definitely come back every year.”

Apatang also had an on-going banter with a couple of Patriots fans in her row, trading shouts, team cheers, and “all days” and “let’s gos.”

When the score gap was widened in the second quarter, Apatang’s Patriots counterpart said, “That’s football.”

“It was a good fight, but you can’t compete with the Seahawks. They earned this. They’ve been respected for a long time, and the game shows for itself,” Apatang said.

atang said.

Seahawks fans Christian Garza, 22, from Tumon, was excited to see the Seahawks crowned champions again. He said the anticipation from the slow start to the game made for a great payoff.

“It’s been a while, so it feels great. At first, it was a really slow game. We were waiting for a touchdown to happen, and it eventually did, so it was a great feeling to see them come out on top,” Garza said.

Garza said it was an experience of “great vibes, great time, great drinks” seeing everyone cheering together.

“We were up in the front row, and with the big screen, the energy was great,” Garza said. “The standout moment was when the first touchdown was made for sure. After all that time, you could definitely hear everyone screaming and hollering.”

The event was sponsored by Baldyga Group and Ambrose Inc. Other attendees told the Pacific Daily News that they enjoyed watching on the big screen instead of smaller ones at restaurants with weaker sound systems.

The big game, 29-13

After Seattle chose to receive the ball, it quickly shaped into a defensive game, each team going pass-for-pass-for-run and not letting each other gain too much distance.

However, Seattle’s consecutive running plays allowed them to advance downfield and make use of their kicker, Jason Myers.

The first two downs already set the Seahawks up for early momentum, nearly scoring their first touchdown two minutes into the game, but the Patriots’ defense prevented further advancement.

The Seahawks took the lead, 3-0, with a field goal kick at the Patriots’ 14-yard line.

Seattle kicker Jason Myers would ultimately contribute 17 points to the scoreboard.

The Patriots quickly responded with a touchdown of their own from Seattle’s 35, finally getting on the scoreboard, 19-7.

With only 12 minutes remaining, though, the chances of a comeback were slim.

Seattle added to its lead with 5:38 remaining via another field goal by Myers from 26 yards out.

Then, Seahawks linebacker Uchenna Nwosu intercepted a shotgun pass down the middle and bolted 45 yards to score Seattle’s second and last touchdown of the game.

The Patriots had one final touchdown two minutes before the final whistle.

New England attempted a two-point conversion instead of a field goal, but it was stopped by the Seahawks, ending the game, 29-13.

in Academy's favor.

"I've been working really hard in practice," Terlaje said. "Seeing that pay off in the game felt good."

By the end of the inning, Academy had jumped ahead, 8-2.

She also adjusted well defensively, keeping potential passed balls in front of her.

Cougars keep the pressure on

Academy kept adding runs in the next few innings.

Angelina Guerrero doubled down the left field line in the second, and a defensive error by GW allowed another run to score.

In the third inning, Sadie Guerrero worked a bases-loaded walk to bring in a run, and Terlaje stayed hot with a two-run double, giving her four RBIs on the day.

"We really focused on our offense," Terlaje said. "GW made some big plays, so we had to keep adjusting."

The Cougars finished with 12 hits, drew seven walks, and were aggressive with nine stolen bases.

Aubrey Manibusan, Guerrero, Donna Entera, and Terlaje each had two hits in the win.

Geckos make a comeback

Down late, the Geckos refused to give up. When the gap was big and Academy eased up a little, the Geckos took advantage and scored runs through big hits.

In the sixth inning, the Geckos put together a big rally, scoring five runs on three hits.

Avayah Campos came through with a two-run double, and smart baserunning helped GW cut the lead to 14-11.

GW totaled six hits and eight walks, with Campos leading the team with two RBIs.

Aleia Alcantara, Elm,

and Alizae Campos each chipped in a hit.

Strong finish

After a quick timeout, the Cougars regrouped and settled in defensively, recording the final outs needed to close out the win. Communication became especially important later in the game with runners on base.

"As a catcher, I can really see the game," Terlaje said. "It's on me to keep everyone aware of where the runners are."

Unfortunately, the game ended at the top of the sixth inning because it was getting dark, cutting the matchup slightly short, but not before plenty of action.

Academy's strong start ultimately made the difference, but GW's late rally showed just how competitive the matchup was.

Moving forward, the Cougars will look to clean up a few details, while the Geckos aim to carry their resilience throughout the rest of the season.

With the way both teams competed, each looks hungry and capable of making a strong push toward a title.

young talent develop."

Bennett said this follows the successful completion of the JJJ PONY Middle School Girls Softball League this past November.

Mark J. Sablan, vice president of business development for SPPC, said supporting island youth sports aligns directly with the company's mission. He said they have been a proud title sponsor of the league for eight years.

"Participation in sports builds character and self-confidence, and we hope these student-athletes grow into future role models for Guam's youth," he said.

Looking ahead, Bill Bennett of the Guam Baseball Academy highlighted opportunities beyond the local league.

"This year's middle school players, coaches, and parents will have the chance to participate in the 12U and 14U PONY Asia-Pacific Zone Tournaments in China and Indonesia in June 2026. These tournaments offer an incredible experience—regional competition, premier baseball venues, and at least five games per team, combined with a memorable family baseball vacation," Bennett said.

Guam PONY Baseball, under the leadership of the Guam Amateur Baseball Association, will oversee league operations, providing an elite playing field, official PONY baseballs, certified umpires, and scorekeepers.

All games will follow National Federation of State High School Associations, NFHS, rules.

"Using NFHS rules at the middle school level better prepares players for high school baseball, which is also governed by NFHS standards," said Jacinta Elm, director of Guam PONY Baseball and Soft-
