Traveler's Report (Highlight the information you gathered at the event and how it impacts your role/responsibilities at the Judiciary. Describe how it will be beneficial to achieving the Judiciary's mission of delivering justice fairly and efficiently through transparent, inclusive, and accessible court services.)
This annual conference brings together justices and bar admission staff from all U.S. states and territories. It is a chance to learn about updates to all things related to bar admissions, including but not limited to developments in the format and delivery of the attorney licensing exam, ADA accommodations requirements, character and fitness investigation developments, and other best practices. All these were critical discussion topics at the 2026 ABAC. Of particular significance this year were the changes that will come with the launch of the NextGen UBE Bar Examination, of which Guam will become one of ten jurisdictions to launch this coming July. The breakout sessions and plenary sessions I attended were invaluable to me as the primary administrator of the Guam bar examination, and beginning this July, concurrently as the administrator of the Palau bar exam (Palau wanted to adopt the NextGen exam and, lacking the technological infrastructure required to administer NextGen, entered into an agreement with Guam to have Guam administer the exam for their applicants together with Guam's exam). I attended sessions on how to grade the NextGen using the completely new software and platform, as well as sessions on how to identify cheating in this new technological age with the many seemingly innocuous devices that have been flagged. I attended a session on understanding the psychometrics of the new exam and how it compares to the tradition legacy bar exam that, up until February 2026, Guam administered. I also attended immensely important sessions on civil discourse and other ways to improve the profession. Aside from the specific session topics, an equally important aspect of attending ABAC is the networking opportunities it offers. Creating and growing my relationship with key staff and leadership of the National Conference of Bar Examiners (NCBE) and my colleagues from around the nation -- and in particular, my colleagues from the nine other July 2026-launch jurisdictions -- is so important as it solidifies the mutual support system we have in place. Without fail, I returned enriched and better poised to fulfill my duties as the administrator of this important examination. My attendance undoubtedly contributes to my preparedness to launch NextGen this summer and to help guide our applicants and our Board of Law Examiners on key developments and best practices in Guam bar admissions.

This program was crucial in giving me the resources and options to ensure every party is treated fairly regardless of their history or background. I can better provide for a neutral environment even if a party could not hire an attorney. The training focused on making sure all parties are heard and their issues are decided on from a neutral perspective. The presenters gave specific training on addressing those with mental health issues or other issues that can make the courtroom experience stressful.

The training also focused on what issues can come up when hearings are done virtually which make up a majority of my calendar. The presenters helped trouble shoot what options are available to Judges in order to ensure all parties are given a voice in court even with tech difficulties, language barriers or physical disabilities. While I have always tried to carry out the Court's mission, this course was an excellent refresher to ensure I know what efforts best achieve those goals.

The National Judicial College is always makes sure that I was surrounded by many other judicial officers that encounter the same problems that I face on a daily basis. We all discussed solutions and approaches in different jurisdictions which really provides insight and confidence in my approach to handling the more difficult cases.

Please see attached Conference Registration Schedule, which describes the various sessions at this conference. I attended the following breakout sessions, which were helpful to me as a grader of the Guam Bar Exam and a member of the Commission on Lawyer Regulation, and which were beneficial to achieving the Judiciary's missions of fair and efficient justice, as described below: * A3 (Rigor, Validity, and Real-World Application: Evidence from a Digital Beta Exam) - This session provided data on the results of the recent NexGen UBE Beta Exam administered by the NCBE, as part of testing the new exam's digital systems (exams are administered by computer and not hand written), as well as the reliability of scores in testing the competence of applicants. The NCBE reported that the Beta test was highly successful in achieving the required parameters necessary to confidently launch the exam for the first time this July. The NexGen UBE's new question formats will uphold the legacy bar standards ensuring that bar exam candidates are qualified to practice law in Guam. The modernization of the exam to a new digital administration will achieve efficiencies in administration of the exam going forward. * B1 (AI and Legal Education) – This session reported on the growing use of AI in law schools and the methods professors use to test whether students are actually learning and retaining the legal concepts that are taught. Because AI is readily available to students, professors are moving towards testing in person rather than through take home papers and assignments. Professors are also counseling students to use AI productively to, for example, generate practice questions in preparation for exams. This session presents a preview of the challenges the judiciary will increasingly face with new lawyers' reliance on AI, and its effects (good and bad) on the administration of justice. This is a subject in which the Supreme Court may want to consider providing additional guidance to new (and seasoned) lawyers, through CLEs. * C1 (Modern Boundaries and the Unauthorized Practice of Law) – This session focused on the mobility of lawyers in today's society, the increasing availability of AI-based legal tools, and the difficulty in detecting and policing the resulting unauthorized practice of law. The counterpoint is the need to provide access to legal services in underserved jurisdictions. This session highlights the importance of providing advice to legal practitioners as to the parameters of providing competent representation within ethical boundaries, all of which promote the protection of the public. This is another topic the Supreme Court may want to consider providing additional guidance to new (and seasoned) lawyers, through CLEs. * D3 (Grading Short-Answer Questions on the NextGen UBE) - This session provided an explanation of the short-answer component of the NexGen UBE. Attendees were asked to perform an interactive grading assignment wherein the goal was to achieve consistent scores among graders. This session was important to give graders a first-hand preview of the format of the new exam and the expectation of consistency among graders, which will ensure fairness to examinees of the Guam Bar. * E3 (How Rule Changes Reshape Accreditation and Bar Admissions) – This session provided information on accreditation standards for U.S. law schools and maintaining those standards for schools offering on-line degrees. This session delivered helpful information in identifying the challenges with and importance of accreditation of law schools, which are relevant to the Supreme Court's future rule-making with respect to licensure in Guam (and corresponding protection of the public), and specifically educational requirements for licensure. Thank you for the opportunity to attend this Conference.

Traveler's Report (Highlight the information you gathered at the event and how it impacts your role/responsibilities at the Judiciary. Describe how it will be beneficial to achieving the Judiciary's mission of delivering justice fairly and efficiently through transparent, inclusive, and accessible court services.)
The first-ever NJC Summit focused on judicial independence and AI. Speakers emphasized historical foundations and noted that current pressures—such as public criticism, political polarization, and weakening civic trust—mirror concerns present at the nation's founding. A primary takeaway was the necessity for continued vigilance to protect the judiciary from influences that could compromise impartiality or undermine jury service. There were sessions on judicial leadership which highlighted the distinction between the “Achieving Brain” and the “Awakened Brain.” The key takeaway was that judges benefit from reflective practices—pausing, inventorying, and reflecting—to counter fatigue, burnout, and the growing complexity of modern cases (including those involving AI). Embracing an “awakened” mindset fosters resilience, reduces detachment, and supports more thoughtful decision-making aligned with purpose rather than pressure. The AI track was eye-opening. A substantial portion of the Summit focused on AI's implications for legal proceedings and heightened scrutiny. Judges must assess validity, reliability, potential manipulation, and whether an AI output constitutes direct evidence. Deepfakes presented at trial pose material risks to credibility assessments and fact-finding, requiring careful authentication methods such as forensic review, metadata analysis, and expert testimony. Traditional evidentiary standards remain essential, although there are evidentiary rule proposals to deal with AI evidence. The Summit encouraged judges to familiarize themselves with AI technologies not only as sources of evidence but also as tools for understanding. The C.O.R.E. framework (Content, Output, Rules, Example) was presented as a practical method for interacting with AI systems. Tools like Prof.ai, NotebookLM, and agentic AI models (e.g., Moltbook) highlight the need for judicial literacy in evaluating technological processes. There were discussions regarding the separation of powers. The constitutional law segment traced how presidential power has grown over time, particularly during wartime, while congressional authority has waned. This trend reinforces the judiciary's critical role in maintaining checks and balances. The takeaway was a reminder that judges must remain attentive to constitutional boundaries to prevent the concentration of power within any branch. Finally, the Summit concluded by acknowledging that the justice system unintentionally marginalizes neurodivergent individuals. I learned that courts should dismantle assumptions that people are “broken” or need “fixing” and instead adopt approaches that accommodate and respect neurodiverse experiences to promote fair treatment for all. I previously advocated for autism training at the Judiciary, which was successfully implemented. This was a good reminder to continue to educate court personnel on this population. In conclusion, all of the topics were helpful as I continue to reflect on my role as a judge and member of the third branch, and how my rulings help accomplish checks and balances. I will be implementing and sharing many of the AI tools I acquired at the Summit.

The 2026 NCBE Annual Bar Admissions Conference at the Philadelphia Marriott Downtown was packed with informative sessions conducted by leading experts in the various aspects of bar exam administration and development. This was my first time attending an NCBE annual conference and I was very impressed at the level of expertise of the presenters. In the first plenary session of the conference, Mark Alexander, the Dean of Villanova law school provided an insightful and relatable presentation on the topic of the Role of Lawyers in Leading Civil Discourse. I came away from this session inspired to make a concerted effort to promote civility within the legal community on Guam and to encourage young attorneys in my firm to interact with other lawyers in person more often and to focus on the personal connection that leads to productive discussions and fair and mutually beneficial outcomes as well as improved mental health within our profession. I also benefitted greatly from the breakout sessions that dealt directly with the NextGen bar exam. Presenters from the NCBE team of experts took attendees through the concept of the NextGen exam, the exam features and structure aimed at reducing the stress level of the examinees by eliminating the uncertainty that often comes into play when the current exam is administered. The lessons learned by the team through conducting Beta testing of the exam were explained and real world examples given to show attendees (future NextGen exam graders) how the NextGen exam levels the playing field with a testing methodology that tests legal aptitude rather than memorized information. I also found the sessions that involved sample tests to be very helpful. This background on the NextGen exam will help me greatly by giving me a big picture perspective on the exam as I start my training as a NextGen grader this coming June. The annual conference also gave me an opportunity to interact with and get to know judges and attorneys from multiple jurisdictions. I met a Justice from the Illinois Supreme Court and an estate planning attorney from Nashville during one of the early morning runs before the conference sessions began. These were the first lawyers and judges from those jurisdictions that I had ever encountered thus far in my 30 year career. This was such a great opportunity to connect with colleagues with very different backgrounds and experiences and to share with them my own experiences in a small island jurisdiction. The perspective I gain from these interactions always makes me more well rounded and more effective in working with my colleagues from diverse backgrounds. This is essential for promoting and delivering a fair judicial system.

On May 6, 2026, the Guam Mock Trial Team from Father Dueñas Memorial School (FDMS), along with Courtroom Journalist Nick Duhaylungsod, also from FDMS, and I participated in a courtesy visit and tour at the Supreme Court of Iowa. We were graciously welcomed by Chief Justice Susan Christensen and two of her staff attorneys. Later that day, the team completed registration and held a practice session in preparation for the National High School Mock Trial Championship. On May 7, 2026, Courtroom Artist Jasmine Russe and her coach, Ms. Monica Parke from Guam High School, joined the Guam team for scheduled activities, team photos, and other main championship events. That evening, the full Guam delegation, including students, coaches, and myself, attended the Pin Exchange event at Drake University's stadium. The students enjoyed trading pins and trinkets with teams from 43 other participating states. The Guam Visitors Bureau generously provided Guam logo insignia pins and Guam seal pins, and Father Dueñas Memorial School also had special mock trial pins made for the students to exchange. A fun highlight of the event was that the Guam pin was one of the most coveted pins at the Pin Exchange. Many students were eager to collect one, and those who received a Guam pin were not quick to trade it away. May 8 and 9 were tournament days, with two rounds held each day. Guam began the competition with a strong and spirited round against Tennessee. Notably, the Tennessee team had defeated last year's overall champion team to advance to Nationals this year. Guam also performed well against Delaware in Round 2 and went on to compete in Rounds 3 and 4 against Kansas and Hawaii, respectively. On the evening of May 8, the Guam delegation attended the Friday Fair in downtown Des Moines. The event was a smaller version of a state fair, featuring games, activities, and fair-style food for the students and coaches to enjoy. The gala awards ceremony was held at approximately 6:00 p.m. on May 9 at the Marriott Downtown Des Moines. Overall, the Guam team won one ballot and placed 39th out of 44 competing teams. The students, coaches, and supporting participants proudly represented Guam and the Judiciary of Guam at the National High School Mock Trial Championship.

A judge must evaluate legal argumentation in its many forms because it lies at the heart of the judging craft. The validity of arguments in briefs, memoranda, and oral presentations often depend upon the logical components. Even a rudimentary understanding of logic will enable a judge to perform more effectively and save time in legal analysis. Further, judges must frequently write opinions. This course assists judges in analyzing and solving troublesome difficulties that we may encounter in preparing and writing an opinion. Thus, during the course I learned to: - Define basic terms and concepts in the formal study of logic; - Describe the premises of inductive and deductive reasoning, especially categorical syllogisms; - Explain my conclusions and decision more cogently and precisely; - Explain the anatomy of an opinion with the use of orientation paragraphs, issue statements, findings of fact and conclusions of law or disposition; - Describe what is involved in the writing process; - State the emphasis to be given to style such as sentence structure, wordiness, and revision; and - Use writing practices that improve written opinions.

Traveler's Report (Highlight the information you gathered at the event and how it impacts your role/responsibilities at the Judiciary. Describe how it will be beneficial to achieving the Judiciary's mission of delivering justice fairly and efficiently through transparent, inclusive, and accessible court services.)
I attended the 2026 Midyear Conference of the American Judges Association (AJA), held at the William S. Boyd School of Law in Las Vegas, Nevada. The conference provided comprehensive programming directly relevant to judicial responsibilities and court administration, with sessions addressing sentencing practices, trial management, discovery, judicial ethics, access to justice, judicial writing, and the integration of artificial intelligence in the courts. A key takeaway from the conference was the evolving role of technology, particularly artificial intelligence, in judicial processes. Presentations emphasized the importance of balancing innovation with ethical safeguards, reinforcing my responsibility to ensure that any adoption of such tools within the Judiciary of Guam aligns with principles of fairness, accountability, and transparency. Sessions on sentencing and trial management offered practical strategies to enhance efficiency while maintaining consistency and equity in judicial decision-making. Discussions on access to justice and judicial writing highlighted the need for clarity, inclusivity, and public accessibility in court processes and decisions. These insights directly support my role in promoting clearer communication and more user-centered court services. Engagements with judges and law students also provided valuable perspectives on mentorship, professional development, and judicial wellness, all of which contribute to a more resilient and effective judiciary. Overall, the knowledge and connections gained from this conference will strengthen my ability to support the Judiciary of Guam's mission of delivering justice fairly and efficiently through transparent, inclusive, and accessible court services. The insights gathered will inform ongoing efforts to improve court operations, enhance ethical decision-making, and responsibly integrate emerging technologies into judicial practice. Attached are my boarding passes and other supporting documents.

Traveler's Report (Highlight the information you gathered at the event and how it impacts your role/responsibilities at the Judiciary. Describe how it will be beneficial to achieving the Judiciary's mission of delivering justice fairly and efficiently through transparent, inclusive, and accessible court services.)
The National Conference of Bar Examiners (NCBE) Annual Bar Admissions Conference (ABAC), held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania from April 30–May 2, 2026, provided valuable and timely information directly relevant to my responsibilities with the Judiciary of Guam and Guam's Board of Law Examiners. The conference brought together bar admission authorities, exam administrators, graders, and judicial officers from jurisdictions across the country to discuss emerging issues, best practices, and national trends in bar admissions and attorney licensure. A primary focus of this year's conference was the nationwide transition to the NextGen Uniform Bar Examination (NextGen UBE), which Guam will be among the first jurisdictions to administer in July 2026. Conference sessions addressed the significant operational, technological, security, and procedural changes associated with the new examination format. These discussions provided critical guidance regarding testing platform requirements, exam administration protocols, grading considerations, applicant accommodations, and cybersecurity measures necessary to ensure a secure and effective testing process. The conference also included sessions on character and fitness investigations, bar performance measures, and justice-only discussions addressing broader issues affecting attorney licensure and public trust in the legal profession. Engagement with NCBE staff and counterparts from other jurisdictions allowed for meaningful exchanges on implementation strategies, problem-solving approaches, and lessons learned during early preparations for NextGen adoption. The information gathered at the conference directly supports my role in helping ensure Guam's successful implementation of the NextGen UBE and maintaining the integrity, fairness, and efficiency of the attorney admissions process. The knowledge gained will assist the Judiciary in preparing for operational changes, strengthening exam security and accessibility, and improving administrative procedures for applicants and graders alike. Participation in this conference advances the Judiciary of Guam's mission of delivering justice fairly and efficiently through transparent, inclusive, and accessible court services by supporting a fair and modern attorney licensure process that promotes public confidence in the legal system. I have attached my boarding passes and supporting documents.
