| VI          | OLD BUSINESS       | a) Rules and Regulations – Ongoing A. Taitano-Sablan discussed the status of the rules and regulations, noting that an email assigning tasks had been distributed the previous week. She acknowledged that although a formal meeting still needed to be held, there was interest in proceeding by submitting the existing draft for review, with the understanding that it would remain a working document subject to further revisions. The discussion emphasized that any necessary administrative additions could be addressed during the review process, and it was agreed that the current version, particularly the schedule of fees, was sufficiently complete to move forward. It was further noted that there was no attorney currently assigned due to the departure of the prior representative from the Attorney General's Office, so the materials would be submitted through the standard regulatory process for assistance. In the meantime, the Board agreed to schedule a work session to continue reviewing and refining the document. | GBBC              | 0935                 | Noted, Ongoing                 |

Tiong discussed the need to issue formal correspondence regarding an individual who was providing services that were not in compliance with the license held. It was noted that communication had already occurred with S. Manibusan, and that a substantive letter would be sent to the individual directing her to cease the noncompliant services. Additionally, the Board agreed that a separate letter should be sent to the salon owner to formally notify the establishment that the services being performed at their location were to be discontinued. The discussion further clarified that a meeting with the individual regarding licensing concerns would be arranged as a separate matter, rather than as part of a formal investigation, and that coordination for this meeting would proceed accordingly.  | M. | VII | NEW BUSINESS | a) Contact hours for Nail Tech Care in Barber Stylist Transcripts, Update on Barber Stylist and Cosmetology Exam Core Subjects – Francine Galao F. Galao shared a concern regarding the agenda language for students applying for apprenticeship and examination, noting that the agenda referenced only “barber” rather than “barber/stylist.” It was explained that the application form includes an option for barber/stylist, and clarification was sought to ensure that approved apprenticeships would accurately reflect the barber stylist designation. The discussion emphasized that a barber-only designation would limit practice by prohibiting chemical services, whereas barber/stylist applicants are authorized to perform a broader scope of services. The matter was identified as a possible typographical error on the agenda, and the Board acknowledged the need to ensure that records and approvals correctly reflect the barber/stylist classification. The Board noted that a correction would be documented in the minutes to address typographical errors affecting several applicants under the apprenticeship and examination sections of the agenda. It was clarified that specific items, including multiple applications under both apprenticeship and examination, should be amended to reflect the correct designation of “barber/stylist,” which corresponds to a distinct application and permit type. The Board emphasized that this correction was necessary to ensure applicants receive the proper permit status and are authorized to practice within the appropriate scope, and appreciation was expressed for bringing the matter to the Board’s attention. The Board discussed the integration of barber training into the cosmetology curriculum, which allows graduates to qualify for a barber/stylist license. It was placed on the record that, based on research conducted, several states permit individuals who have completed the required nail coursework within a barber cosmetologist or barber/stylist program to practice nail technology in salons under a barber/stylist license. The discussion concluded with general agreement and acknowledgment that this practice was acceptable under the current curriculum framework. F. Galao inquired about the status of the practical examination requirements for barber stylists, specifically seeking clarification on whether the chemical services portion and the barbering portion of the exam would be conducted separately. The discussion referenced the expectation that chemical services would be tested on one mannequin, while barbering skills such as taper cuts and straight blade techniques would be evaluated on a separate mannequin, and clarification on this examination structure was requested. The Board clarified the practical examination requirements for barber/stylists, explaining that candidates have the option to use one or two mannequins during the examination. It was noted that a minimum hair length of two inches is required for mannequins used for barbering services, whether for barber-only or barber/stylist applicants. While candidates may choose to perform chemical services and subsequently shave the same mannequin, it was strongly recommended that two separate mannequins be brought, as chemical services may make it difficult to adequately prepare the mannequin for barbering tasks such as taper cuts and straight blade shaving. The Board further explained that candidates would have the opportunity to change mannequins during the new client | GBBC | 0945 |  |

|             | setup portion of the examination if a second mannequin is brought, although this is not a mandatory requirement, and the two-inch minimum hair length remains applicable for barbering procedures. F. Galao raised a question regarding potential updates to the cosmetology practical examination, specifically whether the testing site planned to reintroduce the manicure and facial components. The inquiry sought clarification on whether these elements, previously discussed in relation to cosmetology testing, would be added back into the practical exam and how this might relate to barber/stylist examination requirements. The Board clarified that a request had been submitted to potentially reintroduce manicure and facial components into the practical examinations, noting that while implementation had not yet been confirmed, candidates should be prepared in the event these components are included. It was confirmed that if manicure and facial services are added, the requirement would apply across all licensing practical examinations, including cosmetology, barber/stylist, and barber without chemical services. The Board further emphasized that even barber-only practical examinations already include a facial component, underscoring the importance of ensuring all applicants are adequately prepared to perform the full range of applicable services, and appreciation was expressed to F. Galao for raising the clarification. |                   |                      |  |

While the application indicated aesthetic services under cosmetology, the job site inspection listed therapeutic massage as the type of service, and the business license referenced skin care and body treatment, noting that therapeutic massage does not fall under the cosmetology category regulated by the board. Due to confusion regarding the services being offered and the appropriateness of the inspection classification, the board recommended tabling the application and seeking clarification from the applicant and the Department of Environmental Health, including a request to correct or clarify the inspection classification before further consideration. |                   |                      | Tabled                          |

GVB wraps up One Guam Roadshow 2026 in Japan

Pacific Daily News

The Guam Visitors Bureau wrapped up its One Guam Roadshow 2026 in Tokyo, Nagoya and Osaka, officially launching its initiatives for the Japan market this year, GVB said in a media release.

It reaffirms GVB's continued commitment to rebuilding and expanding Guam's position as a preferred destination for Japanese travelers.

GVB said the events increased participation in Tokyo on Jan. 19, Nagoya on Jan. 20, and Osaka on Jan. 21.

"The level of engagement and confidence shown during this roadshow reflects our shared belief in the long-term potential of the Japan market. Together, we are positioning Guam for sustainable growth," GVB General Manager Régine Biscoe Lee said in a statement.

The mission commenced with a signing ceremony at the JTB headquarters in Tokyo, where GVB, JTB, and T.P. Micronesia formalized a memorandum of understanding to further strengthen collaborative efforts in promoting Guam.

GVB said the agreement reinforces long-standing partnerships and outlines joint initiatives aimed at driving sustainable growth and new product development in the Japan market.

"This MOU further elevates Guam's positioning within JTB's outbound strategy, where Guam has been designated as a top priority destination. The strengthened alignment ensures a more focused promotional effort and deeper market penetration at a critical stage of Japan's outbound recovery," GVB said.

Seminars were conducted in all three cities, where GVB presented its marketing and trade initiatives for fiscal year 2026.

Also presented were the GOGO! Guam Hafa Adai campaign featuring the Guam Pay and Guam Bonus programs, along with the new educational group and airline charter support programs.

These latest programs were developed to more aggressively market Guam in Japan. With Japanese outbound travel continuing to gain positive momentum, the roadshow drew strong engagement from travel trade partners.

Residents, Rotary E Club clean up Pago Bay Bridge

Pacific Daily News

Pago Bay residents and members of the Rotary E Club of Pago came together on Jan. 17 to give back to their community through a volunteer cleanup of Pago Bay Bridge and pavilion.

By the end of the cleanup, the group collected 20 bags of trash, removed 15 discarded tires, and cleared additional metal debris that had been improperly disposed of in the area, according to Chalan Pago-Ordod Mayor Wayne S.N. Santos.

Santos and Rotary E Club of Pago president James Ji worked side by side to organize and guide volunteers in beautifying the area for residents and visiting tourists.

"This effort reflects the power of community partnerships and civic responsibility," Santos said in a statement. "When residents and organizations come together, we can make meaningful improvements that benefit both our villages and those who visit our island."

Ji echoed the sentiment, emphasizing the importance of service and environmental stewardship.

"Service above self is at the heart of Rotary, and we are proud to work alongside the people of Pago Bay and the District of Chalan Pago-Ordod to protect and care for our shared spaces," Ji said.

Through the assistance of the Lieutenant Governor's Island Beautification Task Force, which donated gloves and trash bags, volunteers were able to make a significant impact on the site, the mayor's office added.

roof-mounted and retractable backboards and hoops, and a brand-new playing surface engineered for safety, durability, and enhanced performance, according to GHURA.

The court also has regulation-standard court markings suitable for organized play, improved lighting for increased visibility and extended evening use, and accessibility upgrades ensuring inclusive use for residents of all abilities.

Resident Kaspar Kastro, 46, said the new gym is good for the community and a great way for people in the neighborhood to become more active.

Kaspar and other residents said they were grateful to the GHURA and O.H. Construction for completing the project.

"It's been a long time since this building was open and cleaned up. My kids were always asking when they are going to build it," Kastro said. "When we saw GHURA was having ribbon cutting, we came here and wanted to see it."

Esteves also hopes the court encourages more community sports and engagement activities, "providing avenues getting [children] away from substance abuse and other bad influences."

Hundreds of youth

GHURA Executive Director Elizabeth Napoli said Toto Gardens has 118 units housing 562 household members, 325 of whom are youth under 18 years old.

She added that the shared facility will be made available for community activities and events, including mentorship, youth programs, health screenings, and so forth.

Property site manager for Asset Management Property 4 Bernie Tyquiengco, 48, from Yona, told the PDN that organizations have already reached out with interest to reserve the gym, such as the Head Start program, Mane'lu and other community partners, and the Guam Department of Education.

Tyquiengco added that the gym's operating hours are to be determined but will likely follow Guam curfew, closing at 10 p.m. on weekdays and 11 p.m. on weekends.

"If there is a community event, it will be their hours. In the morning, we'll (open) but if the kids are at school, we want it for them and not strangers who are messing up the gym before they're able to utilize it," Tyquiengco said.

Mañe'lu project assistant Mara Cruz, 24, said she has hosted indoor activities for the past year to the dismay of the kids who "love being outdoors."

"It's hard to come up with stuff to do inside that would get them more engaged, but they love being outdoors. Being outside is better than inside. I hope the gym keeps running and we all take care of it," she said.

Cruz added that the gym is closer to home and removes the risk of kids needing to travel somewhere else.

Young boys express their approval as Gov. Lou Leon Guerrero asks them if they're anxious to play at the newly renovated, open-air basketball court at Toto Gardens, during the ribbon-cutting ceremony on Jan. 27, 2026.

"A lot of them have to walk, which is dangerous," Cruz said. "Having this right in the middle of where they live is way safer, and it's easier because they all know each other here [and] it's home for them."
