correctional agency shall be included in one (1) Request for Proposal developed by the Guam Economic Development Authority.

(A) Upon receipt of the Program Study, the Guam Economic Development Authority, in consultation with the Director of the Department of Corrections, shall solicit Request for Proposals (RFP) for a contractor/developer, in compliance with the Guam Procurement Law, for the financing, design, and construction of the Department of Corrections, according to the needs of the correctional agency and consistent with this Article.

(B) GEDA is also hereby authorized to solicit the services for a Program Management Office, which shall include, but not be limited to, creating scopes of work, coordinating projects and performance targets, conducting periodic quality control reviews, assuring timely product generation and response, and managing the project to produce a quality product within the budget and schedule.

(2) The choice of the contractor/developer shall be made by the Department of Corrections Construction Committee. The committee shall assess the prior performance of the contractor/developer on similar projects, and shall be free to disqualify any contractor/developer that does not have a successful record of project completion on Guam or any similar isolated locality.

(b) The Committee shall also specifically consider the contractor/developer's ability and performance with regards to the financing, development and construction of a correctional facility on Guam or any similar isolated locality.

(c) The selection of a contractor/developer shall be based upon the proposal that delivers the lowest cost value for Guam in meeting the objectives of the correctional agency.

(d) GEDA shall issue an RFP within thirty (30) days after the conclusion of its Program Study, in consultation with the Department of Corrections for the design, construction, and maintenance of the correctional facilities.

§ 90.305. Responsibility of Contractor/Developer.

The contract shall require that the contractor/developer be responsible for all costs, expenses, and fees of any kind or nature, associated with the design, civil improvements, on-site and off-site infrastructure, construction, permits, and financing associated with the completion of the Department of Corrections to the extent provided by GEDA in consultation with the Department of Corrections in the Request for Proposal. The lease may, for the purposes herein, provide that its term shall be extended for a period not to exceed the shorter of ten (10) years beyond the original term of the lease-back, or such period of time as is necessary to repay in full any financing arranged pursuant to § 90.309 of this Article.

§ 90.306. Contractual Safeguards.

Prior to undertaking the work of finance, design, construction, and maintenance of the new Department of Corrections, the Guam Economic Development Authority, in consultation with the Department of Corrections and the contractor/developer, shall negotiate and enter into a binding construction contract to build the new Department of Corrections in accordance with Guam Building Code under 21 GCA Chapter 67, Guam Fire Safety Codes and any other applicable requirements. The construction contract shall contain contractual obligations typically found in Government of Guam construction contracts, including, but not limited to:

(a) warranties;

(b) liquidated damages;

(c) performance and payments bonds;

(d) indemnity;

(e) insurance;

(f) standard specifications;

(g) technical specifications;

(h) progress schedule;

(i) maintenance;

(j) compliance with Guam labor regulations;

(k) compliance with Guam prevailing wage rates for employment of temporary alien workers (H2) on Guam;

(l) compliance with Public Law 28-98: restriction against contractors employing convicted sex offenders to work at Government of Guam venues; and

(m) the 2017 Guam Tropical Energy Code.

The contract must be approved as to form and legality by the Attorney General of Guam.

§ 90.307. Assignments.

To facilitate the purpose of this Act and provide security for the holders of any financing instruments issued pursuant to this Act, the contractor/developer may assign, without the need of the consent of the Guam Economic Development Authority, the contract, the lease and the lease-back to any underwriter, trustee, or other party as appropriate to facilitate the contractor/developer financing.

§ 90.308. Pledge or Reservation of Revenues.

(a) Rental payments under the lease and the lease-back may be secured by a pledge or other reservation of revenues collected by the Government of Guam from the following:

(1) The sum of no more than Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000) from the revenues received pursuant to 11 GCA Chapter 42, Earned Income Tax Credit will be available for Fiscal Year 2022 only.

(2) The sum of no more than Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000) from the General Fund shall be appropriated annually thereafter.

(3) The Governor of Guam may use federal funds that are made available to the Government of Guam by the United States Federal Government for the financing, design, construction, and maintenance of the new Department of Corrections facility.

(4) The use of other financing options is authorized for the purpose of this Act, including, but not limited to, loans, grants, bond financing, and other alternate funding options, subject to legislative approval.

(b) Any amounts reserved or pledged as provided in this Section shall be subject to annual appropriations for the purpose of making lease-back payments. The revenues pledged or reserved and thereafter received by the Government of Guam or by any trustee, depository, or custodian shall be deposited in a separate account and shall be immediately subject to such reservation or the lien of such pledge without any physical delivery thereof or further action, and such reservation or the lien of such pledge shall be valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind in tort, contract or otherwise against the Government of Guam or such trustee, depository or custodian, irrespective of whether the parties have notice thereof. The instrument by which such pledge or reservation is created need be recorded.

§ 90.309. Use of Tax-Exempt Bond, Taxable Bond, and Other Financing Instruments for Financing.

(a) To minimize the financing cost to the Government of Guam, financing utilized by the contractor/developer to fund the design, construction, and maintenance of the Department of Corrections shall be through tax-exempt obligations, taxable bond obligation, or other financial instruments; provided, such financing is available at interest rates determined by the Guam Economic Development Authority to be reasonable and competitive. The Guam Economic Development Authority shall be the issuer of any financial instruments or obligations unless the Guam Economic Development Authority waives its right to serve as the issuer of financial instruments or obligations. Alternatively, the contractor may use an alternative method of financing, including, but not limited to, a short-term debt, mortgage, loan, federally guaranteed loan or loan by an instrumentality of the United States of America if such financing will better serve the needs of the people of Guam. Such alternative financing shall be approved by I Liheslaturan Guåhan. The purpose for the requirements of this Section is to assure that the Government of Guam pays the lowest possible interest rate so that the cost of the Government of Guam's financing of the design and construction of the Department of Corrections, amortized through the lease-back payments from the Government of Guam to GEDA and or the contractor/developer, will be lower than regular commercial rates.

(b) I Liheslaturan Guåhan, pursuant to § 50103(k) of Chapter 50, Title 12, Guam Code Annotated, hereby authorizes the Guam Economic Development Authority to issue one or more additional series of tax-exempt and/or taxable obligations (in any case, the "bonds") for the purpose of financing the Department of Corrections Adult Correctional Facility, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed Eighty Million Dollars ($80,000,000) for the following purposes:

(1) to finance the design, construction, and/or the maintenance of the Department of Corrections Adult Correctional Facility;

(2) to fund a deposit to a debt service reserve fund;

(3) to fund capitalized interest with respect to the bonds; and

(4) to pay expenses relating to the authorization, sale, and issuance of the bonds, including without limitation, printing costs, costs of reproducing documents, credit enhancement fees, underwriting, legal, feasibility, financial advisory and accounting fees and charges, fees paid to banks, or other financial institutions providing credit enhancement fees, costs of credit ratings and other costs, charges and fees in connection with the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds, subject to the following additional conditions:

(A) The terms and conditions of the bonds shall be as determined by the Guam Economic Development Authority by the execution of a certificate, trust agreement or indenture authorizing the issuance of the bonds; provided, however, that such terms and conditions shall be consistent with this Section, that the bonds shall have a final maturity not to exceed thirty (30) years; and an interest rate not to exceed seven percent (7%).

(B) No bonds authorized by this Section shall be sold until the Board of Directors of Guam Economic Development Authority has approved the sale by resolution, as provided in Chapter 50 of Title 12, Guam Code Annotated.

(C) The issuance of bonds pursuant to this Section shall not be subject to the approval of the voters of Guam.

§ 90.310. Prison IT, Building, and Security Management System.

(a) For the purpose of ensuring the long-serving duration of the Department of Corrections facility, GEDA may include in the specifications for the new correctional facility, the requirement for a prison information management system, a security and surveillance system, and a building management system. These systems identified must be done in consultation with the Department of Corrections and comply with the federal mandates related to prison records and to foster compliance with the Federal Standards for Prisons and Jails.

(b) GEDA, in consultation with the Department of Corrections, may determine the specifications for such systems based on comprehensive, state-of-the-art technology generally accepted within the United States Prison Industry in connection with the development for a new Department of Corrections facility. The specifications shall require that all systems are designed by the same software developer so as to ensure the delivery of the rehabilitation to the inmates.

(c) In order to ensure immediate response to system downtimes or failure, GEDA may include in the specifications the requirement that the provider of these systems have a local Guam Office and service technicians stationed on Guam.

§ 90.311. Utilities and Routine Maintenance and Repair.

The contractor/developer shall be responsible for the connection and payment of all utilities, including without limitation, power, water, sewer, telephone, and cable and all maintenance and repair and exterior groundskeeping and landscaping and upkeep of the Department of Corrections.

§ 90.312. Maintenance Fund.

The contract with the contractor/developer, and the lease-back shall provide that all capital maintenance and repair of the Department of Corrections facility be performed by the contractor/developer. The contractor/developer shall provide sufficient funding for a separate maintenance fund for this purpose; sufficient funds for this purpose shall be defined as the cost of capital maintenance and repair for the remaining period of the lease agreement with the Government of Guam after the completion of the Department of Corrections. The maintenance fund shall be used exclusively for the purpose of capital maintenance and repair and shall be in an interest-bearing account segregated from other funds held in escrow.

§ 90.313. Rules and Regulations.

The Guam Economic Development Authority, in consultation with the Department of Corrections, may promulgate rules and regulations pursuant to the Administrative Adjudication Law as necessary to implement the provisions of this Article.

§ 90.314. Financial Plan Required.

GEDA shall prepare a financial plan in accordance with the following:

(a) At a minimum, the financial plan shall include a comprehensive report of the associated costs and sources of revenues required for the duration of the Department of Corrections Modernization Act of 2021 (Project). The financial plan should reflect the total Project cost and any phases that represent the Project development priorities. All anticipated Project revenues shall be matched and allocable to the anticipated Project costs and shall detail its impact on the overall debt ceiling.

(b) The financial plan shall be submitted to I Maga'hågan Guåhan and transmitted to the Speaker of I Liheslaturan Guåhan. No solicitation of Request for Proposal or invitation for bid authorized to effectuate the requirements of this Act may be issued until the financial plan is delivered to the Speaker of I Liheslaturan Guåhan.

Section 28. Chapter 91 (Infant Child's Right to Life Act), Title 9, Guam Code Annotated was reviewed and no changes are recommended to this Chapter.

Section 29. Section 60109 of Chapter 60 of Title 10 Guam Code Annotated is hereby amended to read:

Such exceptional causes shall include, but not be limited to, facts which show that such concealment is absolutely necessary for an individual who is engaged in the protection of persons or property, or who shows that he has a genuine reason to fear for the safety of his person or property and that a concealed firearm would materially lessen the danger. Such permission, once stated upon the identification card, shall not be renewed unless, at the time for renewal, the application shows a continuing need for such permission, using the standards for such permission as they exist at the time for renewal. It shall be unlawful for any person to carry any firearm concealed unless he has received permission to carry such firearm and such permission is stated upon the face of his identification card; or~~

No firearm may be registered by the Department unless the person presenting the firearm also displays current identification card evidencing his eligibility to own, possess, use or carry the firearm presented for inspection as to the facts required for registration. Any firearm registration which expires on or after March 1, 1988 or which is thereafter issued under this chapter shall be permanent for as long as the registrant retains the firearm. I. INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW OF THE COMMISSION.

A. Interim Report.

This Interim Report sets forth the recommendations of the Guam Criminal Law and Procedure Review Commission (the "Commission") for amendments to selected chapters of Title 9 of the Guam Code Annotated (Criminal and Correctional Code of Guam), as approved at the Commission's plenary meeting on May 29, 2025. This Report addresses only a portion of Title 9. The Commission's recommendations on the remaining chapters of Title 9, along with those concerning Title 8 (Criminal Procedure Code of Guam), will be included in a forthcoming report.

At the Commission's May 29, 2025 plenary meeting, the recommendations contained in this Interim Report received ten (10) votes in favor of approval, zero (0) votes against, and one (1) abstention. Four (4) members were absent. The recommendations were duly approved in accordance with the Commission's enabling legislation, which requires at least eight (8) affirmative votes.

Attachment 1 to this Interim Report is a copy of the Commission's enabling act, 1 GCA Chapter 25, enacted by P.L. 36-119:2 (Nov. 9, 2022), as amended by P.L. 37-125:XII:39 (Sept. 11, 2024).

Attachment 2 to this Interim Report is a table tracking the recommendations of the Commission by Chapter and Section.

Attachment 3 to this Interim Report presents approved recommendations in blackline format. Recommended amendments adding new language are underlined and amendments deleting existing language are struck-through. Commission comments are included to explain the recommendations.

B. Overview of the Commission.

The Commission was created by I Liheslaturan Guåhan in Public Law No. 36-119 (Nov. 9, 2022), as amended by P.L. 37-125:XII:39 (Sept. 11, 2024), to conduct the first comprehensive review of Guam's Criminal and Correctional Code and Criminal Procedure Code since their adoption by the 13th Guam Legislature in 1976.

Under Public Law No. 36-119, the Commission operates as a division of the Supreme Court of Guam and receives administrative support from the Judiciary of Guam, including office space, utilities, computers, and software licenses. The Commission consists of fifteen voting members representing the three branches of government, the Guam Bar Association (including attorneys with prosecutorial and criminal defense experience), full-time and retired judicial officers, directors of government criminal justice and law enforcement agencies, and private individuals from community-based and public interest organizations related to the criminal justice system. The Commission is further supported by several volunteer, non-voting members who contribute to the review of Guam's criminal laws.

Under Public Law 36-119, then-Chief Justice F. Philip Carbullido appointed Magistrate Judge Jonathan R. Quan as the Chairman of the Commission on December 27, 2022, and Attorney Andrew S. Quenga as the Executive Director of the Commission on January 9, 2023. The Commission formally began operations and held its initial plenary meeting on January 13, 2023.

Under Public Law 36-119, Chairman Quan established five subcommissions to focus on different areas of law and named a chairperson to each subcommission. Members of each subcommission were carefully and deliberately selected by the Chairman based on their criminal law experience. Each subcommission is composed of members designated by different statutory appointing authorities, and includes members from the prosecution and defense bars, and local community organizations. The five subcommissions are:

- Subcommission on Crimes Against Persons,
- Subcommission on Crimes Relating to Property,
- Subcommission on Drugs and Other Criminal Offenses,
- Subcommission on Criminal Procedure, and
- Ad Hoc Subcommission on Corrections-related Chapters

Under the direction of their Chairpersons, each subcommission is responsible for reviewing its assigned chapters and presenting any recommendations to the entire Commission at public plenary meetings for approval. Since the initial plenary meeting, and to the best of their abilities, the subcommissions have been meeting in working sessions to review criminal statutes. Review includes discussing whether revisions are appropriate, examining statutes from other jurisdictions, and deciding on any recommendations to present to the Commission for approval.

III. WORK OF THE COMMISSION.

A. Statutory Mandates.

Under Public Law 36-119, the Commission is mandated to review the criminal laws of Guam and to recommend enactments, amendments, and repeals to I Liheslaturan Guåhan. More specifically, the Commission must conduct a comprehensive and systematic review of the Guam Criminal Procedure Code codified in Title 8 of the Guam Code Annotated, the Guam Criminal and Correctional Code codified in Title 9 of the Guam Code Annotated, and other criminal laws outside of Titles 8 and 9. The Commission is required to prioritize the review of the Criminal and Correctional Code and the focus of all subcommissions has been on Title 9.

Public Law 36-119 contemplates that this is a working Commission. In conducting their work, statutory and volunteer members rely heavily on their extensive experience with Guam criminal laws. Each member has the opportunity to provide their critical experience and input on Guam's criminal laws.

B. Commission Work Processes.

The Commission follows the guidelines for review set forth in Public Law 36-119. The primary work of the members occurs at the subcommission level, during working sessions called by their chairpersons. These working sessions may be in-person, virtual, or both; they may also be done by correspondence in the exchange of draft comments by email or by other electronic means. Reviewing statutes is very intensive and time-consuming. Since Guam's criminal codes are based primarily on the Model Penal Code (MPC), members base their review on other MPC jurisdictions, particularly those cited in the source comments of the Guam statutes. In addition, review may be based on U.S. jurisdictions with recently reformed or revised criminal codes such as Hawaii and the District of Columbia. Members identify provisions that are archaic or unused, unconstitutional or inorganic, or contain outdated language, among other issues, and propose recommendations to resolve such issues. Members may recommend amendments, repeals or recommend no change.

Subcommission recommendations are presented to the Commission in two review and approval processes. In the initial review process, subcommission recommendations are submitted to the Commission at plenary meetings for discussion by all members and approval by majority vote. If a recommendation is not approved, it is tabled for resolution of issues at the subcommission level, then presented again to the Commission for approval. All recommendations approved by the Commission in this initial process are subject, if necessary, to further review and refinement by subcommission members. In the final review process, recommendations are presented again to the Commission for final consideration and approval. This Interim Report contains recommendations that have been approved by the Commission through the final review phase.

C. Chapter Status Update.

There are forty-six (46) chapters in Title 9 of the Guam Code Annotated. Currently, the Commission has completely reviewed twenty-four (24) chapters. These twenty-four (24) chapters are presented in this Interim Report. Subcommissions are in the process of reviewing fourteen (14) chapters. Eight (8) chapters are pending review.

IV. CONCLUSION.

The Commission is committed to fulfilling its obligation to review all of Guam's criminal laws and will continue to work to the best of the ability of each member. Our subcommissions have the daunting task of reviewing thousands of criminal statutes throughout the GCA. Aside from the very small full-time staff, each member must devote significant time to reviewing their assigned chapters and sections and proposing changes in working sessions with their respective subcommissions. Their willingness to contribute their time and expertise speaks to their strong commitment to public service. Chairman Jonathan R. Quan and Executive Director Andrew Serge Quenga thank all current and past[1] members for their commitment and dedication to the work of the Commission.

We thank Chief Justice Robert J. Torres and Administrator of the Courts Danielle T. Rosete for their steadfast administrative support. We are also grateful to Justice F. Philip Carbullido and former Administrator of the Courts Kristina Baird for their instrumental support in establishing the Commission's offices.

We thank Speaker Frank F. Blas, Jr., and Senator Telo Taitague, Chairperson of the Committee on Economic Investment, Military Buildup, Regional Relations, Technology, Regulatory Affairs, Justice, Elections, and Retirement, other sponsors of our enabling legislation, and the entire Legislature for its support of our mission.

Respectfully submitted this 13th day of June 2025.

Magistrate Judge Jonathan R. Quan
Chairman

Andrew S. Quenga
Executive Director

§ 1.14. ~~Purpose for Defining Offenses~~ Purposes, Principles of Construction.

(a) The general purposes of the provisions governing the definition of offense are:

(1) to forbid, prevent, and condemn conduct that unjustifiably and inexcusably inflicts or threatens substantial harm to individual or public interests;

(2) to insure the public safety by preventing the commission of offenses through the deterrent influence of the sentence authorized, the rehabilitation of those convicted, and their confinement when required in the interest of public protection;

(3) to subject to public control persons whose conduct indicates that they are disposed to commit offenses;

(4) to give fair warning of the nature of the conduct proscribed and of the sentences authorized upon conviction;

(5) to differentiate on reasonable grounds between serious and minor offenses; and

(6) to define adequately the act and mental state which constitute each offense, and limit the condemnation of conduct as criminal when it is without fault.

(b) The general purposes of the provisions governing the sentencing of offenders are:

(1) to prevent and condemn the commission of offenses;

(2) to promote the correction and rehabilitation of offenders;

(3) to assure the public safety by preventing the commission of offenses through the deterrent influence of sentences imposed and the confinement of offenders when required in the interest of public protections;

(4) to safeguard offenders against excessive, disproportionate, or arbitrary punishment;

(5) to give fair warning of the nature of the sentences that may be imposed on conviction of an offense;

(6) to differentiate among offenders with a view to a just individualization in their treatment; ~~and~~

(7) to advance the use of generally accepted scientific methods and knowledge in sentencing offenders~~.~~;

(8) to promote restitution to victims;

(9) to provide the defendant with needed educational or vocational training, medical care, or other correctional treatment in the most effective manner; and

(10) to impose sentences no more severe than necessary to achieve the societal purposes for which they are authorized.

(c) The provisions of this Code shall be construed according to the fair import of their terms, but when the language is susceptible of differing constructions it shall be interpreted to further the general purposes stated in this Section and the special purposes of the particular provision involved. The discretionary powers conferred by this Code shall be exercised in accordance with the criteria stated in the Code and, insofar as such criteria are not decisive, to further the general purposes stated in this Section.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive clarification of title from source MPC § 1.02. Added subsection (b)(8) is from New Jersey and promotes restitution to victims. Added subsection (b)(9) is from the United States Code and promotes educational, vocational and medical care of inmates. Added subsection (b)(10) safeguards against disproportionate punishment.

§ 1.16. Territorial Applicability.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a person may be convicted under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam of an offense committed by his own conduct or the conduct of another for which he is legally accountable if;

(1) he conduct which is an element of the offense or the result which is such an element occurs within ~~this Territory~~ Guam;

(2) conduct occurring outside the Territory is sufficient under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam to constitute an attempt to commit an offense within ~~the Territory~~ Guam;

(3) conduct occurring outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam is sufficient under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam to constitute a conspiracy to commit or offense within ~~the Territory~~ Guam and an overt act in furtherance of such conspiracy occurs within ~~the Territory~~ Guam;

(4) conduct occurring within ~~the Territory~~ Guam establishes complicity in the commission of, or an attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy to commit, an offense in another jurisdiction which is also an offense under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam.

(5) the offense consists of the omission to perform a legal duty imposed by the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam with respect to domicile, residence, or a relationship to a person, thing, or transaction in ~~the Territory~~ Guam; or

(6) the offense is based on a statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam which expressly prohibits conduct outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam when the conduct bears a reasonable relation to a legitimate interest of ~~this Territory~~ Guam and the person knows or should know that his conduct is likely to affect that interest.

(b) ~~Paragraph (1) of~~ Subsection (a)(1) does not apply when either causing a specified result or an intent to cause or danger of causing such a result is an element of an offense and the result occurs or is designed or likely to occur only in another jurisdiction where the conduct charged would not constitute an offense, unless a legislative purpose plainly appears to declare the conduct criminal regardless of the place of the result.

(c) ~~Paragraph (1) of~~ Subsection (a)(1) does not apply when causing a particular result is an element of an offense and the result is caused by conduct occurring outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam which would not constitute an offense if the result had occurred there, unless the person intentionally or knowingly caused the result within ~~the Territory~~ Guam.

(d) When the offense is homicide, either death of the victim or the bodily impact causing death constitutes a "result," within the meaning of ~~Paragraph (1) of S~~subsection (a)(1) and if the body of a homicide victim is found within ~~the Territory~~ Guam, it is presumed that such result occurred within ~~the Territory~~ Guam.

(e) ~~the Territory~~ Guam includes the land and water and the air space above such land and water with respect to which ~~the Territory~~ Guam has legislative jurisdiction.

(f) Notwithstanding that territorial jurisdiction may be found under this Section, the court may dismiss, hold in abeyance for up to six months, or with the permission of the defendant, place on an inactive list a criminal prosecution under the law of this Territory where it appears that such action is in the interests of justice because the defendant is being or is likely to be prosecuted for an offense based on the same conduct in another jurisdiction and ~~the Territory~~ Guam's interest will be adequately served by a prosecution in the other jurisdiction.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendments for consistency with 1 GCA § 420. Other amendments are for clarification of citations.

§ 1.18. Classes of Crimes.

(a) An offense defined by this Code or by any other statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam, for which a sentence of imprisonment is authorized, constitutes a crime. Crimes are classified as felonies, misdemeanors or petty misdemeanors.

(b) A crime is a felony if it is so designated in this Code or if persons convicted thereof may be sentenced to imprisonment for a term which, apart from an extended term, is in excess of one year.

(c) A crime is a misdemeanor if it is so designated in this Code or in a statute other than this Code enacted subsequent thereto.

(d) Any offense declared by law to constitute a crime, without specification of the grade thereof or of the sentence authorized upon conviction, is a misdemeanor.

(e) A crime is a petty misdemeanor if it is so designated in this Code or in a statute other than this Code enacted subsequent thereto or if it is defined by a statute other than this Code which now provides that person convicted thereof may be sentenced to imprisonment for a maximum term of less than one year.

(f) An offense defined by this Code or by any other statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam constitutes a violation if it is so designated in this Code or in the law defining the offense or if no other sentence than a fine, or fine and forfeiture or other civil penalty is authorized upon conviction. A violation does not constitute a crime and conviction of a violation shall not give rise to any disability or legal disadvantage based on conviction of a criminal offense.

(g) An offense defined by any statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam other than this Code shall be classified as provided in this Section and the sentence that may be imposed upon conviction thereof shall hereafter be governed by this Code.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendments for consistency with 1 GCA § 420.

§ 1.19. Felonies Defined and Classified.

(a) Felonies defined by this Code are classified, for the purpose of sentence, into three degrees, as follows:

(1) felonies of the first degree;

(2) felonies of the second degree;

(3) felonies of the third degree.

Any crime declared to be a felony, without specification of degree, is of the third degree.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a felony defined by any statute of Guam other than this Code shall constitute for the purpose of sentence a felony of the third degree.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendments for consistency with 1 GCA § 420.

§ 1.20. Relationship of Code to Other Laws; Contempts, Penalties and Remedies.

(a) No conduct constitutes an offense unless it is a crime or violation under this Code or other statute of Guam.

(b) The provisions of this Code shall apply to offenses defined by other statutes, unless otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires.

(c) Nothing in this Code shall affect the power of a court to punish contempt or to employ any sanction authorized by law for the enforcement of an order or a civil judgment or decree.

(d) Nothing in this Code shall bar or suspend any liability for damages, penalty, forfeiture, or other remedy otherwise authorized by law to be recovered or enforced in any civil action or proceeding, for any conduct punishable by this Code.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendment for consistency with 1 GCA § 420.

§ 1.22. Prosecution for Conduct Which Constitutes More Than One Offense.

When the same conduct of a defendant may establish the commission of more than one offense, the defendant may be prosecuted for each such offense. He may not, however, be convicted of more than one offense if:

(a) one offense is included in the other as defined in 8 GCA § 105.58 ~~of the Criminal Procedure Code~~;

(b) one offense consists only of a conspiracy or other form of preparation to commit the other,

(c) inconsistent findings of fact are required to establish the commission of the offenses;

(d) the offenses differ only in that one is defined to prohibit a designated kind of conduct generally and the other to prohibit a specific instance of such conduct; or

(e) the offense is defined as a continuing course of conduct and the defendant's course of conduct was uninterrupted, unless the law provides that specific periods of such conduct constitute separate offenses.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive citation clarification.

§ 1.24. Double Jeopardy. Same Offense.

A prosecution of a defendant for a violation of the same provision of the statutes based upon the same facts as a former prosecution is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal by a finding of not guilty by the trier of fact or in a determination that there was insufficient evidence to warrant a conviction. A finding of guilty of a lesser included offense is an acquittal of the greater inclusive offense, although the conviction is subsequently set aside.

(b) The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint had been filed or the indictment found, by a final order or judgment for the defendant, which has not been set aside, reversed, or vacated and which necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact or a legal proposition that must be established for conviction of the offense.

(c) The former prosecution resulted in a conviction. There is a conviction if the prosecution resulted in a judgment of conviction which has not been reversed or vacated, a verdict of guilty which has not been set aside and which is capable of supporting a judgment, or a plea of guilty accepted by the court. In the latter two cases failure to enter judgment must be for a reason other than a motion of the defendant.

(d) The former prosecution was improperly terminated. Except as provided in this Subsection, there is an improper termination of a prosecution if the termination is for reasons not amounting to an acquittal, and it takes place after the jury was impaneled and sworn or, in a trial before a court without a jury, after the first witness was sworn but before findings were rendered by the trier of fact. Termination under any of the following circumstances is not improper:

(1) the defendant consents to the termination or waives, by motion to dismiss or otherwise, his right to object to the termination;

(2) the trial court finds that the termination is necessary because of the failure of the jury to agree upon a verdict after a reasonable time for deliberation has been allowed; or

(3) the trial court finds that the termination is required by a sufficient legal reason and a manifest or absolute or overriding necessity.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive typographical correction.

§ 1.26. Double Jeopardy. Different Offense.

A prosecution of a defendant for a violation of a different provision of the statutes or based on different facts than a former prosecution is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal or in a conviction as defined in § 1.24 and the subsequent prosecution is for:

(1) any offense of which the defendant could have been convicted on the first prosecution;

(2) any offense of which the defendant should have been tried on the first prosecution under ~~Subsection (b) of § 65.30 of the Criminal Procedure Code~~ 8 GCA § 65.30(b) unless the court ordered a separate trial of the charge of such offense; or

(3) the same conduct, unless (A) the offense of which the defendant was formerly convicted or acquitted and the offense for which he is subsequently prosecuted each requires proof of a fact not required by the other and the law defining each of such offenses is intended to prevent a substantially different harm or evil, or (B) the second offense was not consummated when the former trial began.

(b) The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint was filed or the indictment found, by an acquittal or by a final order or judgment for the defendant which has not been set aside, reversed or vacated and which acquittal, final order or judgment necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact which must be established for conviction of the second offense.

(c) The former prosecution was improperly terminated, as improper termination is defined in § 1.24, and the subsequent prosecution is for an offense of which the defendant could have been convicted had the former prosecution not been improperly terminated.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive citation clarification.

§ 1.28. Concurrent Jurisdiction. When a Bar to Prosecution.

When conduct constitutes an offense within the concurrent jurisdiction of Guam and of the United States or any state, a prosecution in any such other jurisdiction is a bar to a subsequent prosecution in Guam under the following circumstances:

(a) the first prosecution resulted in an acquittal or in a conviction as defined in § 1.24 and the subsequent prosecution is based on the same conduct, unless

(1) the offense of which the defendant was formerly convicted or acquitted and the offense for which he is subsequently prosecuted each requires proof of a fact not required by the other and the law defining each of such offenses is intended to prevent a substantially different harm or evil or

(2) the offense for which the defendant is subsequently prosecuted is intended to prevent a substantially more serious harm or evil than the offense of which he was formerly convicted or acquitted or

(3) the second offense was not consummated when the former trial began; or

(b) the former prosecution was terminated after the information was filed or the indictment found, by an acquittal or by a final order or judgment for the defendant which has not been set aside, reversed or vacated and which acquittal, final order or judgment necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact which must be established for conviction of the offense of which the defendant is subsequently prosecuted.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 1.30. Former Prosecutions. When Not a Bar to Present Prosecution.

A prosecution is not a bar within the meaning of §§ 1.24, 1.26 and 1.28 under ~~either~~ any of the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution was before a court which lacked jurisdiction over the defendant or the offense tried in that court; or

(b) The former prosecution resulted in a judgment of conviction which was held invalid in a subsequent proceeding on a petition for post-conviction relief or similar process, except that any bar as to reprosecution for a greater inclusive offense created by ~~Subsection (a) of~~ § 1.24(a) shall apply.

(c) The former prosecution resulted in a plea of guilty or nolo contendere which was held invalid in an appeal under 8 GCA § 130.15(e) and the defendant may be retried as if the former plea had not been entered.

CHAPTER 4

GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF LIABILITY

§ 4.10. Conduct to Include Voluntary Act or Omission.

A person is not guilty of an offense unless his liability is based on conduct which includes a voluntary act or the omission to perform an act of which he is physically capable.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.15. Voluntary Act Defined.

(a) A voluntary act is one performed consciously as a result of effort or determination.

(b) Possession is a voluntary act if the possessor knowingly procured or received the thing possessed, or was aware of his control of it for sufficient time to have been able to terminate his control.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.20. Liability for Omission Limited.

A person is not guilty of an offense if his liability is based solely on an omission unless the law defining the offense expressly so provides, or a duty to perform the act is otherwise imposed by law.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.25. Culpability.

Except as provided in § 4.45, a person is not guilty of a crime unless he acts intentionally, knowingly, recklessly or with criminal negligence, as the law may require, with respect to the conduct, the result thereof or the attendant circumstances which constitute the material elements of the crime.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.30. Culpability Defined.

(a) A person acts intentionally, or with intent, with respect to his conduct or to a result thereof when it is his conscious purpose to engage in the conduct or cause the result.

(b) A person acts knowingly, or with knowledge, with respect to his conduct or to attendant circumstances when he is aware of the nature of his conduct or that those circumstances exist. A person acts knowingly, or with knowledge, with respect to a result of his conduct when he is aware that his conduct is practically certain to cause the result.

(c) A person acts recklessly, or is reckless, with respect to attendant circumstances or the result of his conduct when he acts in awareness of a substantial risk that the circumstances exist or that his conduct will cause the result and his disregard is unjustifiable and constitutes a gross deviation from the standard of care that a reasonable person would exercise in the situation.

(d) A person acts with criminal negligence, or is criminally negligent, with respect to attendant circumstances or the result of his conduct when he should be aware of a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the circumstances exist or that his conduct will cause the result and his failure to be aware of the risk constitutes a gross deviation from the standard of care that a reasonable person would exercise in the situation.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.35. Culpability Applied to Elements of Offense.

(a) If the definition of an offense prescribes a culpable mental state but does not specify the conduct, attendant circumstances or result to which it applies, the prescribed culpable mental state shall apply to each such material element.

(b) If the definition of a crime prescribes criminal negligence as the culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally, knowingly or recklessly. When recklessness suffices to establish a culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally or knowingly. When acting knowingly suffices to establish a culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally.

(c) Knowledge that conduct constitutes an offense, or knowledge of the existence, meaning, or application of the statute defining an offense, is not an element of an offense unless the statue clearly so provides.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.40. Culpable Mental State Generally Required.

Except as provided in § 4.45, if the definition of a crime does not expressly prescribe a culpable mental state, a culpable mental state is nonetheless required and is established only if a person acts intentionally, knowingly or recklessly.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.45. ~~Same~~ Culpable Mental State: When Inapplicable.

The culpable mental state requirements of § 4.25 and § 4.40 do not apply if the offense is a violation or if the law defining the offense clearly indicates purpose to dispense with any culpable mental state requirement.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive amendment to section title.

§ 4.50. Causation Established and Defined.

(a) An element of an offense which requires that the defendant have caused a particular result is established when his conduct is an antecedent but for which the result would not have occurred, and,

(1) if the offense requires that the defendant intentionally or knowingly caused the result, that the actual result, as it occurred,

(A) is within the purpose of contemplation of the defendant, whether the purpose or contemplation extends to natural events or to the conduct of another, or, if not,

(B) involves the same kind of injury or harm as that designed or contemplated and is not too remote, accidental in its occurrence or dependent on another's volitional act to have a just bearing on the defendant's liability or on the gravity of his offense;

(2) if the offense requires that the defendant recklessly or negligently cause the result, that the actual result, as it occurred,

(A) is within the risk of which the defendant was or should have been aware, whether that risk extends to natural events or to the conduct of another, or, if not,

(B) involves the same kind of injury or harm as that recklessly or negligently risked and is not too remote, accidental in its occurrence or dependent on another's volitional act to have a just bearing on the defendant's liability or on the gravity of his offense;

(3) if the offense imposes strict liability, that the actual result, as it occurred, is a ~~probably~~ probable consequence of the defendant's conduct.

(b) A defendant shall not be relieved of responsibility for causing a result if the only difference between what actually occurred and what was designed, contemplated or risked is that a different person or property was injured or affected or that a less serious or less extensive injury or harm occurred.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive amendment to section

§ 4.55. Guilt Established by Causing or Aiding Innocent Party in Commission of Crime.

A person is guilty of an offense if, acting with the culpability required for the offense, he causes or aids an innocent or non-responsible person to engage in conduct prohibited by the definition of the offense.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.60. Guilt Established by Complicity.

A person is guilty of an offense if, with the intention of promoting or assisting in the commission of the offense, he induces or aids another person to commit the offense. If the definition of the offense includes lesser offenses, the offense of which each person shall be guilty shall be determined according to his own culpable mental state and to those aggravating or mitigating factors which apply to him.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.65. Criminal Facilitation Established and Punished.

A person is guilty of criminal facilitation when, knowing that another person intends to engage in conduct which in fact constitutes a crime, he knowingly furnishes substantial assistance to him.

Criminal facilitation of a felony of the first degree is a felony of the third degree.

Criminal facilitation of a felony of the second or of the third degree is a misdemeanor.

Criminal facilitation of a misdemeanor or petty misdemeanor is a petty misdemeanor.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.70. Criminal Liability for Acts of Another: ~~Non-Availability of~~ Certain Defenses Not Available.

(a) the offense can be committed only by a particular class of persons to which the defendant does not belong; or

(b) the other person has legal immunity from prosecution, or has not been prosecuted for or convicted of an offense based upon the conduct in question, or has previously been acquitted.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive amendment to section title.

§ 4.75. ~~Same~~ Criminal Liability for Acts of Another: Defenses Available.

Unless otherwise provided by law, in any prosecution in which the criminal liability of the defendant is based upon the conduct of another person, it is a defense that:

(a) the defendant was a victim of the offense; or

(b) under circumstances manifesting a voluntary and complete renunciation of his criminal intent, the defendant withdrew from participation in the offense and made a reasonable effort to stop the commission of the offense.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive amendment to section title.

§ 4.80. Criminal Liability of Corporations.

(a) A corporation may be convicted of:

(2) any offense consisting of a failure to perform a duty imposed by law; or

(3) any petty misdemeanor or violation committed by an agent of the corporation acting in the scope of his employment in furtherance of its affairs.

(b) It is no defense that an individual upon whose conduct liability of the corporation is based has not been prosecuted or convicted, has been convicted of a different offense or is immune from prosecution.

(c) As used in this Section, managerial agent means an agent of the corporation having duties of such responsibility that his conduct may fairly be found to represent the policy of the corporation.

CHAPTER 17
UNBORN VICTIMS OF VIOLENCE ACT

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 17.01. Title.

This Act may be cited or referred to as "The Unborn Victims of Violence Act of 2016."

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 17.02. Legislative Statement and Intent.

(a) I Liheslaturan Guåhan understands that the physical harm or death of an expectant woman could equally result in the physical harm and death to the unborn child in her womb. For the woman who desires to carry and care for her unborn child to term, the protection and safety of the living being in her womb is something she should not have to worry about. To this statement, former President George W. Bush once expressed, "Any time an expectant mother is a victim of violence, two lives are in the balance, each deserving protection, and each deserving justice."

(b) I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that "The Unborn Victims of Violence Act of 2016" (Act) is a step toward protecting an expectant mother and her unborn child, and recognizes that an unborn child is a legal victim if he or she is injured or killed during the commission of crimes of violence.

(c) I Liheslaturan Guåhan believes and further recognizes that while an expectant mother has a legal right to determine the fate of her unborn child, she should also be assured that any harm to her unborn child caused from unwarranted and unexpected harm directed at her will result in additional criminal sanctions against the responsible person(s).

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 17.03. Definitions.

For the purposes of this Chapter, the following terms are defined to mean:

(a) person shall not include the pregnant woman whose unborn child is harmed;

(b) unborn child shall mean a child in utero, and the term "child in utero" or "child, who is in utero" means a member of the species homo sapiens, at any stage of development, who is carried in the womb.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 17.04. Application.

(a) This Chapter shall not apply to acts that cause bodily harm to an unborn child if those acts were committed during any legal abortion, in accordance with Guam law.

(b) This Chapter shall not apply to acts that were committed under usual and customary standards of medical practice during diagnostic testing or therapeutic treatment.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 17.05. Murder of an Unborn Child.

(a) A person commits the offense of murder of an unborn child if, in performing acts which cause the death of an unborn child without lawful jurisdiction, the person:

(1) either intended to cause the death of, or cause serious bodily injury to, the pregnant woman or her unborn child, or knew that such acts would cause death or serious bodily injury to the pregnant woman or her unborn child; or

(2) commits such acts recklessly under circumstances manifesting extreme indifference to the value of the life of the pregnant woman or her unborn child.

(b) The penalty for murder of an unborn child shall be the same as the penalty for murder defined in Chapter 16 of Title 9, Guam Code Annotated.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 17.06. Manslaughter of an Unborn Child.

It is the intent of I Liheslatura to ensure that our laws are strong enough to adequately protect Guam's children from online predators and child pornography and to severely punish the offenders.

Some members conceded that this curfew law may be unconstitutional but because of Guam's problems with minors out past curfew they would prefer to leave it until it is challenged and struck down by the courts. This recommendation was opposed by the GPD member and a community member of the Commission.

COMPUTER SPYWARE PROTECTION ACT

§ 46.601. Title.

This Act may be cited as the "Computer Spyware Protection Act."

CLRC COMMENT: No change

§ 46.602. Legislative Findings and Intent.

I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that spyware is a problem that adversely affects nearly every computer connected to the internet. Spyware is a catch-all term for computer programs that can track computer users' movements online. There are hundreds of programs that range from innocuous "ad-ware," which generates pop-up advertisements, to more dangerous programs that can record a user's keystrokes to gather personal information, such as credit card numbers and passwords, without their knowledge, and forward this information to another entity without the consumer's consent. Spyware is a serious problem that can create substantial privacy risks, increase the risk of identity theft, and cause serious degradation to personal and business computers that can cost millions of dollars in lost productivity.

It is the intent of I Liheslatura to protect owners and operators of computers on Guam from the use of spyware and malware that is deceptively or surreptitiously installed on the owner's or the operator's computer.

CLRC COMMENT: No change

CHAPTER 48

NOTIFICATION OF BREACHES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

§ 48.10. Legislative Findings and Intent.

I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that both public and private entities on Guam have a duty to safeguard personal information that, if stolen or publicized, may result in crimes such as fraud and identity theft. The anonymity of the global internet, that transcends the borders of sovereign nations, makes it possible for unscrupulous individuals to profit from the theft of personal information and never be brought to justice for their crimes or made to pay restitution. Therefore, it is incumbent upon all entities that are entrusted with such data to maintain strong security systems to ensure that the personal information will always be protected.

It is the intent of I Liheslatura to ensure that the personal information of the residents of Guam is protected, by providing procedures for notification of security breaches related to personal information and thereby encouraging individuals and commercial entities, as defined by public law, to provide reasonable security for unencrypted personal information.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 48.20. Definitions.

As used in this Chapter:

(a) Breach of the security of a system means the unauthorized access and acquisition of unencrypted and unredacted computerized data that compromises the security or confidentiality of personal information maintained by an individual or entity as part of a database of personal information regarding multiple individuals and that causes, or the individual or entity reasonably believes has caused or will cause, identity theft or other fraud to any resident of Guam.

Good faith acquisition of personal information by an employee or agent of an individual or entity for the purposes of the individual or the entity is not a breach of the security of the system, provided, that the personal information is not used for a purpose other than a lawful purpose of the individual or entity or subject to further unauthorized disclosure.

(b) Entity includes corporations, business trusts, estates, partnerships, limited partnerships, limited liability partnerships, limited liability companies, associations, organizations, joint ventures, governments, governmental subdivisions, agencies, or instrumentalities, or any other legal entity, whether for profit or not-for-profit.

(c) Encrypted means transformation of data through the use of an algorithmic process into a form in which there is a low probability of assigning meaning without the use of a confidential process or key, or securing the information by another method that renders the data elements unreadable or unusable.

(d) Financial institution has the meaning given that term in Section 6809(3) of Title 15, United States Code.

(e) Individual means a natural person.

(3) Financial account number, or credit card or debit card number, in combination with any required security code, access code, or password that would permit access to a resident's financial accounts.

(4) The term does not include information that is lawfully obtained from publicly available information, or from Federal, State, or local government records lawfully made available to the general public.

(g) Notice means:

(1) Written notice to the postal address in the records of the individual or entity;

Substitute notice consists of any two (2) of the following:

(A) E-mail notice if the individual or the entity has e-mail addresses for the members of the affected class of residents;

(B) Conspicuous posting of the notice on the Website of the individual or the entity, if the individual or the commercial entity maintains a Website; and

(C) Notice to major Guam media.

(h) Redact means alteration or truncation of data such that no more than the following are accessible as part of the personal information:

(1) five (5) digits of a Social Security Number, or

(2) The last four (4) digits of a driver's license number, Guam identification card number or financial account number.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 48.30. Disclosure of Breach of Security of Computerized Personal Information by an Individual or Entity.

(a) General Rule. An individual or entity that owns or licenses computerized data that includes personal information shall disclose any breach of the security of the system following discovery or notification of the breach of the security of the system to any resident of Guam whose unencrypted and unredacted personal information was or is reasonably believed to have been accessed and acquired by an unauthorized person and that causes, or the individual or entity reasonably believes has caused or will cause, identity theft or other fraud to any resident of Guam. Except as provided in subsection (d) of this Section, o*r* in order to take any measures necessary to determine the scope of the breach and to restore the reasonable integrity of the system, the disclosure shall be made without unreasonable delay.

(b) Encrypted Information. An individual or entity must disclose the breach of the security of the system if encrypted information is accessed and acquired in an unencrypted form, or if the security breach involves a person with access to the encryption key and the individual or entity reasonably believes that such breach has caused or will cause identity theft or other fraud to any resident of Guam.

(c) An individual or entity that maintains computerized data that includes personal information that the individual or entity does not own or license shall notify the owner or licensee of the information of any breach of the security of the system as soon as practicable following discovery, if the personal information was, or if the entity reasonably believes was, accessed and acquired by an unauthorized person.

(d) Notice required by this Section may be delayed if a law enforcement agency determines and advises the individual or entity that the notice will impede a criminal or civil investigation, or homeland or national security. Notice required by this Section must be made without unreasonable delay after the law enforcement agency determines that notification will no longer impede the investigation or jeopardize national or homeland security.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 48.40. Procedures Deemed in Compliance with Security Breach Requirements.

(a) Information Privacy or Security Policy. An entity that maintains its own notification procedures as part of an information privacy or security policy for the treatment of personal information and that are consistent with the timing requirements of this Chapter shall be deemed to be in compliance with the notification requirements of this Chapter if it notifies residents of Guam in accordance with its procedures in the event of a breach of security of the system.

(b) Compliance with Federal requirements.

(1) A financial institution that complies with the notification requirements prescribed by the Federal Interagency Guidance on Response Programs for Unauthorized Access to Customer Information and Customer Notice is deemed to be in compliance with this Chapter.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 48.70. Effective Date.

This Chapter shall take effect one hundred twenty (120) days after the date of enactment.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 48.80. Preemption.

This Chapter deals with subject matter that is of island-wide concern, and it is the intent of I Liheslatura that this Chapter shall supersede and preempt all rules and regulations regarding the matters expressly set forth in this Chapter.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

CHAPTER 52

PERJURY AND OFFENSE AGAINST THE INTEGRITY OF OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS

As used in this Chapter:

~~(a) official function and public servant have the meanings provided for those terms by § 49.10.~~

(g) testimony means oral or written statements, documents or any other material which may be offered by a witness in an official proceeding.

CLRC COMMENT: For clarification of the section, subsection (a) definitions of "official function" and "public servant" in are inserted directly into this section from § 49.10. Subsection (d) definition of "public record" in is stricken as the term is not used in this chapter. Subsection (e) term "non-trivial" is stricken as it creates a potential conflict with "statement" as used in § 52.15 (Perjury) and § 52.20 (False Statement Under Oath); other amendents are for consistency with source MPC § 241.0 (Definition of Statement). Subsection (f)(3) definition of "testimony" is erroneously placed and is renumbered as a new subsection.

§ 52.15. Perjury; Defined & Punished.

(a) A person is guilty of perjury if, under oath in an official proceeding, he makes a false statement which is material and which he does not believe to be true.

(a) the oath was administered or taken in an irregular manner;

(b) the authority or jurisdiction of the person administering the oath was defective, if the defect was excusable under any statute or rule of law;

(c) the statement was subject to a proper objection, whether or not such objection was made; or

(d) the defendant mistakenly believed the falsification to be immaterial, where materiality of the statement is an element of the offense.

§ 52.30. Unsworn Falsifications; Defined & Punished.

A person is guilty of a misdemeanor if, with intent to mislead a public servant in performing his official function, he makes, submits or uses:

§ 52.40. Intimidation of Witnesses by Extortion; Defined & Punished.

A person is guilty of a felony of the third degree if, by any threat which would constitute a means of committing the offense of theft by extortion under this Code if such threat were employed to obtain property, he:

(b) attempts to induce any person who has been or may be properly called as a witness in any official proceeding to give false testimony in, to withhold testimony or information from, or to fail to attend, any such proceeding.

CLRC COMMENT: No change. However, 9 GCA § 43.40 (Theft by Threatening) and § 49.50 (Unlawful Influence by Extortion) will be added to cross-reference comment.

§ 52.45. Witness Bribery: Solicitation: Definitions; Punishment; Affirmative Defenses.

(a) offers, confers upon, or agrees to confer upon, any person any benefit as consideration for refraining from reporting to law enforcement authorities the commission or suspected commission of any offense or information relating to any offense; provided that it is an affirmative defense to a prosecution under this Subsection that the benefit was honestly offered or conferred as restitution or indemnification for harm done in the circumstances of the offense;

(b) offers, confers upon, or agrees to confer upon, any person who has been or may be properly called as a witness in an official proceeding any benefit as consideration for giving false testimony or information, for withholding testimony or information from, or for failing to attend, any such official proceeding;

CLRC COMMENT: Amendment reduces the offense level to a misdemanor. Felony level in this section is inconsistent with source MPC § 241.7 (Tampering with or Fabricating Physical Evidence), which is a misdemeanor, and is inconsistent with § 52.60 (Destroying Evidence), which is a misdemeanor. The other amendment updates the section to include electronic form of evidence.

§ 52.60. Destroying Evidence; Defined & Punished.

A person is guilty of a misdemeanor if, believing that an official proceeding has been or is about to be instituted, he destroys, conceals or removes any record, document or thing in any form, including written or electronic format, with intent to impair its availability in the proceeding.

CLRC COMMENT: Guam's "swatting" law. Subsection (a) amendment elevates false reporting of a criminal offense by another person to a felony to update and strengthen this prohibition. Reference N.J. 2C:28-4 (Falsely incriminating another). The offenses are kept as misdemeanors. Other amendments replace law enforcement officer or authority with peace officer for consistency within this chapter.

§ 55.30. Impersonating a Public ~~Officer~~Servant or Peace Officer; Defined & Punished.

CLRC COMMENT: According to the DOCO Subcommission and DOC representatives, subsection (b) is superfluous because the request is already included in the annual appropriations request; for subsection (c), repeal was suggested because lack of funding/appropriations meant that DOC was unable to conduct training cycles on an annual basis.

Such declaration shall be in writing and executed by the Director and shall be filed and delivered as set forth in Subsection (b) of this Section. Such termination shall be effective immediately upon its execution.

(b) whenever the Director determines that due to overcrowding which impacts on the adequacy of the facility to provide for the safe custody, care, subsistence, education, treatment and training of an inmate the interest of the inmate is better served by such transfer to an institution outside Guam.

The review of the Superior Court shall not be de novo, and shall be limited to a review of the record to determine whether the Transfer Review Committee made its determination based upon a fair and full hearing. A determination may be reversed only upon a showing that the Committee abused its discretion in applying the rules and regulations to the facts which provided the basis for the recommended transfer, and that to allow the decision to stand would result in a miscarriage of justice. Notice of filing an appeal in accordance with this Subsection does not automatically stay an inmates transfer pending appeal.~~

CLRC COMMENT: According to DOC, the Transfer Review Committee has never met.

~~§ 90.48. Nursing Mothers Accommodations.~~

~~(c) No expenditures and encumbrances from the Corrections Revolving Fund shall be made without legislative approval through appropriation.~~

CLRC COMMENT: DOC requested repeal of subsection (c) because the requirement of legislative approval and appropriation made it administratively difficult to access the funds for DOC and inmate needs. There are already protections in place for expenditure and reporting/accounting of expenditure of the funds.

The Governor of Guam is hereby authorized to execute and enter into a Compact on behalf of t Guam with any and all states, territories, Trust Territories and possessions of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico legally joined therein in a form substantially as follows:

Article I
Finding and Purposes

That juveniles who are not under proper supervision and control, or who have absconded, escaped or run away, are likely to endanger their own health, morals and welfare of others. The cooperation of the states party to this Compact is therefore necessary to provide for the welfare and protection of juveniles and of the public with respect to (1) cooperative supervision of delinquent juveniles on probation or parole; (2) the return, from one state to another, of delinquent juveniles who have escaped or absconded; (3) the return, from one state to another, of non-delinquent juveniles who have run away from home; and (4) additional measures for the protection of juveniles and of the public, which any two or more of the party states may find desirable to undertake cooperatively. In carrying out the provisions of this Compact the party states shall be guided by the noncriminal, reformative and protective policies which guide their laws concerning delinquent, neglected or dependent juveniles generally. It shall be the policy of the states party to this Compact to cooperate and observe their respective responsibilities for the prompt return and acceptance of juveniles and delinquent juveniles who become subject to the provisions of this Compact. The provisions of this Compact shall be reasonably and liberally construed to accomplish the foregoing purposes.

Article II
Existing Rights and Remedies

That all remedies and procedures provided by this Compact shall be in addition to and not in substitution for other rights, remedies and procedures, and shall not be in derogation of parental rights and responsibilities.

Article III
Definitions

That, for the purposes of this Compact:

(a) delinquent juvenile means any juvenile who has been adjudged delinquent and who, at the time the provisions of this Compact are invoked, is still subject to the jurisdiction of the court that has made such adjudication or to the jurisdiction or supervision of an agency or institution pursuant to an order of such court;

(b) Probation or parole means any kind of conditional release of juveniles authorized under the laws of the states party hereto;

(c) Court means any court having jurisdiction over delinquent, neglected or dependent children.

(d) State means any state, territory, and Trust Territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; and

(e) Residence or any variant thereof means a place at which a home a regular place of abode is maintained.

Article IV
Return of Runaways

(a) That the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to legal custody of a juvenile who has not been adjudged delinquent but who has run away without the consent of such parent, guardian, person or agency may petition the appropriate court in the demanding state for the issuance of a requisition for his return. The petition shall state the name and age of the juvenile, the name of the petitioner and the basis of entitlement to the juvenile's custody, the circumstances of his running away, his location if known at the time application is made, and such other facts as may tend to show that the juvenile who has run away is endangering his own welfare or the welfare of others and is not an emancipated minor. The petition shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate; and shall be accompanied by two (2) certified copies of the document or documents on which the petitioner's entitlement to the juvenile's custody is based, such as birth certificates, letters of guardian ship, or custody decrees. Such further affidavits and other documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with the petition. The judge of the court to which this application is made shall hold a hearing thereon to determine whether for the purposes of this Compact the petitioner is entitled to the legal custody of the juvenile, whether or not it appears that the juvenile has in fact run away without consent, whether or not he is an emancipated minor, and whether or not it is in the best interest of the juvenile to compel his return to the state. If the judge determines, after a hearing, that the juvenile should be returned, he shall present to the appropriate court or to the executive authority of the state where the juvenile is alleged to be located a written requisition for the return of such juvenile. Such requisition shall set forth the name and age of the juvenile, the determination of the court that the juvenile has run away without the consent or a parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to his legal custody, and that it is in the best interest and for the protection of such juvenile that he be returned. In the event that a proceeding for the adjudication of the juvenile as a delinquent, neglected or dependent juvenile is pending in the court at the time when such juvenile runs away, the court may issue a requisition for the return of such juvenile upon its own motion, regardless of the consent of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to legal custody, reciting therein the nature and circumstances of the pending proceeding. The requisition shall in every case be executed in duplicate and shall be signed by the judge. One (1) copy of the requisition shall be filed with the Compact Administrator of the demanding state, there to remain on file subject to the provision of law governing records of such court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a juvenile who has run away, the court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue and order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing him to take into custody and detain such juvenile. Such detention order must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No juvenile detained upon such order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the court demanding him shall have appointed to receive him, unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of a court in the state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his return, and who shall appoint counsel or guardian and litem for him. If the judge of such court shall find that the requisition is in order he shall deliver such juvenile over the officer whom the court demanding him shall have appointed to receive him. The judge, however may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.

Upon reasonable information that a person is a juvenile who has run away from another state party to this Compact without the consent of a parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to his legal custody, such juvenile may be taken into custody without a requisition and brought forthwith before a judge of the appropriate court who shall appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for such juvenile and who shall determine after a hearing whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person, subject to the order of the court, for his own protection and welfare, for such a time not exceeding ninety (90) days as will enable his return to another state party to this Compact pursuant to a requisition for his return from a court of that state. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a juvenile who has run away, there is pending in the state wherein he is found any criminal charge, or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in such state; or if he is suspended of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of such state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of any state party to this Compact, upon the establishment of their authority and the identity of the juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport such juvenile through any and all states party to this Compact, without interference. Upon his return to the state from which he ran away, the juvenile shall be subject to such further proceedings as may be appropriate under the law of that state.

(b) That the state to which a juvenile is returned under this Article shall be responsible for payment of the transportation cost of such return.

(c) That juvenile as used in this Article means any person who is a minor under the law of the state of residence of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to the legal custody of such minor.

Article V
Return of Escapes and Absconders

(a) That the appropriate person or authority from whose probation or parole supervision a delinquent juvenile has absconded or from whose institutional custody he has escaped shall present to the appropriate court or to the executive authority of the state where the delinquent juvenile is alleged to be located a written requisition for the return of such delinquent juvenile. Such requisition shall state the name and age of the delinquent juvenile, the particulars of his adjudication as a delinquent juvenile, the circumstances of the breach of the terms of his probation or parole or of his escape from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision, and the location of such delinquent juvenile, if known, at the time the requisition is made. The requisition shall be verified by the affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be accompanied by two (2) certified copies of judgment, formal adjudication, or order of commitment which subjects such delinquent juvenile to probation or parole or to the legal custody of the institution or agency concerned. Such further affidavits and other documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with such requisition. One (1) copy of the requisition shall be filed with the Compact Administrator of the demanding state, there to remain on file subject to provisions of law governing records of the appropriate court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a delinquent juvenile who has absconded or escaped, the court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing him to take into custody and detain such delinquent juvenile. Such detention order must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. The delinquent juvenile detained upon such order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him, unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of an appropriate court in the state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his return and who shall appoint counsel or guardian and litem for him. If the judge of such court shall find that the requisition is in order he shall deliver such delinquent juvenile over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him. The judge, however, may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.

Upon reasonable information that a person is a delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision in any state party to this Compact, such person may be taken into custody in any other state party to his Compact without a requisition. But in such event, he must be taken forthwith before a judge of the appropriate court, who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for such person and who shall determine, after a hearing whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person subject to the order of the court for such a time, not exceeding ninety (90) days, at will enable his detention order issued on a requisition pursuant to this Article. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a delinquent juvenile who has either absconded while on probation or parole or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision, there is pending in the state wherein he is detained any criminal charge or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of such state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of any state party to this Compact, upon the establishment of their authority and identity of the delinquent juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport such delinquent juvenile through any and all states party to this Compact, without interference. Upon his return to the state from which he escaped or absconded, the delinquent juvenile shall be subject to such further proceedings as may be appropriate under the laws of that state.

(b) That the state to which a delinquent juvenile is returned under this Article shall be responsible for payment of the transportation cost of such return.

Article VI
Voluntary Return Procedure

That any delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision in any state party to this Compact, and any juvenile who has run away from any state party to this Compact, who is taken into custody without requisition in another state party to this Compact under the provisions of Article IV(a) or of Article V(a), may consent to his immediate return to the state from which he absconded, escaped or ran away. Such consent shall be given by the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and his counsel or guardian ad litem if any, by executing or subscribing a writing, in the presence of a judge of the appropriate court, which states that the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and his counsel or guardian ad litem consent to his return to the demanding state. Before such consent shall be executed or subscribed, however, the judge, in the presence of counsel or guardian ad litem shall inform the juvenile or delinquent juvenile of his rights under this Compact. When the consent has been duly executed, it shall be forwarded to and filed with the Compact Administrator of the state to which the court is located and the judge shall direct the officer having the juvenile or delinquent juvenile in custody to deliver him to the duly accredited officer or officers of the state demanding his return; and shall cause to be delivered to such officer or officers a copy of the consent. The court may, however, upon the request of the state to which the juvenile or delinquent juvenile is being returned, order him to return unaccompanied to such state and shall provide him with a copy of such court order; in such event a copy of the consent shall be forwarded to the Compact Administrator of the state to which said juvenile or delinquent juvenile is ordered to return.

Article VII
Cooperative Supervision of Probationers and Parolees

(a) That the duly constituted judicial and administrative authorities of a state party to this Compact (herein called 'sending state') may permit any delinquent juvenile within such state, placed on probation or parole, to reside in any other state party to this Compact (herein called 'receiving state') while on probation or parole and the receiving state shall accept such delinquent juvenile if the parent, guardian or person entitled to the legal custody of such delinquent juvenile is residing or undertakes to reside within the receiving state. Before granting such permission, opportunity shall be given to the receiving state to make such investigation as it deems necessary. The authorities of the sending state shall send to the authorities of the receiving state copies of pertinent court orders, social case studies and all other available information which may be of value and assist the receiving state in supervising a probationer or parolee under this Compact. A receiving state, in it discretion, may agree to accept supervision of a probationer or parolee in cases where the parent, guardian or person entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile is not a resident of the receiving state, and if so accepted the sending state may transfer supervision accordingly.

(b) That each receiving state will assume the duties of visitation and of supervision over any such delinquent juvenile and in the exercise of those duties will be governed by the same standards of visitation and supervision that prevail for its own delinquent juveniles released on probation or parole.

(c) That, after consultation between the appropriate authorities of the sending state and of the receiving state as to the desirability and necessity of returning such a delinquent juvenile, the duly accredited officers of a sending state may enter a receiving state and there apprehend and retake any such delinquent juvenile on probation or parole. For that purpose, no formalities will be required, other than establishing the authority of the officer and the identity of the delinquent juvenile to be retaken and returned. The decision of the sending state to retake a delinquent juvenile on probation or parole shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving state, but, if at the time the sending state seeks to retake a delinquent juvenile on probation or parole, there is pending against him within the receiving state any criminal charge or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for any act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of the receiving state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of the sending state shall be permitted to transport delinquent juveniles being so returned through any and all states party to this Compact, without interference.

(d) That the sending state shall be responsible under this Article for paying the costs of transporting any delinquent juvenile to the receiving state or of returning any delinquent juvenile to the sending state.

Article VIII
Responsibility for Costs

(a) That the provisions of Articles IV (b), V (b), and VII (d) of this Compact shall not be construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its subdivisions, as to the payment of costs, or responsibilities therefor.

(b) That nothing in this Compact shall be construed to prevent any party state or subdivision thereof from asserting any right against any person, agency, or other entity in regard to costs for which such party state or subdivision thereof may be responsible pursuant to Articles IV (b), V (b) or VII (d) of this Compact.

Article IX
Detention Practices

That, to every extent possible, it shall be the policy of states party to this Compact that no juvenile or delinquent juvenile shall be placed or detained in any prison, jail or lock-up nor be detained or transported in association with criminal, vicious or dissolute persons.

Article X

Such care, treatment and rehabilitation may be provided in an institution located within any state entering delinquent juveniles whenever they shall find that such agreements will improve the facilities or programs available for such care, treatment and rehabilitation. Such care, treatment and rehabilitation may be provided in an institution located within any state entering into such supplementary agreement. Such supplementary agreements shall (1) provide the rates to be paid for the care, treatment and custody of such delinquent juveniles, taking into consideration the character of facilities, services and subsistence furnished; (2) provide that the delinquent juvenile shall be given a court hearing prior to his being sent to another state for care, treatment and custody; (3) provide that the state receiving such a delinquent juvenile in one of its institutions shall act solely as agent for the state sending such delinquent juvenile; (4) provide that the sending state shall at all times retain jurisdiction over delinquent juveniles sent to an institution in another state; (5) provide for reasonable inspection of such institutions by the sending state; (6) provide that the consent of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to the legal custody of said delinquent juvenile shall be secured prior to this being sent to another state; and (7) make provision for such other matters and details as shall be necessary to protect the rights and equities of such delinquent juveniles and of the cooperating state.

Article XV

ARTICLE 7

THE DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS MODERNIZATION ACT OF 2021

§ 90.301. Legislative Findings and Policy.

(a) I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that the Department of Corrections (DOC) was established by Public Law 9-208 on July 18, 1968 within the executive branch of the Government of Guam. Before the enactment of Public Law 9-208, the Department of Corrections was first known as the Guam Penitentiary and through Executive Order 68-23, issued by Governor Manuel F.L Guerrero, the Penitentiary was transferred to the Department of Corrections, which was effective on November 1, 1968.

(b) The Department of Corrections is the only prison on Guam and provides services to local and federal agencies. DOC provides custodial care to individuals who are convicted of crimes and for those who are waiting judicial disposition. The environment of the prison must meet federal standards such as the National Prison Standards, Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA), and the National Commission on Correctional Healthcare Standards (NCCHC), which ensures that the living conditions are decent and humane; but, with the issue of overcrowding and structural failures, DOC has been struggling to properly execute their mandates and comply with national standards. DOC is ensuring that it prevents any violations of the Federal Consent Decree, which requires the Government of Guam to improve the living conditions of the inmates following the Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons Act.

(c) The Adult Correctional Facility (ACF) in Mangilao is in its stages of failure due to age and lack of modern technology, which is affecting the operations and personnel of the correctional agency. The ACF was built to hold a maximum of three hundred (300) inmates and detainees; and currently, the population of Guam is growing as well as its crime rates, while DOC has outgrown its ACF. Over time, other DOC buildings were added to address the overcrowding issues of the ACF, and buildings used for rehabilitation and offices were re-designed to accommodate the rising population of prisoners. The Adult Correctional Facility is made of fifteen (15) housing units, which holds not only local inmates and detainees, but also immigration and federal detainees. The lack of proper facilities prevents DOC from properly providing rehabilitation to the inmates.

(d) The poor condition of the housing units of the prison is not cost effective or adequate to handle the growing prisoner population, and DOC recognized the difficulty in meeting its mandates of providing security, health, rehabilitation and welfare to the inmates and detainees under its care without compromising the well-being of its personnel. The main goal of the Department of Corrections is to provide rehabilitation to individuals who have been convicted of crimes and ensure that they become useful members of the community and to themselves.

(e) Furthermore, I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that DOC has plans to build a new Department of Corrections facility with a bed capacity for one thousand (1,000) inmates to replace its current prison if funding was available. The new prison would provide the proper space to meet its mandates and the demands of its growing prisoner population. The Department of Corrections had started to draft an eighty (80)-year master plan, which will provide a phase-to-phase plan to construct a new Department of Corrections facility that will meet its construction goal of a bed capacity of one thousand (1,000) inmates. The Department of Corrections' goal is to ensure that all the issues on structural, technology, and security of the inmates and personnel are covered. The master plan also ensures that DOC meets all federal standards such as the National Prison Standards and PREA standards.

(f) Therefore, it is the intent of I Liheslaturan Guåhan to provide the Department of Corrections with the proper confinement of offenders in a controlled environment prison and community-based facilities that are safe, humane, cost-efficient, and appropriately secure, which also promotes the safety of the people of Guam. I Liheslaturan Guåhan has identified funding to construct a new Department of Corrections Adult Correctional Facility through the Earned Income Tax Credits to be reimbursed to Guam at an estimated Sixty Million Dollars ($60,000,000) annually, of which an estimate of no more than Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000) will be allocated for the payments of the lease-back agreement.

(g) In an effort to overcome financing hurdles, and to provide DOC with the proper tools to meet its mandates, I Liheslaturan Guåhan desires to authorize the Government of Guam to enter into contract for the financing, design, construction, and long-term capital maintenance of a new Department of Corrections facility with private sector contractors who can provide long-term financing.

(h) To facilitate the financing, design, construction, and maintenance of a new Department of Corrections facility envisioned by this Act, the Government of Guam will be authorized to execute a lease agreement of existing property under its inventory for up to thirty (30) years on which the new Department of Corrections facility will be constructed.

(i) The lease of the Government of Guam's property will be to the contractor and/or the Guam Economic Development Authority, who will design and construct the new Department of Corrections facility and provide a funding for the design and construction through appropriations received from the reimbursement of the Earned Income Tax Credit for Fiscal Year 2022 and prospective appropriations from the General Fund, thereafter annually. Upon completion of the construction, the facilities and land will be leased back to the Government of Guam for a period not to exceed the initial ground lease to the contractor over which time the Government of Guam will amortize, as lease payments to the contractor, the cost of financing, design, construction, and related expenses of the new Department of Corrections.

(j) The contractor/developer will also be responsible for the capital maintenance and repair of the Department of Corrections constructed under this Act, which costs shall be paid by the Government of Guam as provided for under this Act. At the expiration of the lease-back period, the Government of Guam real property and the Department of Corrections constructed on the Government of Guam real property will revert to the Government of Guam with no further obligations to the contractor.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

(b) The Committee shall also specifically consider the contractor/developer's ability and performance with regards to the financing, development and construction of a correctional facility on Guam or any similar isolated locality.

(c) The selection of a contractor/developer shall be based upon the proposal that delivers the lowest cost value for Guam in meeting the objectives of the correctional agency.

(d) GEDA shall issue an RFP within thirty (30) days after the conclusion of its Program Study, in consultation with the Department of Corrections for the design, construction, and maintenance of the correctional facilities.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

The lease may, for the purposes herein, provide that its term shall be extended for a period not to exceed the shorter of ten (10) years beyond the original term of the lease-back, or such period of time as is necessary to repay in full any financing arranged pursuant to § 90.309 of this Article.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 90.306. Contractual Safeguards.

Prior to undertaking the work of finance, design, construction, and maintenance of the new Department of Corrections, the Guam Economic Development Authority, in consultation with the Department of Corrections and the contractor/developer, shall negotiate and enter into a binding construction contract to build the new Department of Corrections in accordance with Guam Building Code under 21 GCA Chapter 67, Guam Fire Safety Codes and any other applicable requirements. CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 90.308. Pledge or Reservation of Revenues.

(a) Rental payments under the lease and the lease-back may be secured by a pledge or other reservation of revenues collected by the Government of Guam from the following:

(1) The sum of no more than Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000) from the revenues received pursuant to 11 GCA Chapter 42, Earned Income Tax Credit will be available for Fiscal Year 2022 only.

The instrument by which such pledge or reservation is created need be recorded.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 90.309. Use of Tax-Exempt Bond, Taxable Bond, and Other Financing Instruments for Financing.

The Guam Economic Development Authority shall be the issuer of any financial instruments or obligations unless the Guam Economic Development Authority waives its right to serve as the issuer of financial instruments or obligations. Alternatively, the contractor may use an alternative method of financing, including, but not limited to, a short-term debt, mortgage, loan, federally guaranteed loan or loan by an instrumentality of the United States of America if such financing will better serve the needs of the people of Guam. Such alternative financing shall be approved by I Liheslaturan Guåhan. The purpose for the requirements of this Section is to assure that the Government of Guam pays the lowest possible interest rate so that the cost of the Government of Guam's financing of the design and construction of the Department of Corrections, amortized through the lease-back payments from the Government of Guam to GEDA and or the contractor/developer, will be lower than regular commercial rates.

(b) I Liheslaturan Guahan, pursuant to § 50103(k) of Chapter 50, Title 12, Guam Code Annotated, hereby authorizes the Guam Economic Development Authority to issue one or more additional series of tax-exempt and/or taxable obligations (in any case, the "bonds") for the purpose of financing the Department of Corrections Adult Correctional Facility, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed Eighty Million Dollars ($80,000,000) for the following purposes:

(3) to fund capitalized interest with respect to the bonds; and

(4) to pay expenses relating to the authorization, sale, and issuance of the bonds, including without limitation, printing costs, costs of reproducing documents, credit enhancement fees, underwriting, legal, feasibility, financial advisory and accounting fees and charges, fees paid to banks, or other financial institutions providing credit enhancement fees, costs of credit ratings and other costs, charges and fees in connection with the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds, subject to the following additional conditions:

(A) The terms and conditions of the bonds shall be as determined by the Guam Economic Development Authority by the execution of a certificate, trust agreement or indenture authorizing the issuance of the bonds; provided, however, that such terms and conditions shall be consistent with this Section, that the bonds shall have a final maturity not to exceed thirty (30) years; and an interest rate not to exceed seven percent (7%).

The specifications shall require that all systems are designed by the same software developer so as to ensure the delivery of the rehabilitation to the inmates.

(c) In order to ensure immediate response to system downtimes or failure, GEDA may include in the specifications the requirement that the provider of these systems have a local Guam Office and service technicians stationed on Guam.

CHAPTER 91

INFANT CHILD'S RIGHT TO LIFE ACT

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 91.01. Title.

This Act may be known and cited as the "Infant Child's Right to Life Act."

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 91.02. Legislative Findings and Purpose.

(a) I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that:

(1) All children, no matter their age, have the right to life. Guam has a paramount interest in protecting all human life.

(2) If an abortion results in the live birth of an infant, the infant is a legal person for all purposes under the laws of Guam.

(3) Guam must assert its interest in protecting an infant whose live birth occurred as the result of an abortion.

(4) Without proper legal protection, newly-born infants who survive abortions could be denied proper life-saving or life-sustaining medical treatment and left to die.

(b) Accordingly, it is the purpose of this Act to ensure the protection and promotion of the health and wellbeing of all infants born alive in Guam. Therefore, this Act mandates that healthcare providers give medically appropriate and reasonable life-saving and life-sustaining medical care and treatment to all born alive infants.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 91.03. Definitions.

For the purposes of this Act only:

(a) Abortion means the termination of a human pregnancy with an intention other than to produce a live birth or to remove a dead fetus.

(b) Born alive or live birth means the complete expulsion or extraction of an infant from his or her mother, regardless of the state of gestational development, that, after expulsion or extraction, whether or not the umbilical cord has been cut or the placenta is attached, and regardless of whether the expulsion or extraction occurs as a result of natural or induced labor, cesarean section, or induced abortion, shows any evidence of life, including, but not limited to, one or more of the following:

(1) breathing;

(2) a heartbeat;

(3) umbilical cord pulsation; or

(4) definite movement of voluntary muscles.

(c) Consent means knowledge of and explicit or implicit agreement to or instruction to perform a violation of this Act.

(d) Facility or medical facility means any public or private hospital, clinic, center, medical school, medical training institution, healthcare facility, physician's office, infirmary, dispensary, ambulatory surgical treatment center, or other institution or location wherein medical care is provided to any person.

(e) Infant, for the purposes of this Act, and as used in this Act, means a child of the species homo sapiens that has been completely expulsed or extracted from its mother, regardless of the stage of gestational development, until the age of thirty (30) days post birth. An infant is also a human being for purposes of Chapter 16 of Title 9, Guam Code Annotated.

(f) Premature or preterm means occurring prior to the thirty-seventh (37th) week of gestation.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 91.04. Requirements and Responsibilities.

(a) A person shall not deny or deprive an infant of nourishment with the intent to cause or allow the death of the infant for any reason.

(b) A person shall not deprive an infant of medically appropriate and reasonable medical care and treatment or surgical care.

(c) The requirements of this Section shall not be construed to prevent an infant's parent(s) or guardian(s) from refusing to give consent to medical treatment or surgical care which is not medically necessary or reasonable, including care or treatment which either:

(1) is not necessary to save the life of the infant;

(2) has a potential risk to the infant's life or health that outweighs the potential benefit to the infant of the treatment or care; or

(3) is treatment that will do no more than prolong the act of dying when death is imminent.

(d) The physician performing an abortion must take all medically appropriate and reasonable steps to preserve the life and health of an infant. If an abortion performed in a hospital results in a live birth, the physician attending the abortion shall provide immediate medical care to the infant, inform the mother of the live birth, and request the transfer of the infant to a resident, on-duty or emergency care physician, who shall provide medically-appropriate and reasonable medical care and treatment to the infant. If an abortion performed in a facility other than a hospital results in a live birth, a physician attending the abortion shall provide immediate medical care and treatment to the infant and call 9-1-1 for an emergency transfer of the infant to a hospital that shall provide medically-appropriate and reasonable care and treatment to the infant.

(e) If the physician described in Subsection (d) of this Section is unable to perform the duties in that Subsection because he is assisting the woman on whom the abortion was performed, then an attending physician's assistant, nurse, or other licensed healthcare provider must assume the duties outlined in that Subsection.

(f) Any infant, including one born in the course of an abortion procedure, shall be treated as a legal person under the laws of Guam, with the same rights to medically-appropriate care and treatment, and birth and death (if death occurs) certificates shall be issued accordingly.

(g) If, before the abortion, the mother and the father have stated in writing that they do not wish to keep the infant in the event that the abortion results in a live birth, and this writing is not retracted before the abortion, the infant, if born alive, shall immediately upon birth become a ward of Guam.

(h) No person may use any infant for any type of scientific research or other kind of experimentation except as necessary to protect or preserve the life and health of the premature born alive infant.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 91.05. Criminal Penalties.

(a) Any physician, nurse, or other licensed healthcare provider who intentionally with premeditation, or intentionally, or knowingly, or recklessly, or by criminal negligence fails to provide reasonable and medically-appropriate and reasonable care and treatment to an infant in the course of an abortion shall be guilty of a criminal homicide, as defined in Chapter 16 of Title 9, Guam Code Annotated, and may be punished in accordance with that Chapter. The mother will not be liable, criminally or civilly, for actions of a physician, nurse, or other licensed healthcare provider, in violation of this Act to which she did not give her consent.

(b) Any violation of § 91.04(h) of this Act concerning the research use of a born-alive infant is a felony of the first degree, and upon conviction may be punished in accordance with Article 2, Chapter 80 of Title 9, Guam Code Annotated.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 91.06. Civil and Administrative Action.

In addition to whatever remedies are available under the common or statutory laws of Guam, failure to comply with the requirements of this Act shall:

(a) provide a basis for a civil action for compensatory and punitive damages. Any conviction under this Act shall be admissible in a civil suit as prima facie evidence of a failure to provide medically appropriate and reasonable care and treatment to a born-alive infant. Any civil action may be based on a claim that the death of or injury to the born-alive infant was a result of simple negligence, gross negligence, wantonness, willfulness, intentional conduct, or another violation of the legal standard of care;

(b) provide a basis for professional disciplinary action for the suspension or revocation of any license of physicians, licensed and registered nurses, or other licensed or regulated persons. Any conviction of any person for any failure to comply with the requirements of this Act shall result in the automatic suspension of his or her license for a period of at least one year, and shall be reinstated after that time only under such conditions as shall be required to ensure compliance with this Act; and

(c) provide a basis for recovery for the parent(s) of the infant, or the parent(s) or guardian(s) of the mother if the mother is a minor, for the wrongful death of the infant whether or not the infant was viable at the time abortion was performed.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 60109. Concealed Firearms.

No identification card shall be issued permitting the holder to carry a concealed firearm of any nature unless:

~~(a) the applicant shows exceptional cause therefore. Such exceptional causes shall include, but not be limited to, facts which show that such concealment is absolutely necessary for an individual who is engaged in the protection of persons or property, or who shows that he has a genuine reason to fear for the safety of his person or property and that a concealed firearm would materially lessen the danger. Such permission, once stated upon the identification card, shall not be renewed unless, at the time for renewal, the application shows a continuing need for such permission, using the standards for such permission as they exist at the time for renewal. It shall be unlawful for any person to carry any firearm concealed unless he has received permission to carry such firearm and such permission is stated upon the face of his identification card; or~~

~~(b)~~ an applicant meets the requirements for a concealed firearms license as defined in §60109.1 of this Chapter. It shall be unlawful for any person to carry any firearm concealed unless he has received permission in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter to carry such firearm and such permission is stated upon the face of his identification card.

CLRC COMMENT: The "exceptional cause" requirement has been found to be unconstitutional See New York State Rifle & Pistol Ass'n, Inc. v. Bruen, 142 S. Ct. 2111 (2022).

§ 60110. Registration.

Any person purchasing, receiving by gift, device or otherwise, acquiring or otherwise coming into permanent possession of a firearm, the possession of which is permitted by this chapter, shall register the same with the Department within ~~three (3)~~ five (5) working days after acquiring said firearm on the forms specified by the Department provided however any member of the United States Coast Guard or any Armed Forces of the United States arriving in Guam for a permanent change of station ("PCS"), or a dependent of the same, shall have 180 days from the arrival of the firearm(s) with their household goods to register such firearm(s). Failure to register shall result in a civil fine of $10.00 per day that the firearm is unregistered, in addition to the other penalties provided in this chapter. Any such fines shall be paid to the Treasurer of Guam for the account of the Department of Revenue and Taxation. Such facts and information shall be given so as to enable the Department to record for identification purposes the firearm so registered. It shall be unlawful for any person to own or possess any firearm which has not been registered. No firearm may be registered by the Department unless the person presenting the firearm also displays current identification card evidencing his eligibility to own, possess, use or carry the firearm presented for inspection as to the facts required for registration. Any firearm registration which expires on or after March 1, 1988 or which is thereafter issued under this chapter shall be permanent for as long as the registrant retains the firearm. The Chief of Police shall promulgate rules and regulations establishing a permanent firearms identification card and a reasonable fee to cover the cost incurred.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendments to alleviate issues with military members registering firearms brought into Guam. Grace period is consistent with the grace period in § 60110.1.

§ 60110.1. Firearms.

A grace period for payment of fees due for renewal of registration or for new registration for a firearm for a member of the United States Coast Guard or any Armed Forces of the United States including but not limited to the Guam National Guard or Reserves or a dependent of a member of the same ~~of the Guam National Guard or Reserves~~, shall be in effect while that member is on active service outside Guam and for the next one hundred eighty (180) days after completion of such service. No interest or penalties shall be assessed for any period prior to expiration of the one hundred eighty (180) days.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendments for consistency with changes recommended for § 60110.

(1) to forbid, prevent, and condemn conduct that unjustifiably and inexcusably inflicts or threatens substantial harm to individual or public interests;

(2) to insure the public safety by preventing the commission of offenses through the deterrent influence of the sentence authorized, the rehabilitation of those convicted, and their confinement when required in the interest of public protection;

(3) to subject to public control persons whose conduct indicates that they are disposed to commit offenses;

(4) to give fair warning of the nature of the conduct proscribed and of the sentences authorized upon conviction;

(6) to define adequately the act and mental state which constitute each offense, and limit the condemnation of conduct as criminal when it is without fault.

(b) The general purposes of the provisions governing the sentencing of offenders are:

(1) to prevent and condemn the commission of offenses;

(2) to promote the correction and rehabilitation of offenders;

(3) to assure the public safety by preventing the commission of offenses through the deterrent influence of sentences imposed and the confinement of offenders when required in the interest of public protections;

Added subsection (b)(9) is from the United States Code and promotes educational, vocational and medical care of inmates. Added subsection (b)(10) safeguards against disproportionate punishment.

§ 1.16. Territorial Applicability.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a person may be convicted under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam of an offense committed by his own conduct or the conduct of another for which he is legally accountable if;

(1) he conduct which is an element of the offense or the result which is such an element occurs within ~~this Territory~~ Guam;

(2) conduct occurring outside the Territory is sufficient under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam to constitute an attempt to commit an offense within ~~the Territory~~ Guam;

(3) conduct occurring outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam is sufficient under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam to constitute a conspiracy to commit or offense within ~~the Territory~~ Guam and an overt act in furtherance of such conspiracy occurs within ~~the Territory~~ Guam;

(4) conduct occurring within ~~the Territory~~ Guam establishes complicity in the commission of, or an attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy to commit, an offense in another jurisdiction which is also an offense under the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam.

(5) the offense consists of the omission to perform a legal duty imposed by the law of ~~this Territory~~ Guam with respect to domicile, residence, or a relationship to a person, thing, or transaction in ~~the Territory~~ Guam; or

(6) the offense is based on a statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam which expressly prohibits conduct outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam when the conduct bears a reasonable relation to a legitimate interest of ~~this Territory~~ Guam and the person knows or should know that his conduct is likely to affect that interest.

(b) ~~Paragraph (1) of~~ Subsection (a)(1) does not apply when either causing a specified result or an intent to cause or danger of causing such a result is an element of an offense and the result occurs or is designed or likely to occur only in another jurisdiction where the conduct charged would not constitute an offense, unless a legislative purpose plainly appears to declare the conduct criminal regardless of the place of the result.

(c) ~~Paragraph (1) of~~ Subsection (a)(1) does not apply when causing a particular result is an element of an offense and the result is caused by conduct occurring outside ~~the Territory~~ Guam which would not constitute an offense if the result had occurred there, unless the person intentionally or knowingly caused the result within ~~the Territory~~ Guam.

(d) When the offense is homicide, either death of the victim or the bodily impact causing death constitutes a "result," within the meaning of ~~Paragraph (1) of S~~ subsection (a)(1) and if the body of a homicide victim is found within ~~the Territory~~ Guam, it is presumed that such result occurred within ~~the Territory~~ Guam.

(e) ~~the Territory~~ Guam includes the land and water and the air space above such land and water with respect to which ~~the Territory~~ Guam has legislative jurisdiction.

(f) Notwithstanding that territorial jurisdiction may be found under this Section, the court may dismiss, hold in abeyance for up to six months, or with the permission of the defendant, place on an inactive list a criminal prosecution under the law of this Territory where it appears that such action is in the interests of justice because the defendant is being or is likely to be prosecuted for an offense based on the same conduct in another jurisdiction and ~~the Territory~~ Guam's interest will be adequately served by a prosecution in the other jurisdiction.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendments for consistency with 1 GCA § 420. Other amendments are for clarification of citations.

§ 1.18. Classes of Crimes.

(a) An offense defined by this Code or by any other statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam, for which a sentence of imprisonment is authorized, constitutes a crime. Crimes are classified as felonies, misdemeanors or petty misdemeanors.

(b) A crime is a felony if it is so designated in this Code or if persons convicted thereof may be sentenced to imprisonment for a term which, apart from an extended term, is in excess of one year.

(c) A crime is a misdemeanor if it is so designated in this Code or in a statute other than this Code enacted subsequent thereto.

(d) Any offense declared by law to constitute a crime, without specification of the grade thereof or of the sentence authorized upon conviction, is a misdemeanor.

(e) A crime is a petty misdemeanor if it is so designated in this Code or in a statute other than this Code enacted subsequent thereto or if it is defined by a statute other than this Code which now provides that person convicted thereof may be sentenced to imprisonment for a maximum term of less than one year.

(f) An offense defined by this Code or by any other statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam constitutes a violation if it is so designated in this Code or in the law defining the offense or if no other sentence than a fine, or fine and forfeiture or other civil penalty is authorized upon conviction. A violation does not constitute a crime and conviction of a violation shall not give rise to any disability or legal disadvantage based on conviction of a criminal offense.

(g) An offense defined by any statute of ~~this Territory~~ Guam other than this Code shall be classified as provided in this Section and the sentence that may be imposed upon conviction thereof shall hereafter be governed by this Code.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendments for consistency with 1 GCA § 420.

§ 1.19. Felonies Defined and Classified.

(a) Felonies defined by this Code are classified, for the purpose of sentence, into three degrees, as follows:

(1) felonies of the first degree;

(2) felonies of the second degree;

(3) felonies of the third degree.

Any crime declared to be a felony, without specification of degree, is of the third degree.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a felony defined by any statute of Guam other than this Code shall constitute for the purpose of sentence a felony of the third degree.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendments for consistency with 1 GCA § 420.

§ 1.20. Relationship of Code to Other Laws; Contempts, Penalties and Remedies.

(a) No conduct constitutes an offense unless it is a crime or violation under this Code or other statute of Guam.

(b) The provisions of this Code shall apply to offenses defined by other statutes, unless otherwise expressly provided or unless the context otherwise requires.

(c) Nothing in this Code shall affect the power of a court to punish contempt or to employ any sanction authorized by law for the enforcement of an order or a civil judgment or decree.

(d) Nothing in this Code shall bar or suspend any liability for damages, penalty, forfeiture, or other remedy otherwise authorized by law to be recovered or enforced in any civil action or proceeding, for any conduct punishable by this Code.

CLRC COMMENT: Amendment for consistency with 1 GCA § 420.

§ 1.22. Prosecution for Conduct Which Constitutes More Than One Offense.

When the same conduct of a defendant may establish the commission of more than one offense, the defendant may be prosecuted for each such offense. He may not, however, be convicted of more than one offense if:

(a) one offense is included in the other as defined in 8 GCA § 105.58 ~~of the Criminal Procedure Code~~;

(b) one offense consists only of a conspiracy or other form of preparation to commit the other,

(c) inconsistent findings of fact are required to establish the commission of the offenses;

(d) the offenses differ only in that one is defined to prohibit a designated kind of conduct generally and the other to prohibit a specific instance of such conduct; or

(e) the offense is defined as a continuing course of conduct and the defendant's course of conduct was uninterrupted, unless the law provides that specific periods of such conduct constitute separate offenses.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive citation clarification.

§ 1.24. Double Jeopardy. Same Offense.

A prosecution of a defendant for a violation of the same provision of the statutes based upon the same facts as a former prosecution is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal by a finding of not guilty by the trier of fact or in a determination that there was insufficient evidence to warrant a conviction. A finding of guilty of a lesser included offense is an acquittal of the greater inclusive offense, although the conviction is subsequently set aside.

(b) The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint had been filed or the indictment found, by a final order or judgment for the defendant, which has not been set aside, reversed, or vacated and which necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact or a legal proposition that must be established for conviction of the offense.

(c) The former prosecution resulted in a conviction. There is a conviction if the prosecution resulted in a judgment of conviction which has not been reversed or vacated, a verdict of guilty which has not been set aside and which is capable of supporting a judgment, or a plea of guilty accepted by the court. In the latter two cases failure to enter judgment must be for a reason other than a motion of the defendant.

(d) The former prosecution was improperly terminated. Except as provided in this Subsection, there is an improper termination of a prosecution if the termination is for reasons not amounting to an acquittal, and it takes place after the jury was impaneled and sworn or, in a trial before a court without a jury, after the first witness was sworn but before findings were rendered by the trier of fact. Termination under any of the following circumstances is not improper:

(1) the defendant consents to the termination or waives, by motion to dismiss or otherwise, his right to object to the termination;

(2) the trial court finds that the termination is necessary because of the failure of the jury to agree upon a verdict after a reasonable time for deliberation has been allowed; or

(3) the trial court finds that the termination is required by a sufficient legal reason and a manifest or absolute or overriding necessity.

§ 1.26. Double Jeopardy. Different Offense.

A prosecution of a defendant for a violation of a different provision of the statutes or based on different facts than a former prosecution is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal or in a conviction as defined in § 1.24 and the subsequent prosecution is for:

(1) any offense of which the defendant could have been convicted on the first prosecution;

(2) any offense of which the defendant should have been tried on the first prosecution under ~~Subsection (b) of § 65.30 of the Criminal Procedure Code~~ 8 GCA § 65.30(b) unless the court ordered a separate trial of the charge of such offense; or

(3) the same conduct, unless (A) the offense of which the defendant was formerly convicted or acquitted and the offense for which he is subsequently prosecuted each requires proof of a fact not required by the other and the law defining each of such offenses is intended to prevent a substantially different harm or evil, or (B) the second offense was not consummated when the former trial began.

(b) The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint was filed or the indictment found, by an acquittal or by a final order or judgment for the defendant which has not been set aside, reversed or vacated and which acquittal, final order or judgment necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact which must be established for conviction of the second offense.

(c) The former prosecution was improperly terminated, as improper termination is defined in § 1.24, and the subsequent prosecution is for an offense of which the defendant could have been convicted had the former prosecution not been improperly terminated.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive citation clarification.

§ 1.28. Concurrent Jurisdiction. When a Bar to Prosecution.

When conduct constitutes an offense within the concurrent jurisdiction of Guam and of the United States or any state, a prosecution in any such other jurisdiction is a bar to a subsequent prosecution in Guam under the following circumstances:

(a) the first prosecution resulted in an acquittal or in a conviction as defined in § 1.24 and the subsequent prosecution is based on the same conduct, unless

(1) the offense of which the defendant was formerly convicted or acquitted and the offense for which he is subsequently prosecuted each requires proof of a fact not required by the other and the law defining each of such offenses is intended to prevent a substantially different harm or evil or

(2) the offense for which the defendant is subsequently prosecuted is intended to prevent a substantially more serious harm or evil than the offense of which he was formerly convicted or acquitted or

(3) the second offense was not consummated when the former trial began; or

(b) the former prosecution was terminated after the information was filed or the indictment found, by an acquittal or by a final order or judgment for the defendant which has not been set aside, reversed or vacated and which acquittal, final order or judgment necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact which must be established for conviction of the offense of which the defendant is subsequently prosecuted.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 1.30. Former Prosecutions. When Not a Bar to Present Prosecution.

A prosecution is not a bar within the meaning of §§ 1.24, 1.26 and 1.28 under ~~either~~ any of the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution was before a court which lacked jurisdiction over the defendant or the offense tried in that court; or

(b) The former prosecution resulted in a judgment of conviction which was held invalid in a subsequent proceeding on a petition for post-conviction relief or similar process, except that any bar as to reprosecution for a greater inclusive offense created by ~~Subsection (a) of~~ § 1.24(a) shall apply.

(c) The former prosecution resulted in a plea of guilty or nolo contendere which was held invalid in an appeal under 8 GCA § 130.15(e) and the defendant may be retried as if the former plea had not been entered.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive grammatical correction and citation clarification.

CHAPTER 4

GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF LIABILITY

§ 4.10. Conduct to Include Voluntary Act or Omission.

A person is not guilty of an offense unless his liability is based on conduct which includes a voluntary act or the omission to perform an act of which he is physically capable.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.15. Voluntary Act Defined.

(a) A voluntary act is one performed consciously as a result of effort or determination.

(b) Possession is a voluntary act if the possessor knowingly procured or received the thing possessed, or was aware of his control of it for sufficient time to have been able to terminate his control.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.20. Liability for Omission Limited.

A person is not guilty of an offense if his liability is based solely on an omission unless the law defining the offense expressly so provides, or a duty to perform the act is otherwise imposed by law.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.25. Culpability.

Except as provided in § 4.45, a person is not guilty of a crime unless he acts intentionally, knowingly, recklessly or with criminal negligence, as the law may require, with respect to the conduct, the result thereof or the attendant circumstances which constitute the material elements of the crime.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.30. Culpability Defined.

(a) A person acts intentionally, or with intent, with respect to his conduct or to a result thereof when it is his conscious purpose to engage in the conduct or cause the result.

(b) A person acts knowingly, or with knowledge, with respect to his conduct or to attendant circumstances when he is aware of the nature of his conduct or that those circumstances exist. A person acts knowingly, or with knowledge, with respect to a result of his conduct when he is aware that his conduct is practically certain to cause the result.

(c) A person acts recklessly, or is reckless, with respect to attendant circumstances or the result of his conduct when he acts in awareness of a substantial risk that the circumstances exist or that his conduct will cause the result and his disregard is unjustifiable and constitutes a gross deviation from the standard of care that a reasonable person would exercise in the situation.

(d) A person acts with criminal negligence, or is criminally negligent, with respect to attendant circumstances or the result of his conduct when he should be aware of a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the circumstances exist or that his conduct will cause the result and his failure to be aware of the risk constitutes a gross deviation from the standard of care that a reasonable person would exercise in the situation.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.35. Culpability Applied to Elements of Offense.

(a) If the definition of an offense prescribes a culpable mental state but does not specify the conduct, attendant circumstances or result to which it applies, the prescribed culpable mental state shall apply to each such material element.

(b) If the definition of a crime prescribes criminal negligence as the culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally, knowingly or recklessly. When recklessness suffices to establish a culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally or knowingly. When acting knowingly suffices to establish a culpable mental state, it is also established if a person acts intentionally.

(c) Knowledge that conduct constitutes an offense, or knowledge of the existence, meaning, or application of the statute defining an offense, is not an element of an offense unless the statue clearly so provides.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.40. Culpable Mental State Generally Required.

Except as provided in § 4.45, if the definition of a crime does not expressly prescribe a culpable mental state, a culpable mental state is nonetheless required and is established only if a person acts intentionally, knowingly or recklessly.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 4.45. ~~Same~~ Culpable Mental State: When Inapplicable.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive amendment to section title.

§ 4.50. Causation Established and Defined.

(a) An element of an offense which requires that the defendant have caused a particular result is established when his conduct is an antecedent but for which the result would not have occurred, and,

(1) if the offense requires that the defendant intentionally or knowingly caused the result, that the actual result, as it occurred,

(A) is within the purpose of contemplation of the defendant, whether the purpose or contemplation extends to natural events or to the conduct of another, or, if not,

(B) involves the same kind of injury or harm as that designed or contemplated and is not too remote, accidental in its occurrence or dependent on another's volitional act to have a just bearing on the defendant's liability or on the gravity of his offense;

(2) if the offense requires that the defendant recklessly or negligently cause the result, that the actual result, as it occurred,

(A) is within the risk of which the defendant was or should have been aware, whether that risk extends to natural events or to the conduct of another, or, if not,

(B) involves the same kind of injury or harm as that recklessly or negligently risked and is not too remote, accidental in its occurrence or dependent on another's volitional act to have a just bearing on the defendant's liability or on the gravity of his offense;

(3) if the offense imposes strict liability, that the actual result, as it occurred, is a ~~probably~~ probable consequence of the defendant's conduct.

(b) A defendant shall not be relieved of responsibility for causing a result if the only difference between what actually occurred and what was designed, contemplated or risked is that a different person or property was injured or affected or that a less serious or less extensive injury or harm occurred.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive amendment to section

§ 4.55. Guilt Established by Causing or Aiding Innocent Party in Commission of Crime.

CLRC COMMENT: Non-substantive amendment to section title.

(b) It is no defense that an individual upon whose conduct liability of the corporation is based has not been prosecuted or convicted, has been convicted of a different offense or is immune from prosecution.

(c) As used in this Section, managerial agent means an agent of the corporation having duties of such responsibility that his conduct may fairly be found to represent the policy of the corporation.

§ 17.01. Title.

This Act may be cited or referred to as "The Unborn Victims of Violence Act of 2016."

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 17.02. Legislative Statement and Intent.

(a) I Liheslaturan Guåhan understands that the physical harm or death of an expectant woman could equally result in the physical harm and death to the unborn child in her womb. For the woman who desires to carry and care for her unborn child to term, the protection and safety of the living being in her womb is something she should not have to worry about. To this statement, former President George W. Bush once expressed, "Any time an expectant mother is a victim of violence, two lives are in the balance, each deserving protection, and each deserving justice."

(b) I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that "The Unborn Victims of Violence Act of 2016" (Act) is a step toward protecting an expectant mother and her unborn child, and recognizes that an unborn child is a legal victim if he or she is injured or killed during the commission of crimes of violence.

(c) I Liheslaturan Guåhan believes and further recognizes that while an expectant mother has a legal right to determine the fate of her unborn child, she should also be assured that any harm to her unborn child caused from unwarranted and unexpected harm directed at her will result in additional criminal sanctions against the responsible person(s).

CHAPTER 25

SEXUAL OFFENSES

§ 25.10. Definitions.

(a) As used in this Chapter:

(1) "Actor" means a person accused of criminal sexual conduct;

(2) "Consent" means words or overt actions by a person indicating a freely given present agreement to perform a particular sexual act with the actor. Consent does not mean the existence of a prior or current social relationship between the actor and the victim or that the victim failed to resist a particular sexual act.

(A) A person who is mentally incapacitated or physically helpless as defined by this Chapter cannot consent to a sexual act.

(B) Corroboration of the victim's testimony is not required to show lack of consent.

(3) "Force" or "Coercion" includes, but is not limited to, any of the following circumstances:

(A) when the actor overcomes the victim through the actual application of physical force or physical violence;

(B) when the actor coerces the victim to submit by threatening to use force or violence on the victim and the victim believes that the actor has the present ability to execute these threats;

(C) when the actor coerces the victim to submit by threatening to retaliate in the future against the victim or any other person and the victim believes that the actor has the ability to execute this threat. As used in this Subsection, to retaliate includes threats of physical punishment, kidnapping, or extortion;

(D) when the actor engages in the medical treatment or examination of the victim in a manner or for purposes which are medically recognized as unethical or unacceptable; or

(E) when the actor, through concealment or by the element of surprise, is able to overcome the victim.

(4) "Intimate Parts" includes the primary genital area, groin, inner thigh, buttock, or breast of a human being;

(5) "Mentally Impaired" means that a person suffers from a mental disease or defect which renders that person temporarily or permanently incapable of appraising the nature of his or her conduct;

(6) "Mentally Incapacitated" means

(A) that a person is rendered temporarily incapable of appraising or controlling his or her conduct due to the influence of a narcotic, anesthetic, or other substance administered to that person without his or her consent, or due to any other act committed upon that person without his or her consent; or

(B) that a person is voluntarily under the influence of any substance or substances to a degree that renders them incapable of consenting or incapable of appreciating, understanding, or controlling the person's conduct.

(C) unable to withhold consent or to withdraw consent because of a physical condition, or

(13) “Consanguinity or relationship by blood (related by blood)” as used in this Chapter, means relationship between persons arising by descent from a common ancestor or a relationship by birth rather than by marriage. The degree of consanguinity is determined by counting upward from one of the persons in question to the nearest common ancestor, and then down to the other person, calling it one degree for each generation in the ascending as well as the descending line.

(14) “Cunnilingus” is the touching of the urethral opening, vaginal opening, or labia with the actor’s mouth.

(b) Whenever in this Chapter the criminality of conduct depends on a child's being below the age of fourteen (14), it is no defense that the defendant reasonably believed the child to be fourteen (14) or older. Whenever in this Chapter the criminality of conduct depends on a child's being below a specified age older than fourteen (14), it is an affirmative defense that the defendant reasonably believed the child to be of that age or above.

ELECTRONIC DISPLAY AND ENTICEMENT

§ 25A101. Legislative Findings and Intent.

I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that there is a critical need to clearly and explicitly define material that is obscene, material that is pornographic for minors and child pornography, as well as to update Guam's laws to protect children from internet predators. The internet is arguably the most important learning tool of the Twenty-first (21st) Century. Unfortunately, the same internet also poses one of the greatest threats to child safety.

It is the intent of I Liheslatura to ensure that our laws are strong enough to adequately protect Guam's children from online predators and child pornography and to severely punish the offenders.

Attorney members of the Commission noted that the constitutionality of curfew laws has been widely challenged across the United States and believe this law would be struck down if were to be challenged in Guam. Some members conceded that this curfew law may be unconstitutional but because of Guam's problems with minors out past curfew they would prefer to leave it until it is challenged and struck down by the courts. This recommendation was opposed by the GPD member and a community member of the Commission.

ARTICLE 6

COMPUTER SPYWARE PROTECTION ACT

§ 46.601. Title.

This Act may be cited as the "Computer Spyware Protection Act."

CLRC COMMENT: No change

§ 46.602. Legislative Findings and Intent.

I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that spyware is a problem that adversely affects nearly every computer connected to the internet. Spyware is a catch-all term for computer programs that can track computer users' movements online. There are hundreds of programs that range from innocuous "ad-ware," which generates pop-up advertisements, to more dangerous programs that can record a user's keystrokes to gather personal information, such as credit card numbers and passwords, without their knowledge, and forward this information to another entity without the consumer's consent. Spyware is a serious problem that can create substantial privacy risks, increase the risk of identity theft, and cause serious degradation to personal and business computers that can cost millions of dollars in lost productivity.

It is the intent of I Liheslatura to protect owners and operators of computers on Guam from the use of spyware and malware that is deceptively or surreptitiously installed on the owner's or the operator's computer.

CHAPTER 48

NOTIFICATION OF BREACHES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

§ 48.10. Legislative Findings and Intent.

I Liheslaturan Guåhan finds that both public and private entities on Guam have a duty to safeguard personal information that, if stolen or publicized, may result in crimes such as fraud and identity theft. The anonymity of the global internet, that transcends the borders of sovereign nations, makes it possible for unscrupulous individuals to profit from the theft of personal information and never be brought to justice for their crimes or made to pay restitution. Therefore, it is incumbent upon all entities that are entrusted with such data to maintain strong security systems to ensure that the personal information will always be protected.

It is the intent of I Liheslatura to ensure that the personal information of the residents of Guam is protected, by providing procedures for notification of security breaches related to personal information and thereby encouraging individuals and commercial entities, as defined by public law, to provide reasonable security for unencrypted personal information.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 48.20. Definitions.

As used in this Chapter:

(a) Breach of the security of a system means the unauthorized access and acquisition of unencrypted and unredacted computerized data that compromises the security or confidentiality of personal information maintained by an individual or entity as part of a database of personal information regarding multiple individuals and that causes, or the individual or entity reasonably believes has caused or will cause, identity theft or other fraud to any resident of Guam.

Good faith acquisition of personal information by an employee or agent of an individual or entity for the purposes of the individual or the entity is not a breach of the security of the system, provided, that the personal information is not used for a purpose other than a lawful purpose of the individual or entity or subject to further unauthorized disclosure.

(b) Entity includes corporations, business trusts, estates, partnerships, limited partnerships, limited liability partnerships, limited liability companies, associations, organizations, joint ventures, governments, governmental subdivisions, agencies, or instrumentalities, or any other legal entity, whether for profit or not-for-profit.

(c) Encrypted means transformation of data through the use of an algorithmic process into a form in which there is a low probability of assigning meaning without the use of a confidential process or key, or securing the information by another method that renders the data elements unreadable or unusable.

(d) Financial institution has the meaning given that term in Section 6809(3) of Title 15, United States Code.

(e) Individual means a natural person.

(f) Personal information means the first name, or first initial, and last name in combination with and linked to any one or more of the following data elements that relate to a resident of Guam, when the data elements are neither encrypted nor redacted:

(1) Social Security number;

(2) Driver's license number or Guam identification card number issued in lieu of a driver's license; or

(3) Financial account number, or credit card or debit card number, in combination with any required security code, access code, or password that would permit access to a resident's financial accounts.

Subsection (d) definition of "public record" in is stricken as the term is not used in this chapter. Subsection (e) term "non-trivial" is stricken as it creates a potential conflict with "statement" as used in § 52.15 (Perjury) and § 52.20 (False Statement Under Oath); other amendents are for consistency with source MPC § 241.0 (Definition of Statement). Subsection (f)(3) definition of "testimony" is erroneously placed and is renumbered as a new subsection.

(b) the authority or jurisdiction of the person administering the oath was defective, if the defect was excusable under any statute or rule of law;

(c) the statement was subject to a proper objection, whether or not such objection was made; or

(d) the defendant mistakenly believed the falsification to be immaterial, where materiality of the statement is an element of the offense.

CLRC COMMENT: No change.

§ 52.30. Unsworn Falsifications; Defined & Punished.

A person is guilty of a misdemeanor if, with intent to mislead a public servant in performing his official function, he makes, submits or uses:

(b) attempts to induce any person who has been or may be properly called as a witness in any official proceeding to give false testimony in, to withhold testimony or information from, or to fail to attend, any such proceeding.

(b) offers, confers upon, or agrees to confer upon, any person who has been or may be properly called as a witness in an official proceeding any benefit as consideration for giving false testimony or information, for withholding testimony or information from, or for failing to attend, any such official proceeding;

CLRC COMMENT: Amendment reduces the offense level to a misdemanor. Felony level in this section is inconsistent with source MPC § 241.7 (Tampering with or Fabricating Physical Evidence), which is a misdemeanor, and is inconsistent with § 52.60 (Destroying Evidence), which is a misdemeanor. The other amendment updates the section to include electronic form of evidence.

§ 52.60. Destroying Evidence; Defined & Punished.

A person is guilty of a misdemeanor if, believing that an official proceeding has been or is about to be instituted, he destroys, conceals or removes any record, document or thing in any form, including written or electronic format, with intent to impair its availability in the proceeding.
